Notice of Revision to Forecast of Year-end Dividend

relating to the Fiscal Year Ending March 31, 2007

This is to advise you that Kyocera Corporation resolved at the meeting of its Board of Directors held on February 22, 2007 to revise its previous forecast of the year-end dividend per share for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2007.

1. The Reason for the Revision (Increase) of the Expected Amount of Dividends

As announced on January 30, 2007, consolidated sales and profit for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2007 ( this fiscal year ) are expected to increase substantially as compared with the fiscal year ended March 31, 2006 (the previous fiscal year ) due to favorable performance of the components business and equipment business. Consolidated sales are forecast to be 1,270 billion yen, an 8.2% increase compared with the previous fiscal year and net income is forecast to be 96 billion yen, a 37.7% increase compared with the previous fiscal year. As a result, diluted earnings per share are forecast to be 509.51 yen per share.

Kyocera Corporation's dividend policy is to determine dividend amounts from a comprehensive point of view, aiming for a dividend payout ratio of 20-25% on a consolidated basis and taking into consideration the investment amount required for mid-to-long term corporate growth.

Based on the expectation of favorable consolidated performance for this fiscal year and the dividend policy set forth above, and to reward the continuous support of shareholders, Kyocera Corporation will increase the amount of the year-end dividend per share for this fiscal period by 10 yen from 50 yen per share to 60 yen per share. Kyocera Corporation will make its best efforts to continuously improve its consolidated sales and its profit ratio in order to increase corporate value and distribute additional rewards to its shareholders by taking further advantage of group synergies, enhancing its cultivation of new businesses and markets, and boosting strategic businesses.

The year-end dividends mentioned above will be proposed at the Ordinary General Shareholders Meeting of Kyocera Corporation to be held in late June 2007.
