BHP Billiton's Offer For Rio Tinto

The Board of BHP Billiton has announced an offer for Rio Tinto of 3.4 BHP Billiton shares for each Rio Tinto share, which, if successful, would create the world's premier diversified resources company.

BHP Billiton firmly believes that the rationale for combining BHP Billiton and Rio Tinto is compelling due to the strategic fit, the expected synergies and the opportunity to create an organisation without parallel. This combination will unlock unique value for both BHP Billiton and Rio Tinto shareholders.

About BHP Billiton

BHP Billiton is the world's largest diversified resources company. We are distinguished from other resource companies by the combination of the quality of our assets; our deep inventory of growth projects; our customer-focused marketing; our diversification across countries, commodities, and markets; and our petroleum business.

As at 30 June, 2007 we had some 39,000 employees working in over 100 operations in 25 countries. Reflecting our aim to be a premier global company, we occupy industry leader or near industry leader positions in major commodity businesses, including aluminium, energy coal and metallurgical coal, copper, manganese, iron ore, uranium, nickel, silver and titanium minerals, and have substantial interests in oil, gas, liquefied natural gas and diamonds.

The central tenet of the BHP Billiton business model is that its diversified portfolio of high quality assets provides more stable cash flows and greater capacity to drive growth than the traditional resource cyclicals. In FY2007, we generated turnover of US$47.5 billion, underlying earnings before interest and tax (Underlying EBIT) of US$20.1 billion, attributable profit (excluding exceptional items) of US$13.7 billion and net operating cash flow of US$15.6 billion.

Strategic Fit

BHP Billiton believes the combined portfolio would deliver benefits that are only achievable through a combination of BHP Billiton and Rio Tinto as a result of the common and overlapping presence in a number of major resource basins and joint ownership interests. This relatively high degree of overlap is unique in the industry and is expected to provide opportunities for significant value creation through economies of scale, sharing of infrastructure and removal of duplication. Examples include:

- Faster and more efficient development of the combined iron ore resources in Western Australia;
- Optimisation of thermal coal operations in the Hunter Valley, Australia;
- More efficient development of metallurgical coal operations in the Bowen Basin, Australia;
- Improved development of brownfield and greenfield opportunities in industrial minerals in Southern Africa

Greater opportunities to meet the challenges of growing demand

BHP Billiton believes by combining the two development portfolios and more effectively utilising resources and infrastructure, the Enlarged Group will be able to deliver an improved supply-side response to meet the growing demand from customers by providing greater volumes on an accelerated basis. It will also be supported through greater abilities to develop new production and optimise supply logistics through blending and better delivery options.

Enhanced delivery of future growth options

Both companies are seeking to develop new resources in geographies that frequently have high infrastructure needs and other associated costs, as well as increased risks. Through Rio Tinto and BHP Billiton's extensive experience and resources, the Enlarged Group would have a greater ability to develop efficiently the next generation of large-scale projects in these new regions for the benefits of its customers, the communities in which it operates, and its shareholders.

Synergies

The combination of BHP Billiton and Rio Tinto is expected to generate material and unique synergies due to the substantial overlap in neighbouring and jointly-owned operations, combined with the usual areas of duplication. In particular, BHP Billiton expects:

US$1.7 billion nominal per annum of cost savings in the third full year following completion, achieved through removal of duplication as well as procurement and operating efficiency savings; and further EBITDA enhancement of US$2.0 billion nominal per annum in the seventh full year following completion, driven primarily by the acceleration of volumes to customers.

In the seventh full year following completion this, therefore, gives a total incremental EBITDA of US$3.7 billion nominal per annum of quantified synergies.

The total one-off implementation cash costs related to achieving these synergies are expected to amount to US$0.65 billion which we expected to be incurred over the first two full years following completion.

This estimate of cost savings and further EBITDA enhancement has been reported on under the City Code on Takeovers and Mergers by KPMG and by BHP Billiton's financial advisor Goldman Sachs International. Copies of their letters are included in parts (a) and (b) respectively of Appendix V.

The estimate of cost savings and further EBITDA enhancement should be read in conjunction with notes (s) to (w) of Appendix IV.
