RE: CVS and Caremark to form premier pharmacy services company in merger of equals

DATE: November 1, 2006

Today is an exciting day for CVS. Today we announced that CVS and Caremark have entered into a definitive merger agreement to create the nation's premier integrated pharmacy services provider, combining one of the nation's leading pharmaceutical services companies with the largest pharmacy chain. This transaction combines the strengths of both CVS and Caremark. PharmaCare will be part of the newly combined PBM entity.

Size and scale are important in healthcare delivery today. Through acquisitions we have grown into the nation's largest pharmacy retailer. This merger with Caremark now gives us the size and scale in our PBM business to deliver more innovative programs and services to our employers and health plans that drive superior outcomes while better managing costs. And over time, the combination will create an even greater platform to drive future growth and deliver more value for payors and their plan participants.

I am very excited about the opportunities this presents not only for our combined companies, employers and health plans, but for consumers. Together, the combined company will greatly improve the pharmacy services experience for consumers by providing them with even greater choice and unparalleled access.

The attached press release, which was issued this afternoon, will answer many of your questions about today's announcement. And we will continue to communicate with you on a routine basis, within the limits of Federal guidelines, as we await completion of the deal.

Here is what I can tell you now:

First, all of our stores, distribution centers, field management and the Store Support Center will not be affected. It will be business as usual in our stores. Our corporate headquarters will remain in the Store Support Center here in Woonsocket.

PharmaCare will integrate with Caremark and the combined PBM business will be based in Nashville, Tennessee, although there will be no changes for at least six months or longer. We expect that it will take six to twelve months for this transaction to receive needed regulatory approvals and be finalized.

Under the terms of the agreement, CVS shareholders will own the majority shares of the combined company named CVS/Caremark Corporation. Mac Crawford, the Chairman of Caremark will become the Chairman of CVS/Caremark. I will become the President and CEO of CVS/Caremark. David Rickard will be the CFO of the combined company and the COO of Caremark, Howard McLure, will head the pharmacy services business.

As we move through the regulatory process, it will be easy to get distracted □ but it is important that we all stay focused on taking care of customers. This transaction will help us to do so even better in the future. It gives us products and services that will allow us to make it even easier for our customers.

Thank you for your commitment to CVS and to our customers.
