WATSON WYATT & COMPANY HOLDINGS REPORTS RESULTS FOR THIRD QUARTER OF FISCAL YEAR 2005

WASHINGTON DC, May 5, 2005 Watson Wyatt & Company Holdings (NYSE: WW), a leading international human capital consulting firm, today announced financial results for the third quarter of fiscal year 2005, which ended on March 31, 2005.

Revenues were $187.6 million for the quarter, as compared to $180.7 million in the prior-year third quarter. Revenues for the quarter increased 4% largely due to new clients in the retirement and health care practices, double-digit growth in the human capital consulting group and higher reimbursable expenses. Third-quarter income from continuing operations was $14.3 million, or $0.44 per diluted share, as compared to $14.0 million or $0.42 per diluted share in the third quarter of last year. Income from continuing operations of $14.3 million included a $2.2 million settlement related to a closed German joint venture and a $1.3 million loss in affiliate income related to the company's captive insurance company, PCIC. These two expenses were partially offset by a $1.4 million gain on a currency forward contract.

The marketplace is responding favorably to our messages around health care cost control, new compensation strategies and selective outsourcing, resulting in continued revenue growth, said John Haley, president and chief executive officer. We are also looking forward to finalizing our business combination with Watson Wyatt LLP, which will further strengthen our global position.

As of March 31, 2005, the company had cash and cash equivalents of $126.5 million. During the quarter the company contributed $10 million to its U.S. qualified pension plan and made a $2.4 million dividend payment.

Quarterly Segment Highlights

Benefits Group revenues (representing 61% of total third-quarter revenues) were $114.5 million, up 4% from $110.0 million in the prior-year third quarter. The increase was largely due to strong growth in health care, as well as new client work in the retirement practice.

Technology Solutions Group revenues (representing 9% of total third-quarter revenues) were

- MORE -

$17.0 million, versus prior-year third-quarter revenues of $20.3 million, which is consistent with expectations. However, this decrease includes time spent customizing administration systems. Related revenues will be recognized as these systems go into service. Fourth-quarter revenue growth is still expected, and the pipeline remains strong.

Human Capital Group revenues (representing 8% of total third-quarter revenues) totaled $14.6 million in the third quarter, up 26% over the prior-year third quarter. The revenue increase continues to be driven by strong demand for executive compensation work and by project work related to strategic rewards.

Outlook for Fiscal Year 2005

For the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2005, the company expects revenue to grow 4% to 6%, largely due to continued growth in new client revenues for retirement, additional project work for the health care practice and the continuing growth trend in the human capital consulting business. Technology Solutions Group revenues are also expected to grow in the fourth quarter on year-over-year comparison, reflecting the group's new business model for the first time in both periods. The company changed its business model in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2004, whereby no revenue is recognized related to the customization of administration systems. The company expects fully diluted earnings per share to be in the range of $0.43 to $0.45 for the fourth quarter of fiscal year 2005.

For fiscal year 2005, the company is expecting revenue growth overall of 3% to 5% and fully diluted earnings per share from continuing operations in the range of $1.63 to $1.65.

Conference Call

John Haley

Thank you, Lisa.

Good morning and thank you for joining us today. As you saw in this morning's press release, revenues for the quarter were $187.6 million, up 4% over the prior-year third-quarter. This revenue growth enabled us to deliver net income from continuing operations of $14.3 million or $0.44 per share up from $0.42 in the prior-year third quarter.

Revenue growth was largely due to modest growth in retirement, coupled with strong growth in the human capital and health care practices. This growth was partially offset by a decline in the Technology Solutions group revenues. However, we are quite pleased with the level of activity for this group and we expect to see real growth in the fourth quarter.

Since the beginning of this fiscal year, all of our associates have been focused on growing revenues in our target market and this effort is paying off. Moreover, the marketplace is responding very well to our marketing messages and service offerings addressing benefits cost control, strategic human capital management and selective outsourcing. We are entering the final quarter of our fiscal year with a strong market position, which we believe will be even stronger after we complete our acquisition of Watson Wyatt LLP.

Now I will review the results for each of our operating segments and then I will give you an update on the transaction before I turn things over to Carl.

Benefits

First, let's review the Benefits Group. Results for the quarter were $114.5 million, up 4% over prior-year third-quarter revenues. Revenue for the retirement practice was $91.2 million, up 1%, largely related to new clients. Our new client wins this quarter include projects for Visant Corporation and Illinois Tool Works.

As you know, we do not expect significant growth to resume for our retirement business until there is more clarity around pension funding and hybrid pension plans. The Bush administration has refined its proposals with regard to pension reform and we continue to believe that the proposals may be effective at shoring up the financial strength of the Pension Benefit Guarantee Corporation or PBGC, but may result in funding volatility and potentially more sponsors exiting the system. There has been vigorous discussion around the entire pension funding reform package, including hybrid plans, and we would expect specific federal legislative proposals in the next few months, with a potential vote on this issue by the end of the calendar year.

With regard to our health care consulting practice, we saw strong growth with revenues of $15.5 million, up 19% from the prior-year third quarter. This quarter we continued to win work from new clients who embraced our innovative consulting ideas and cutting-edge tools. New client wins this quarter include Cooper Industries, Graybar Electric and Brown Shoe.

We believe the pressure to control health care costs will continue. According to the most recent results of the survey that we conduct jointly each year with the National Business Group on Health, costs continued to increase at double-digit rates last year. The survey found the companies that have been most successful at cost containment are those taking a more active role in managing the health of their employees. We also found that Healthcare Savings Accounts are gaining momentum. Our consulting tools and services are very much aligned with these trends, which is demonstrated by our robust growth this quarter.

TSP

Edgar Filing: WATSON WYATT & CO HOLDINGS - Form 425

Now moving on to our Technology Solutions Group. Revenues for the quarter were $17.0 million, down 16% from the prior year, but consistent with expectations. As we have discussed in past quarters, a portion of this decline is attributable to the change in our business model which occurred in the fourth quarter of 2004. Since that change, we do not recognize implementation revenues until our technology products go into service. However, we continue to expect growth in the fourth quarter.

We think our Technology Solutions Group will be one of our success stories for FY05. As you will remember, in April 2003 we first launched our new technology platforms for health and welfare enrollment and pension administration – BenefitConnect and PensionPath. At the time, we explained that we believed there was a clear market need for our solutions, which combine a hosted Internet application with employee self-service. All of the latest industry research, as well as our own research, confirms that there is a strong market for this type of selective outsourcing. Many companies simply prefer a mix-and-match approach to outsourcing.

More importantly, our clients confirm this as well: For the quarter alone, we won six new BenefitConnect clients and six new PensionPath clients. An example of our new client wins this quarter is a BenefitConnect implementation for ExpressJet. Our pipeline confirms that we will begin growing in real terms next quarter and we are excited about our long-term prospects.

HCG

Next let's turn to the Human Capital Group. Revenues for the quarter were $14.6 million, up 26% from prior-year third-quarter revenues. Revenues continue to be strong as we assist companies in dealing with issues around executive compensation, sales compensation and stock program changes under FAS 123. Black & Decker, Frito-Lay and Oxford University Press are examples of new client wins this quarter. We also continue to benefit from some of the government work that I discussed last quarter, which we are performing as a subcontractor to Northrop Grumman for the Department of Homeland Security.

International

Now the International segment. Our International group had revenues of $22.2 million, essentially flat as compared to the prior-year third quarter. Results were positive in most countries, but these results were offset by a decline of $1.6 million in Australia, due to the fact that we moved our pension administration work into a joint venture. While revenues are expected to decline, margins should generally remain the same under this arrangement. Margins in Asia Pacific have declined this quarter and will likely be lower in the fourth quarter, largely due exchange rates and some modest cost increases.

Other

Now before turning things over to Carl, let me give you an update on our business combination with Watson Wyatt LLP. As you know, a few weeks ago we signed a definitive agreement to acquire the remaining 80% of the assets we do not already own. We also just filed our preliminary S-4 registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The deal structure has not changed from what was originally discussed back in January. We will be paying approximately $168.4 million in cash and issuing 11 million shares, of which 1.95 million will be contingent. Of the non-contingent shares, approximately 4.3 million, or almost half, will be tradable at or shortly after the closing. The remainder will be tradable in roughly equal installments on the first, second and third anniversaries of the closing. The contingent shares will be paid after the second anniversary of the closing if certain financial performance standards are met and will be tradable on the fourth anniversary of the closing.

Edgar Filing: WATSON WYATT & CO HOLDINGS - Form 425

We have already been working very hard to prepare for the combination of the two companies and have established a number of teams to focus on integration and strategy. Our next steps to finalize the transaction include completion of the SEC registration process, and obtaining approval from both Watson Wyatt's stockholders and Watson Wyatt LLP's voting members. We will target a closing date as soon as possible after completion of our SEC review. Now I'll turn things over to Carl.

Carl Mautz

Thanks John and good morning. First I will review the results for the quarter and our guidance for the rest of the fiscal year and then a look at the financials of our proposed transaction with Watson Wyatt LLP.

Revenues for the third quarter were $187.6 million, up 4% from prior-year third-quarter revenues of $180.7 million. Growth was due to new retirement and health care clients, as well as modest growth from existing clients. Additionally, our human capital group grew at 26% for the quarter largely due to continued demand for compensation consulting. Finally, reimbursable expenses were higher than the prior-year third quarter.

These increases were partially offset by a decline in revenues for our Technology Solutions Group. Let me remind you again about the change we made in our business model and the impact on our financials. In the fourth quarter of 2004 we began offering our clients the option to provide implementation and hosting of our products over multi-year contracts. Therefore, consulting time spent on the implementation of our offerings is recognized once the ongoing service begins. We also capitalize the salary expense related to implementation and amortize that expense over the life of the contract beginning after implementation. Since this change occurred in the fourth quarter of 2004, next quarter will be the first quarter in which we will be using comparable accounting methods, and we expect revenue growth in the fourth quarter.

Salaries and benefits were $101.7 million, up $1.5 million over the prior-year third quarter. The variance was largely due to an increase of $1.7 million in bonus expense, an increase of $2.0 million in base salaries, and an increase of $1.5 million in the 401K match. These increases were offset by a decrease of $1.7 million in pension expense and a $2.1 million decrease in salaries related to the capitalization of expense for our Technology Solutions Group projects.

Professional and subcontracted services of $13.8 million were up almost $2.2 million. This increase was largely related to higher reimbursable expenses.

Occupancy, communications and other expenses were down approximately $1.3 million, partially due to decreased rent expense.

General and administrative expenses were $18.8 million for the quarter, up $3.5 million over the prior-year third quarter. The increase was due to increased insurance expense of $1.6 million and increased fees of $1.9 million related to legal expenses and compliance with Sarbanes-Oxley.

Income from affiliates was $889 thousand, down $1.4 million from the prior-year third quarter. The decrease relates to a loss for the quarter of $1.3 million related to our captive insurance company, PCIC as compared to a gain of $500 thousand last quarter.

Other non-operating expense largely relates to two unusual items. First, we have reached a legal settlement for $2.2 million related to a defunct joint venture in Germany. And, second, in relation to our transaction with Watson Wyatt LLP, we entered into a foreign currency contract, which resulted in a $1.4 million gain.

You will also notice that the tax rate for the quarter was down significantly. The tax rate will vary from quarter to quarter due to changes that occur each quarter such as changes in the mix of income by country, tax law or other items. As you may know, we are required to perform a quarterly estimate of full-year net income by country as well as a full evaluation of permanent differences that could move the tax rate. Our rate for the year-to-date period declined to just over 39%. We are still estimating approximately 40.5% for the full year.

There is one other item I would like to mention before moving on to the balance sheet. You will note in our segment information that our segment margins for the quarter declined. Our segment margins include allocations for general and administrative expenses, and any differences are reported in a reconciliation within our 10-Q quarterly filings. Due to the fact that expenses were running higher than expected, segments did not reflect $5.5 million in general and administrative expenses on a year-to-date basis. In order to more properly represent the margins for each segment, we did a catch-up allocation totaling approximately $5.5 million to the segments, all in this quarter. This adjustment has no effect on the consolidated business; however, this quarter's segment margins will look lower. Overhead is fully allocated on a year-to-date basis.

Balance sheet

Regarding the balance sheet, you will see that we ended the quarter with a cash balance of $126.5 million after making a $10 million pension contribution and paying quarterly dividends of $2.4 million.

Collections on receivables were slower than usual, due to implementation of billing controls under Sarbanes-Oxley. We are working to improve that trend and are already seeing improvements and expect to be closer to normal levels by year-end. Capital expenditures were $8.1 million in the quarter and we expect to spend $24 to $26 million for the year.

Outlook

Now I'll discuss our outlook for the fourth quarter of fiscal 2005. Total revenues are expected to grow 4 to 6%, resulting in a full year growth rate of 3 to 5%, up just slightly from our estimate last quarter. Benefits growth is expected to be 3 to 5% for the quarter, resulting in 2 to 4% growth for the year. This growth will be based on new client wins and modest increases in work for existing clients.

Our Technology Solutions Group is expected to experience real growth in the fourth quarter of 10 to 12% based on the current backlog. This would result in a full-year net decline of 10 to 12%. The Human Capital Group is expected to grow at the same rate as this quarter—25% to 27% as demand for executive compensation and government consulting continues. This would result in total growth of 23 to 25% for the year for this practice. Finally, the International segment is expected to be flat in the fourth quarter, largely due to the change in Australia that we discussed earlier. Total international growth for the year is expected to be approximately 5 to 7%.

We expect operating expenses in the fourth quarter to remain at third quarter levels, but we do expect our tax rate to increase again, resulting in a fourth quarter earnings-per-share estimate of $0.43 to $0.45. Full-year earnings-per-share guidance remains the same at $1.63 to $1.65.

Transaction Update

Edgar Filing: WATSON WYATT & CO HOLDINGS - Form 425

Now, let's look at some details behind our proposed acquisition of Watson Wyatt LLP. As you probably have seen in our S-4 filing, there will be a number of adjustments to make in order to understand the combined financials of the two companies going forward. I would caution that we are still making estimates, and we expect to give clearer guidance in August. However we would like to give you some guidance based on what we know at this time.

With regard to capital structure, we will likely borrow approximately $90 million and fund the remaining amount from our existing cash balance. We expect to increase our credit facility to $200 million to accommodate the business.

Regarding our income statement, combined revenues without growth would be approximately $1.1 billion. While the company has not completed its budget cycle, Watson Wyatt LLP is initially forecasting revenue growth of 5% to 7% for FY06, which would be in the range of £265 to £270 million. Pre-tax margins after bonus, adjustments for compensation and U.S. GAAP are expected to be in the 9% to 10% range.

For the combined company, there will be some adjustments including an estimated $9 million in amortization of intangibles, elimination of our affiliate income of approximately $5 million a year, additional interest expense of $3 million per year related to our borrowings and finally, elimination of approximately $1.8 million a year in interest income since we will no longer have a significant cash balance. The tax rate for the European business should be in the 32% to 34% range.

We continue to expect that the transaction will be modestly accretive going forward. We plan to give you more detailed guidance in August as we finalize all the details of the transaction.

Now, I'll turn things back over to John.

John Haley

Thanks, Carl. Reflecting upon our results for the quarter, we feel we are very well positioned in all of our service lines, and we look forward to strengthening our global position with the acquisition. During this quarter, it has been gratifying to see the market receptivity to our solutions and the revenue growth that comes with it. We expect to finish the year with solid performance and continue this growth trend into fiscal 2006.

Now, I'll take any questions you may have.

AFTER QUESTIONS

Thanks again for joining us. We look forward to updating you in August for our results for the fourth quarter of fiscal 2005.
