DOLBY LABORATORIES, INC.

Class A Common Stock

From time to time, the Ray Dolby Trust under the Dolby Family Trust instrument, dated May 7, 1999, which we refer to as the selling stockholder and which is an affiliate of Ray Dolby, our founder, chairman of our board of directors and, together with his affiliates, our largest stockholder, may offer and sell an aggregate of up to 8,000,000 shares of our Class A common stock in amounts, at prices and on terms described in one or more supplements to this prospectus. We will not receive any of the proceeds from the sale of the shares being sold by the selling stockholder.

This prospectus describes some of the general terms that may apply to an offering of our Class A common stock by the selling stockholder. The specific terms and any other information relating to a specific offering will be set forth in a supplement to this prospectus.

The selling stockholder may offer and sell shares of our Class A common stock to or through one or more underwriters, dealers and agents, or directly to purchasers, on a continuous or delayed basis. A supplement to this prospectus will provide the specific terms of the plan of distribution with respect to any such offering of our Class A common stock.

We have two classes of authorized common stock, Class A common stock and Class B common stock. The rights of the holders of Class A common stock and Class B common stock are identical, except with respect to voting and conversion. Each share of Class A common stock is entitled to one vote per share and is not convertible into any other shares of our capital stock. Each share of Class B common stock is entitled to ten votes per share and is convertible at any time at the option of the holder into one share of Class A common stock.

Our Class A common stock is listed on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol DLB. The last reported sale price of our Class A common stock on the New York Stock Exchange on May 14, 2007 was $34.69 per share.

Investing in our Class A common stock involves risks. See Risk Factors beginning on page 4 of this prospectus.

Neither the Securities and Exchange Commission nor any other state securities commission has approved or disapproved of these securities or passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this prospectus. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

ABOUT THIS PROSPECTUS

This prospectus is part of an automatic shelf registration statement that we have filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, or SEC, as a well-known seasoned issuer, as defined in Rule 405 under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Securities Act, utilizing a shelf registration process. Under this shelf registration process, the selling stockholder may sell the Class A common stock offered hereby from time to time in one or more offerings. Each time that the selling stockholder sells Class A common stock offered hereby, we will provide a prospectus supplement, and may provide one or more free writing prospectuses, that will contain specific information about the terms of that offering. That prospectus supplement and any such free writing prospectuses may add, update or change information contained in this prospectus. You should read this prospectus, such prospectus supplement and any such free writing prospectuses, together with the information incorporated by reference in this prospectus. See Information Incorporated by Reference and Where You Can Find Additional Information.

Unless the context otherwise requires, all references in this prospectus to Dolby Laboratories, Dolby, the company, we, us, the registrant, the issuer, our or similar words refer to Dolby Laboratories, Inc. and its subsidiaries, and all references to our stock and our capital stock and similar references refer to both our Class A common stock and Class B common stock.

THE COMPANY

Dolby Laboratories develops and delivers innovative products and technologies that make the entertainment experience more realistic and immersive. Since Ray Dolby founded Dolby Laboratories in 1965, we have been at the forefront of delivering sound technologies that are employed throughout the entertainment creation, distribution and playback process to enhance the entertainment experience. Today, Dolby technologies are standard in a wide range of entertainment platforms. Dolby products are used in movie theatres around the world. Our technologies are incorporated in virtually all DVD players and personal computer DVD playback software, increasingly in digital televisions and portable electronic devices and also in a wide array of consumer electronic products such as gaming systems and audio/video receivers.

We were founded in London, England in 1965 and incorporated as a New York corporation in 1967. We reincorporated in California in 1976 and reincorporated again in Delaware in September 2004. Our principal executive offices are located at 100 Potrero Avenue, San Francisco, California 94103, and our telephone number is (415) 558-0200. Our web site address is www.dolby.com. The information on our web site is not part of, and is not incorporated by reference in, this prospectus or any related prospectus supplement or free writing prospectus and should not be relied upon in determining whether to make an investment in our Class A common stock.

RISK FACTORS

*Please carefully consider the following risk factors and the risks discussed under the caption Risk Factors in Part II, Item 1A of our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for our fiscal quarter ended March 30, 2007, as well as the other risks described in the documents incorporated by reference in this prospectus. If any of the risks described below or in the documents incorporated by reference in this prospectus actually occur, our business, operating results and financial condition and the market price of our Class A common stock could be materially adversely affected. The risks and uncertainties described below and in the documents incorporated by reference in this prospectus are not the only ones we face. Additional risks and uncertainties not currently known to us or that we currently deem less significant may also impair our business operations and financial condition.*

For the foreseeable future, Ray Dolby or his affiliates will be able to control the selection of all members of our board of directors, as well as virtually every other matter that requires stockholder approval, which will severely limit the ability of other stockholders to influence corporate matters.

At March 30, 2007, Ray Dolby and his affiliates owned 100 shares of our Class A common stock and 68,000,000 shares of our Class B common stock. As of March 30, 2007, Ray Dolby and his affiliates, including his family members, had voting power over approximately 98% of our outstanding Class B common stock, which in the aggregate represented approximately 93% of the combined voting power of our outstanding Class A and Class B common stock. Assuming that the selling stockholder, which is an affiliate of Ray Dolby, sells all of the shares of Class A common stock offered hereby, which shares will be issued upon the automatic conversion at the time of such sale of a like number of outstanding shares of Class B common stock held by the selling stockholder, then, after giving effect to such sale and based upon shares outstanding as of March 30, 2007, Ray Dolby and his affiliates would have owned 100 shares of our Class A common stock and 60,000,000 shares of our Class B common stock, representing approximately 98% of our outstanding Class B common stock, which in the aggregate would have given Ray Dolby and his affiliates, including his family members, approximately 91% of the combined voting power of our outstanding Class A and Class B common stock. Under our certificate of incorporation, holders of Class B common stock are entitled to ten votes per share, while holders of Class A common stock are entitled to one vote per share. Generally, and as described below under Description of Capital Stock Common Stock Conversion, shares of Class B common stock automatically convert into shares of Class A common stock upon transfer of such Class B common stock, other than transfers to certain specified persons and entities, including the spouse and descendants of Ray Dolby and the spouses and domestic partners of such descendants. Because of this dual class structure, Ray Dolby, his affiliates, his family members and descendants will, for the foreseeable future and even if the selling stockholder sells all of the shares offered hereby, have significant influence over our management and affairs, and will be able to control virtually all matters requiring stockholder approval, including the election of directors and significant corporate transactions such as mergers or sales of our company or assets. Ray Dolby, his affiliates, his family members and descendants will maintain this control even if in the future they come to own considerably less than 50% of the total number of outstanding shares of our Class A and Class B common stock. Moreover, these persons may take actions in their own interests that you or our other stockholders do not view as beneficial. Absent a transfer of Class B common stock that would trigger an automatic conversion as described above, there is no threshold or time deadline at which the shares of Class B common stock will automatically convert into shares of Class A common stock. Assuming conversion of all shares of Class B common stock held by persons not affiliated with Ray Dolby into shares of Class A common stock, so long as Ray Dolby, his affiliates, his family members and descendants continue to hold shares of Class B common stock representing approximately 10% or more of the total number of outstanding shares of our Class A and Class B common stock, they will hold a majority of the combined voting power of the Class A and Class B common stock.

Holders of our Class A common stock, which is the stock the selling stockholder is selling in this offering, are entitled to one vote per share, and holders of our Class B common stock are entitled to ten votes per share. The lower voting power of the Class A common stock may negatively affect the attractiveness of our Class A common stock to investors and, as a result, its market value.

We have two classes of common stock: Class A common stock, which is the stock held by the general public and the stock the selling stockholder is selling in this offering, and which is entitled to one vote per share; and Class B common stock, which is held primarily by Ray Dolby and his affiliates, including the selling stockholder, and which is entitled to ten votes per share. Except in certain limited circumstances required by applicable law or provided in our certificate of incorporation, holders of Class A common stock and Class B common stock vote together as a single class on all matters to be voted on by our stockholders. As of March 30, 2007, 69,253,168 shares of Class B common stock were outstanding. Therefore, as of March 30, 2007, approximately 95% of the total combined voting power of our outstanding shares of our Class A common stock and Class B common stock was held by the Class B common stockholders. The shares of Class A common stock that the selling stockholder may sell pursuant to this prospectus will be issued upon the automatic conversion, at the time of such sale, of a like number of shares of Class B common stock owned by the selling stockholder. Thus, as of March 30, 2007, assuming that the selling stockholder sells all of the shares of Class A common stock offered hereby, approximately 93% of the total voting power of our outstanding shares would have been held by the Class B common stockholders. Accordingly, our Class B common stockholders hold, and are expected to continue to hold, a significant portion of the voting power of our stock on all matters requiring approval by our stockholders. The difference in the voting power of our Class A common stock and Class B common stock could diminish the market value of our Class A common stock to the extent investors attribute value to the superior voting rights of our Class B common stock and the power those rights confer. Absent a transfer that would trigger automatic conversion of Class B common stock into Class A common stock as described below under Description of Capital Stock Common Stock Conversion, there is no threshold or time deadline at which the shares of Class B common stock will automatically convert into shares of Class A common stock.

Provisions in our charter documents and under Delaware law could discourage a takeover that stockholders may consider favorable.

Provisions in our certificate of incorporation and bylaws, which we sometimes refer to collectively as our charter documents, may have the effect of delaying or preventing a change of control or changes in our management, even if those changes might be favorable to or desired by our stockholders. These provisions include the following:

Our certificate of incorporation provides for a dual class common stock structure. As a result of this structure, Ray Dolby and his affiliates, family members and descendants will have control for the foreseeable future over virtually all matters requiring stockholder approval, including the election of directors and significant corporate transactions, such as a merger or sale of our company or our assets. This concentrated control could discourage others from initiating any potential merger, takeover or other change of control transaction that our other stockholders may view as beneficial.

Our board of directors has the sole right to elect a director to fill a vacancy created by the expansion of the board of directors or the resignation, death or removal of a director, which prevents stockholders from being able to fill vacancies on our board of directors.

After such time as the holders of our Class B common stock hold less than a majority of the combined voting power of our outstanding shares of Class A and Class B common stock, our stockholders may not act by written consent. As a result, after such time a holder or holders controlling a majority of the combined voting power of our outstanding shares of Class A and Class B common stock would not be able to take certain actions except at a stockholders meeting.

Our charter documents prohibit cumulative voting in the election of directors. This limits the ability of holders of Class A common stock and minority stockholders to elect director candidates.

Stockholders must provide advance notice to nominate individuals for election to the board of directors or to propose matters to be acted upon at a stockholders meeting. These provisions may discourage or deter a potential acquiror from conducting a solicitation of proxies to elect the acquiror's own slate of directors or otherwise attempting to obtain control of us.

Our certificate of incorporation provides that, unless otherwise required by law, special meetings of stockholders may be called only by the chairman of the board, the chief executive officer, the president or the board of directors acting pursuant to a resolution adopted by a majority of the board members. A stockholder may not call a special meeting, which may delay or inhibit the ability of our stockholders to force consideration of a proposal or of holders controlling a majority of our capital stock to take action, including the removal of directors.

As a Delaware corporation, we are also subject to certain Delaware anti-takeover provisions. Under Delaware law, a corporation may, in general, not engage in a business combination with any holder of 15% or more of its capital stock unless the holder has held the stock for three years or, among other things, the board of directors has approved the transaction or the transaction by which the holder obtains his 15% or more ownership of our capital stock.

Future sales of shares by insiders could cause our stock price to decline.

If our founder, officers, directors or employees sell, or indicate an intention to sell, substantial amounts of our Class A common stock in the public market, including shares of Class A common stock issuable upon conversion of shares of Class B common stock, the trading price of our Class A common stock could decline. As of March 30, 2007, we had a total of 109,301,988 shares of Class A and Class B common stock outstanding. As of March 30, 2007, our directors and executive officers beneficially held 68,752,456 shares of Class B common stock, 5,064 shares of Class A common stock, vested options to purchase 543,337 shares of Class B common stock and vested options to purchase 133,748 shares of Class A common stock.

However, if we are deemed to be a personal holding company for U.S. federal income tax purposes, we may elect to pay a dividend to our stockholders in an amount equal to all or a significant part of our undistributed personal holding company income (which could be significant), rather than paying personal holding company tax on such undistributed personal holding company income. DESCRIPTION OF CAPITAL STOCK

General

The following is a summary of some of the terms of our common stock and related provisions of our certificate of incorporation and bylaws. For more detailed information, please see our certificate of incorporation and bylaws, which are incorporated by reference as exhibits to the registration statement of which this prospectus is a part and which you may obtain as described under Where You Can Find Additional Information. The following summary does not purport to be complete and is subject to, and qualified in its entirety by reference to, our certificate of incorporation and bylaws and the Delaware General Corporation Law.

Our certificate of incorporation authorizes two classes of common stock: Class A common stock, which has one vote per share, and Class B common stock, which has ten votes per share. Any holder of Class B common stock may convert his or her shares at any time into shares of Class A common stock on a share-for-share basis. The rights of the two classes of common stock are otherwise identical, except as described below. Some of the terms of these classes of common stock are discussed in greater detail below.

Our authorized capital stock consists of 1,000,000,000 shares, each with a par value of $0.001 per share, of which:

500,000,000 shares are designated as Class A common stock; and 500,000,000 shares are designated as Class B common stock.

At March 30, 2007, we had 40,048,820 shares of Class A common stock outstanding, held of record by 16 stockholders, and 69,253,168 shares of Class B common stock outstanding, held of record by 90 stockholders.

Common Stock

Voting Rights

Generally, holders of our Class A and Class B common stock have identical voting rights, except that holders of our Class A common stock are entitled to one vote per share, and holders of our Class B common stock are entitled to ten votes per share. Holders of shares of Class A common stock and Class B common stock vote together as a single class on all matters submitted to a vote of stockholders, including the election of directors, unless otherwise provided in our certificate of incorporation or required by law. Delaware law requires either our Class A common stock or Class B common stock to vote separately as a single class if, among other things, we amend our certificate of incorporation in a manner that alters or changes the powers, preferences or special rights of that class of common stock in a manner that affects it adversely or increases or decreases the number of authorized shares of that class. Our certificate of incorporation provides for the holders of our Class B common stock to vote separately as a class under only certain limited circumstances.

Our charter documents prohibit cumulative voting in the election of directors.

Dividends

Holders of our Class A common stock and Class B common stock are entitled to share equally on a per share basis in any dividends that our board of directors may determine to declare from time to time. In the event a dividend is paid in the form of shares of common stock or rights to acquire shares of common stock, the holders of Class A common stock will receive shares of Class A common stock or rights to acquire shares of Class A common stock, as the case may be, and the holders of shares of Class B common stock will receive shares of Class B common stock or rights to acquire shares of Class B common stock, as the case may be.

Liquidation Rights

Upon our liquidation, dissolution or winding-up, the holders of our Class A common stock and Class B common stock are entitled to share equally on a per share basis in all assets remaining after the payment of our liabilities.

Conversion

Shares of our Class A common stock are not convertible into any other shares of our capital stock. Each share of our Class B common stock is convertible into one share of Class A common stock at any time at the option of the holder or upon the affirmative vote of the holders of majority of the outstanding shares of Class B common stock.

In addition, each share of Class B common stock converts automatically into one share of Class A common stock upon any transfer, whether or not for value, except for certain transfers described in our certificate of incorporation, which include transfers to:

Holders of Class B common stock outstanding immediately following the effectiveness of our initial public offering (which occurred in February 2005), and the initial holders of shares of Class B common stock issued upon the exercise of options outstanding at such time, who we collectively refer to as our Class B holders;

Spouses or lineal descendants, or the spouses or domestic partners of such lineal descendants, of the Class B holders;

Executors or administrators of the estates of Class B holders, their spouses or lineal descendants, or the spouses or domestic partners of such lineal descendants;

Trusts for the benefit of Class B holders, their spouses or lineal descendants, the spouses or domestic partners of such lineal descendants, or the parents of the spouses or lineal descendants of Class B holders or the spouses or domestic partners of such lineal descendants, provided that the beneficiaries of such trusts may also include individuals or entities entitled to specific cash distributions or specific items of property other than shares of Class B common stock and charitable organizations;

Charitable organizations established by Class B holders, their spouses or lineal descendants, or the spouses or domestic partners of such lineal descendants; or

Any other entity controlled by Class B holders, their spouses or lineal descendants, or the spouses or domestic partners of such lineal descendants, or trusts for their benefit, or charitable organizations established by them.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, each share of Class B common stock will automatically convert into one share of Class A common stock upon any transfer by the above persons or entities in a brokerage transaction or transaction with a market maker or in any similar open market transaction on any securities exchange, national quotation system or over-the-counter market.

We may not issue or sell any shares of Class B common stock, or any securities convertible or exercisable into shares of Class B common stock, except for the issuance or sale of shares:

Pursuant to the exercise of options issued under our 2000 Stock Incentive Plan and outstanding as of the effectiveness of our initial public offering (which occurred in February 2005); or

Pursuant to any stock splits, stock dividends, subdivisions, combinations or recapitalizations with respect to the Class B common stock.

Anti-Takeover Effects of Delaware Law and Our Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws

Certain provisions of Delaware law, our certificate of incorporation and our bylaws contain provisions that could have the effect of delaying, deferring or discouraging another party from acquiring or seeking to acquire control of our company. In particular, our dual class common stock structure concentrates voting power in the hands of our Class B stockholders. These provisions, some of which are summarized below, are intended to discourage coercive takeover practices and inadequate takeover bids. These provisions are also designed, in part, to encourage persons seeking to acquire control of our company to first negotiate with our board of directors.

Dual Class Structure

As discussed above, our Class B common stock has ten votes per share, while our Class A common stock, which is the class of stock the selling stockholder is selling in this offering and which is the only class of our stock that is publicly traded, has one vote per share. For information as to ownership of our Class B common stock by Ray Dolby and his affiliates, see Risk Factors. For the foreseeable future, Ray Dolby or his affiliates will be able to control the selection of all members of our board of directors, as well as virtually every other matter that requires stockholder approval, which will severely limit the ability of other stockholders to influence corporate matters and Holders of our Class A common stock, which is the stock the selling stockholder is selling in this offering, are entitled to one vote per share, and holders of our Class B common stock are entitled to ten votes per share. The lower voting power of the Class A common stock may negatively effect the attractiveness of our Class A common stock to investors and, as a result, its market value.

Because of this dual class structure, Ray Dolby, his affiliates, his family members and descendants will, for the foreseeable future and even if the selling stockholder sells all of the shares offered hereby, have significant influence over our management and affairs, and will be able to control virtually all matters requiring stockholder approval, including the election of directors and significant corporate transactions such as mergers or sales of our company or assets, even if in the future they come to own considerably less than 50% of the total number of outstanding shares of our Class A and Class B common stock. Assuming conversion of all shares of Class B common stock held by persons not affiliated with Ray Dolby into shares of Class A common stock, so long as Ray Dolby, his affiliates, his family members and descendants continue to hold shares of Class B common stock representing approximately 10% or more of the total number of outstanding shares of our Class A and Class B common stock, they will hold a majority of the combined voting power of the Class A and Class B common stock. This concentrated control will significantly limit the ability of stockholders other than Ray Dolby, his affiliates, his family members and descendants to influence corporate matters. Moreover, Ray Dolby and his affiliates may take actions in their own interests that you or our other stockholders do not view as beneficial.

Absent a transfer to a third party that would trigger automatic conversion of Class B common stock into Class A common stock as described above under Common Stock Conversion, there is no threshold or time deadline at which the shares of Class B common stock will automatically convert into shares of Class A common stock.

Limits on Ability of Stockholders to Act by Written Consent or Call a Special Meeting

We have provided in our certificate of incorporation that our stockholders may not act by written consent after such time as the outstanding shares of Class B common stock represent less than a majority of the combined voting power of our outstanding Class A common stock and Class B common stock. As a result, after such time, a holder controlling a majority of our capital stock would not be able to amend our bylaws or remove directors without holding a stockholders meeting. This limit on the ability of our stockholders to act by written consent may lengthen the amount of time required to take stockholder actions.

In addition, our certificate of incorporation provides that, unless otherwise required by law, special meetings of the stockholders may be called only by the chairman of the board, the chief executive officer, the president, or the board of directors acting pursuant to a resolution adopted by a majority of the board members. A stockholder may not call a special meeting, which may delay or inhibit the ability of our stockholders to force consideration of a proposal or of holders controlling a majority of our capital stock to take any action, including the removal of directors.

Requirements for Advance Notification of Stockholder Nominations and Proposals

Our bylaws establish advance notice procedures with respect to stockholder proposals and the nomination of candidates for election as directors, other than nominations made by or at the direction of the board of directors or its committees. The bylaws do not give the board of directors the power to approve or disapprove stockholder nominations of candidates or proposals regarding business to be conducted at a special or annual meeting of the stockholders. However, our bylaws may have the effect of precluding the conduct of certain business at a meeting if the proper procedures are not followed. These provisions may also discourage or deter a potential acquiror from conducting a solicitation of proxies to elect the acquirer's own slate of directors or otherwise attempting to obtain control of our company.

Limits on Ability of Stockholders to Elect Directors

Our board of directors has the sole right to elect a director to fill a vacancy created by the expansion of the board of directors or the resignation, death or removal of a director, which prevents stockholders from being able to fill vacancies on our board of directors. In addition, our charter documents prohibit cumulative voting in the election of directors.

Amendment of Provisions in the Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws

Our certificate of incorporation requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the voting power of our outstanding voting stock in order to amend or repeal certain provisions of our certificate of incorporation, including:

The powers, preferences and rights of each class of common stock, including voting, dividend, liquidation and conversion rights;

The requirement that stockholders provide advance notice of matters to be acted upon and nominations for the election of directors at a stockholders meeting; and

The limits on the ability of stockholders to act by written consent or to call a special meeting.

Our certificate of incorporation also requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the voting power of our outstanding voting stock in order to create an additional class or series of capital stock.

Our bylaws require the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the voting power of our outstanding voting stock in order to amend certain provisions of our bylaws, including:

The limits on the ability of stockholders to act by written consent or to call a special meeting;

The provision prohibiting cumulative voting for the election of directors; and

The requirement that stockholders provide advance notice of matters to be acted upon and nominations for the election of directors at a stockholders meeting.

Delaware Anti-Takeover Statute

We are subject to the provisions of Section 203 of the Delaware General Corporation Law regulating corporate takeovers. In general, Section 203 prohibits a publicly held Delaware corporation from engaging, under certain circumstances, in a business combination with an interested stockholder for a period of three years following the date the person became an interested stockholder unless:

Prior to the date of the transaction, the board of directors of the corporation approved either the business combination or the transaction that resulted in the stockholder becoming an interested stockholder;

Upon completion of the transaction that resulted in the stockholder becoming an interested stockholder, the interested stockholder owned at least 85% of the voting stock of the corporation outstanding at the time the transaction commenced, excluding for purposes of determining the voting stock outstanding, but not the outstanding voting stock owned by the interested stockholder, (1) shares owned by persons who are directors and also officers, and (2) shares owned by employee stock plans in which employee participants do not have the right to determine confidentially whether shares held subject to the plan will be tendered in a tender or exchange offer; or

At or subsequent to the date of the transaction, the business combination is approved by the board of directors and by the stockholders at an annual or special meeting, and not by written consent, by the affirmative vote of at least 66 2/3% of the outstanding voting stock that is not owned by the interested stockholder.

Generally, a business combination includes a merger, asset or stock sale, or other transaction with or resulting in a financial benefit to the interested stockholder. An interested stockholder is, in general, a person who, together with affiliates and associates, owns or owned, within three years prior to the determination of interested stockholder status, 15% or more of a corporation's outstanding voting stock.

We expect the existence of this provision to have an anti-takeover effect with respect to transactions our board of directors does not approve in advance. We also anticipate that Section 203 may also discourage attempts that could result in a premium over the market price for the shares of common stock held by stockholders.

The provisions of Delaware law and our charter documents could have the effect of discouraging others from attempting hostile takeovers and, as a consequence, they may also inhibit temporary fluctuations in the market price of our common stock that often result from actual or rumored hostile takeover attempts. These provisions may also have the effect of preventing changes in our management. Moreover, it is possible that these provisions could make it more difficult to accomplish transactions that stockholders may otherwise deem to be in their best interests.

Item 15 Indemnification of Officers and Directors

Section 145 of the Delaware General Corporation Law authorizes a court to award, or a corporation's board of directors to grant, indemnity to officers, directors and other corporate agents in terms sufficiently broad to permit such indemnification under certain circumstances and subject to certain limitations.

As permitted by Section 102 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, the registrant's certificate of incorporation includes provisions that eliminate the personal liability of its directors for monetary damages for breach of their fiduciary duty as directors to the fullest extent permitted by Delaware law.

In addition, as permitted by Section 145 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, the bylaws of the registrant provide that:

The registrant must indemnify its directors and officers for serving the registrant in those capacities or for serving other business enterprises at the registrant's request, to the fullest extent permitted by Delaware law, if such person acts in good faith and in a manner such person reasonably believes to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the registrant and, with respect to any criminal proceeding, has no reasonable cause to believe such person's conduct is unlawful.

The registrant may, in its discretion, indemnify employees and agents in those circumstances where indemnification is not required by law.

The registrant is required to advance expenses incurred by a director or officer in connection with defending a proceeding, except that the director or officer must undertake to repay such advances if it is ultimately determined that the individual is not entitled to indemnification.

The registrant is not obligated pursuant to the bylaws to indemnify a person with respect to proceedings initiated by that person, except with respect to proceedings authorized by the registrant's board of directors or brought to enforce a right to indemnification.

The rights conferred in the bylaws are not exclusive, and the registrant is authorized to enter into indemnification agreements with its directors, officers, employees and agents, and to obtain insurance to indemnify such persons.

The registrant may not retroactively amend these bylaw provisions to reduce its indemnification obligations to directors, officers, employees and agents.

The registrant's policy is to enter into separate indemnification agreements with each of its directors and officers that provide indemnification to the maximum extent permitted under the Delaware General Corporation Law and also provide for certain additional procedural protections. The registrant also maintains directors and officers insurance to insure such persons against certain liabilities.

These indemnification provisions and the indemnification agreements entered into between the registrant and its officers and directors may be sufficiently broad to permit indemnification of the registrant's officers and directors for liabilities (including reimbursement of expenses incurred) arising under the Securities Act.

Any underwriting agreement relating to the offering of shares pursuant to this registration statement may provide for indemnification by the underwriters of the registrant and its officers and directors for certain liabilities arising under the Securities Act and otherwise.

Item 17 Undertakings

(a) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes:

(1) To file, during any period in which offers or sales are being made, a post-effective amendment to this registration statement:

(i) To include any prospectus required by Section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act of 1933;

(ii) To reflect in the prospectus any facts or events arising after the effective date of the registration statement (or the most recent post-effective amendment thereof) which, individually or in the aggregate, represent a fundamental change in the information set forth in the registration statement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any increase or decrease in the volume of securities offered (if the total dollar value of securities offered would not exceed that which was registered) and any deviation from the low or high end of the estimated maximum offering range may be reflected in the form of prospectus filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) if, in the aggregate, the changes in volume and price represent no more than a 20% change in the maximum aggregate offering price set forth in the Calculation of Registration Fee table in the effective registration statement; and

(iii) To include any material information with respect to the plan of distribution not previously disclosed in the registration statement or any material change to such information in the registration statement; provided, however, that paragraphs (a)(1)(i), (a)(1)(ii) and (a)(1)(iii) above do not apply if the information required to be included in a post-effective amendment by those paragraphs is contained in reports filed with or furnished to the Securities and Exchange Commission by the registrant pursuant to Section 13 or Section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 that are incorporated by reference in the registration statement, or is contained in a form of prospectus filed pursuant to Rule 424(b) that is part of the registration statement.

(2) That, for the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(3) To remove from registration by means of a post-effective amendment any of the securities being registered which remain unsold at the termination of the offering.

(4) That, for the purpose of determining liability under the Securities Act of 1933 to any purchaser:

(i) Each prospectus filed by the registrant pursuant to Rule 424(b)(3) shall be deemed to be part of the registration statement as of the date the filed prospectus was deemed part of and included in the registration statement; and

(ii) Each prospectus required to be filed pursuant to Rule 424(b)(2), (b)(5), or (b)(7) as part of a registration statement in reliance on Rule 430B relating to an offering made pursuant to Rule 415(a)(1)(i), (vii), or (x) for the purpose of providing the information required by Section 10(a) of the Securities Act of 1933 shall be deemed to be part of and included in the registration statement as of the earlier of the date such form of prospectus is first used after effectiveness or the date of the first contract of sale of securities in the offering described in the prospectus. As provided in Rule 430B, for liability purposes of the issuer and any person that is at that date an underwriter, such date shall be deemed to be a new effective date of the registration statement relating to the securities in the registration statement to which that prospectus relates, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof. Provided, however, that no statement made in a registration statement or prospectus that is part of the registration statement or made in a document incorporated or deemed incorporated by reference into the registration statement or prospectus that is part of the registration statement will, as to a purchaser with a time of contract of sale prior to such effective date, supersede or modify any statement that was made in the registration statement or prospectus that was part of the registration statement or made in any such document immediately prior to such effective date.

(b) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes that, for purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each filing of the registrant's annual report pursuant to Section 13(a) or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (and, where applicable, each filing of an employee benefit plan's annual report pursuant to Section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) that is incorporated by reference in the registration statement shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(c) Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the registrant pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act of 1933 and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act of 1933 and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.
