GOL Offers More Pricing Options, New Fare Categories

More flexible and attractive prices for corporate clients

São Paulo, April 7, 2009 GOL Linhas Aéreas Inteligentes S.A. (NYSE: GOL and Bovespa: GOLL4), Brazil s low-cost airline, is reinforcing its policy of simplifying access to air travel in Brazil and South America. Beginning tomorrow, the Company will offer new fare options for tickets booked online in an effort to meet different passengers needs, in terms of price, the pre-flight booking period, rescheduling flights and participation in the SMILES loyalty program.

Passengers on domestic flights will be able to choose from the following four fare classes when purchasing their tickets on-line (www.voegol.com.br):

Free		Flexible	Scheduled	Promotional
Freedom to reso a flight at no charge		For passengers who need flexibility, but want to save money	Minimum stop-over at destination	Exceptionally low rates under certain conditions
Grants 50 pe more miles fo SMILES pro	or the	Grants 25 percent more miles for the SMILES program	Lower fares for advanced on-line booking

For example, choosing the Free rate eliminates the extra fee typically required when passengers change their reservation time on the date of their flight, a particularly beneficial option for corporate clients.

For international flights, the Comfort category, which offers passengers specialized services on VARIG s international flights, is available in addition to the Free, Scheduled, and Promotional. These services include access to SMILES VIP airport lounges; priority check-in, boarding and landing; higher baggage weight limits; greater leg room and increased onboard privacy; a 50 percent mileage bonus for SMILES program participants; and a wider range of on-board meal and in-flight entertainment options.

Launching these new fare categories is in line with our mission to expand price options for the many different types of passengers that fly GOL, said Tarcisio Gargioni, GOL s vice president, marketing and services. Through these options, we can meet the unique needs of more of our diverse customer base.
