Item 1.01 Entry into Material Definitive Agreement

On April 22, 2013, Santo Mining Corp. (the “Company”) closed a Securities Purchase Agreement (the “Agreement”), dated April 19, 2013 with Asher Enterprises, Inc. (“Asher”), pursuant to which Asher purchased, and the Company issued, a convertible promissory note dated April 19, 2013 as of the same date in the principal amount of $53,000 (the “Note”) with a maturity date of January 22, 2014 (the “Maturity Date”). The interest rate of the Note is 8% per annum through the maturity date.

The Note is convertible into shares of the Company’s common stock, par value $0.00001 per share (the “Common Stock”) (up to an amount that would result in Asher holding no more than 9.99% of the outstanding shares of common stock of the Company, subject to waiver by Asher) at any time beginning on the date that is one hundred eighty (180) days following the date of the Note and ending on the Maturity Date, valued at an agreed discount to market not to fall below a 53% discount to the average of the three lowest closing bid prices for the Company’s common stock during the thirty (30) days immediately preceding a conversion date, subject to certain exceptions described in the Note. In the event the Company fails to deliver to Asher the common stock issuable upon conversion, the Company shall be required to pay to Asher $21,000 per day for each day beyond the due date until the Company so delivers the common stock (the “Conversion Penalty”).

The Note is subject to customary default provisions, including failure to issue common stock upon conversion (the “Conversion Default”). Upon the occurrence and during the continuation of any Conversion Default, the Note shall become immediately due and payable and the Company shall pay to the holder, in full satisfaction of its obligations under the Note, an amount equal to the Default Sum (as defined in the Agreement), multiplied by 2. In the event the Company shall default in the payment of the Note, the interest rate shall be increased to 22% per annum.

The conversion price of the Note is subject to adjustment due to certain subsequent dilutive issuances of Company common stock, pursuant to which the conversion price of the Note shall be reduced to the amount of the consideration per share received by the Company if the Company sells common stock for no consideration or consideration per share that is less than the conversion price then in effect.

The Note may be prepaid in whole or in part, at any time during the period beginning on the issue date and ending on the date which is 180 days following the issue date, beginning at 115% of the outstanding principal and increasing by 5% every 30 days up to 140% of the outstanding principal, accrued interest and certain other amounts that may be due and owing under the Note.

The foregoing description of the terms of the Purchase Agreement and Note are qualified in its entirety by reference to the provisions of the agreement filed as Exhibit 10.1 and 4.1, to this Current Report on Form 8-K (this “Report”), respectively, which are incorporated by reference herein.

Item 3.02 Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities.

Reference is made to the disclosure set forth under Items 1.01 of this Report, which disclosure is incorporated herein by reference.

The Company issued the Note in reliance upon the exemption from registration contained in Section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). Our reliance on Section 4(2) of the Securities Act was based upon the following factors: (a) the issuance of the Note was an isolated private transaction by us which did not involve a public offering; (b) there were only a limited number of offerees; (c) there were no subsequent or contemporaneous public offerings of the securities by us; (d) the securities were not broken down into smaller denominations; and (e) the negotiations for the sale of the stock took place directly between the offeree and us.
