Section 1 - Conflict Minerals Disclosure

Item 1.01 Conflict Minerals Disclosure and Report

This filing is being made by Waters Corporation (Waters or the Company) for the calendar year January 1 to December 31, 2017 in accordance with Rule 13p-1 (Rule 13p-1) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the 1934 Act) and Form SD (collectively, the Conflict Minerals Rule). Consistent with the Conflict Minerals Rule, as used herein, Conflict Minerals or 3TG are tin (cassiterite), tungsten (wolframite), tantalum (columbite-tantalite or coltan) and gold.

Waters determined that 3TG are used in certain materials contained in the Company's instrument systems, which are products that Waters manufactures. These 3TG are necessary to the functionality or production of Waters' instrument systems.

As required by the Conflict Minerals Rule, Waters has conducted a reasonable country of origin inquiry (RCOI) to determine whether any of the 3TG in its products originated in the Democratic Republic of the Congo (the DRC) or its adjoining countries, or are from recycled or scrap sources. The Company's compliance program is based upon certain industry guidance, including the Due Diligence Guidance for Responsible Supply Chains of Minerals from Conflict-Affected and High-Risk Areas of the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (the OECD Guidance).

As contemplated by the OECD Guidance, the Company has published a Conflict Minerals Statement, which is made available to employees, suppliers and to the public on our website at www.waters.com under Corporate Governance . Among other things, the Company's compliance program includes the review of its worldwide supply chain for materials that contain 3TG and the evaluation of the risk that these materials are from sources that directly or indirectly finance or benefit armed groups in the DRC or an adjoining country. To determine where the 3TG in its products are sourced from, the Company requested that its suppliers complete the Conflict Minerals Reporting Template developed by the Responsible Minerals Initiative.

No suppliers informed Waters, in response to Waters' RCOI, that it obtained 3TG from mines controlled by armed groups in the DRC or an adjoining country. However, certain suppliers did not respond to the inquiry, while others replied that they did not know the smelter or refiner or country of origin of the 3TG that were sourced from them. In accordance with the Conflict Minerals Rule, as a result of the information the Company received from its suppliers for calendar year 2017, Waters was not able to determine with certainty the country of origin of some of the 3TG in its products. Waters does not have reason to believe that any 3TG may have originated from mines controlled by an armed group in the DRC or an adjoining country.

This information is publicly available on our website at www.waters.com under Corporate Governance, Conflict Minerals Statement .
