, 2008

Dear Stockholder:

You are cordially invited to attend a special meeting of stockholders, which will be held at _____, on _____, 2008 at First Bank & Trust's Main Office at 101 South Central Avenue, Paris, Illinois 61944. I hope that you will be able to attend the meeting, and I look forward to seeing you.

At the special meeting, you will be asked to vote on a proposed transaction that will result in termination of the registration of the First BancTrust common stock under federal securities laws and thereby eliminate the significant expense required to comply with reporting requirements under those laws. Our costs associated with the routine SEC filing and reporting requirements are estimated at approximately $173,700 or approximately 1.8% of our overhead expense for our 2007 reporting year and 2008 annual meeting (the 2007 reporting cycle). We believe that the costs incurred over the 2007 reporting cycle are a conservative estimate for the recurring annual cost savings that should result from the going private transaction and subsequent termination of our SEC registration.

Referred to as going private, the proposed transaction will reduce the number of stockholders to fewer than 300 persons, as required for termination of the registration. The reduction in the number of stockholders is accomplished by a merger of a newly-formed, wholly-owned subsidiary of First BancTrust (FBT Merger Co.), with and into First BancTrust on terms set forth in the merger agreement, a copy of which is attached as Appendix A to the enclosed proxy statement.

Under the terms of the merger, (i) each share of common stock owned of record at the close of business on the date preceding the effective time of the merger, by a holder of fewer than 250 shares will be converted into the right to receive, from First BancTrust, $11.00 in cash per share, and (ii) each share of common stock owned of record at the close of business on the date preceding the effective time of the merger, by a holder of 250 or more shares will remain as outstanding First BancTrust common stock after the merger. We anticipate that the effect of the purchase from holders of less than 250 shares will be a reduction in the total number of stockholders from approximately 484 to approximately 226 as required for termination of registration, while the number of shares outstanding is expected to be reduced by less than 2% (to 2,158,060 shares outstanding from the current 2,185,839 shares outstanding.)

At the special meeting, stockholders will also consider and vote on a proposed amendment to First BancTrust's certificate of incorporation. The amendment would prohibit certain future transfers of shares of First BancTrust common stock if, as a result of the transfer, any stockholder would own of record fewer than 250 shares of the surviving corporation. This amendment is intended to slow the growth in the number of our stockholders in the future, thus avoiding or delaying the need to again register. Approval of the amendment is contingent on stockholder approval of the merger agreement.

The First BancTrust board of directors has approved the going private transaction and the amendment as in the best interest of all First BancTrust stockholders and recommends that you vote in favor of the proposed transaction and the amendment. The attached notice of special meeting and proxy statement describe the transaction, the amendment, and provide specific information concerning the special meeting. The going private transaction and the amendment are important for First BancTrust and its stockholders but will only be approved upon the affirmative vote of a majority of the number of shares entitled to vote at the special meeting.

The board of directors has established _____, 2008 as the record date for determining stockholders who are entitled to notice of the special meeting and to vote at the special meeting. Whether or not you plan to attend the special meeting, please complete, sign and date the proxy card and return it in the envelope provided in time for it to be received by _____, 2008. If you attend the meeting, you may vote in person, even if you have previously returned your proxy card.

Sincerely,

Terry J. Howard

President & CEO

NOTICE OF THE SPECIAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS
To Be Held _____, 2008

A special meeting of stockholders of First BancTrust Corporation will be held at _____ [a.m./p.m.] on _____, 2008, at First Bank & Trust's Main Office at 101 South Central Avenue, Paris, Illinois 61944, for the following purposes:

- (1) To consider and act upon a proposal to approve the merger of FBT Merger Co., a wholly-owned subsidiary of First BancTrust, with and into First BancTrust as contemplated by the merger agreement attached as Appendix A to the enclosed proxy statement. Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, (a) each share of First BancTrust common stock owned of record at the close of business on the date preceding the effective time of the merger, by a holder of fewer than 250 shares of common stock, will be converted into, and will represent the right to receive from First BancTrust $11.00 cash per share; and (b) each share of First BancTrust common stock owned of record at the close of business on the date preceding the effective time of the merger, by a holder of 250 or more shares of common stock will continue to represent one share of First BancTrust common stock after the merger.
- (2) To consider and act upon a proposal to approve an amendment to First BancTrust's certificate of incorporation, the text of which can be found in Appendix B to the enclosed proxy statement. This amendment would prohibit certain transfers of the surviving corporation's stock if, as a result of the transfer, any stockholder would own of record fewer than 250 shares of the surviving corporation. The amendment is contingent on stockholder approval of the merger agreement.
- (3) To consider and act upon a proposal to adjourn or postpone the meeting, if necessary, in the event that an insufficient number of shares is present in person or by proxy to approve and adopt the merger agreement and approve the transactions it contemplates.
- (4) To transact any other business as may properly come before the meeting or any adjournments of the meeting.

The board of directors unanimously recommends that you vote FOR the approval of each of the proposals. Under applicable Delaware laws, First BancTrust's stockholders have dissenters' rights in connection with the merger.

The board of directors has set the close of business on _____ 2008, as the record date for determining the stockholders who are entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the meeting or any adjournment of the meeting.

We hope that you will be able to attend the meeting. We ask, however, whether or not you plan to attend the meeting, that you please mark, date, sign, and return the enclosed form of proxy as soon as possible. Promptly returning your form of proxy will help ensure the greatest number of stockholders are present whether in person or by proxy.

If you attend the meeting in person, you may revoke your proxy at the meeting and vote your shares in person. You may revoke your proxy at any time before the proxy is exercised.

By Order of the Board of Directors,

Joseph R. Schroeder
Secretary

PROXY STATEMENT
For Special Meeting of Stockholders
To Be Held on , 2008

The board of directors of First BancTrust provides this proxy statement to you to solicit your vote on the approval of the Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of April 21, 2008, by and between First BancTrust and FBT Merger Co., a newly-formed subsidiary of First BancTrust organized for the sole purpose of facilitating this proposed transaction. Pursuant to the merger agreement, FBT Merger Co., will merge with and into First BancTrust, with First BancTrust continuing as the surviving corporation after the merger. If First BancTrust's stockholders approve the merger agreement, each stockholder:

holding fewer than 250 shares of First BancTrust common stock on the date preceding the effective time of the merger will receive $11.00 cash, without interest, per share from First BancTrust; or holding 250 or more shares on the date preceding the effective time of the merger will continue to hold the same number of shares after the merger and will not receive any cash payment from First BancTrust.

After the merger, First BancTrust anticipates it will have approximately 226 stockholders of record. As a result, First BancTrust will no longer be subject to the annual and periodic reporting and related requirements under the federal securities laws that are applicable to public companies.

At the special meeting, stockholders will also consider and vote on a proposed amendment to First BancTrust's certificate of incorporation. The amendment would prohibit certain future transfers of shares of First BancTrust common stock if, as a result of the transfer, any stockholder would own of record fewer than 250 shares of the surviving corporation. This amendment is intended to slow the growth in the number of our stockholders in the future, thus avoiding or delaying the need to again register. Approval of the amendment is contingent on stockholder approval of the merger agreement.

The merger and the amendment cannot occur unless the holders of a majority of the shares of First BancTrust common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting of stockholders approve the merger agreement and the amendment. The board of directors has scheduled a special meeting of stockholders to vote on the merger as follows:

SUMMARY

This summary, together with the following Question and Answers section, highlights the material information included in this proxy statement. This summary may not contain all of the information that is important to you. To understand the merger proposal fully, and for a more complete description of the legal terms of the merger proposal, you should read carefully this entire document and the other documents referenced in this document. The actual terms of the merger are contained in the merger agreement, a copy of which is attached as Appendix A to this proxy statement.

The merger would result in a reduction in the number of First BancTrust stockholders. This reduction is expected to permit First BancTrust to terminate the registration of its securities under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. (See page .)

The merger would be effective when the certificate of merger is filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware, or as otherwise specified on the certificate of merger. First BancTrust intends to file the certificate of merger promptly following stockholder approval of the merger proposal. (See page .)

Each holder of record of 250 or more shares of First BancTrust common stock immediately prior to the effective time of the merger will continue to be a holder of the same number of shares he or she owned prior to the effective time. (See page .)

Continuing First BancTrust stockholders following the effective time of the merger will not be entitled to any cash payment for their shares of common stock as a result of the merger. (See page .)

Each holder of record of fewer than 250 shares of common stock immediately prior to the effective time of the merger will be entitled to receive only cash, without interest, in the amount of $11.00 for each share of common stock held immediately prior to the effective time. (See page .)

Following the effective time of the merger, stockholders who are entitled to be paid cash for their shares will no longer be stockholders of First BancTrust. (See page .)

In conjunction with the merger, stockholders are also being asked to consider an amendment to First BancTrust's certificate of incorporation which would prohibit certain transfers of the surviving corporation's stock if, as a result of the transfer, any stockholder would own of record fewer than 250 shares of the surviving corporation. The amendment is contingent on stockholder approval of the merger agreement. (See page .)

At the special meeting, holders of common stock will be asked to approve the merger transaction and the amendment. Each share of common stock is entitled to one vote. Under Delaware law, the merger must be approved by a majority of the shares of First BancTrust common stock entitled to vote. (See page .)

On the record date, there were approximately 2,185,839 shares of common stock issued and outstanding. Of those shares, approximately 267,965 shares are owned, directly or indirectly, by directors and executive officers (approximately 12.3% of the outstanding shares). We have been informed that all of First BancTrust's directors and executive officers intend to vote in favor of the merger proposal. Therefore, the affirmative vote of 824,955 shares (approximately 37.7% of the outstanding shares) of unaffiliated stockholders is necessary to ensure the approval of the merger and the amendment. (See page .)

The applicable Delaware laws entitle stockholders of First BancTrust to elect dissenters' rights in connection with the merger. (See page .)

Shares held in street name accounts with brokerage firms, banks and other investment institutions at the effective time of the merger may remain outstanding after the merger. Stockholders who own fewer than 250 shares in a street name account with a broker, bank or other investment institution will not be cashed out as a result of the merger if the investment institution holds of record 250 or more shares immediately prior to the effective time of the merger. If you are a security holder who holds your shares in street name and hold fewer than 250 shares you will be unable to predict whether you will be cashed out in the merger unless you promptly take action to become a record holder on First BancTrust's stockholder list, rather than a holder in street name. Re-registration of shares can take a week or more to become effective so please do not delay if you wish to ensure that you are the record holder at the time of the merger. (See page .)

The merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement are subject to a number of conditions, including approval of the merger by our stockholders. (See page .)

As a result of the merger, First BancTrust anticipates that it will be able to terminate the registration of its securities under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. This means First BancTrust would no longer publicly file financial information nor incur the burdens, risks and expense associated with being subject to this act. (See page .)

Following the completion of the merger, First BancTrust's common stock would no longer be registered with the SEC and, as a result, the public would have access to less information about First BancTrust. For example, while First BancTrust intends to prepare and distribute to remaining stockholders on an annual basis, an annual report containing audited financial statements along with a less detailed proxy statement, First BancTrust will not prepare and make available the following reports which it currently files with the SEC:

Annual Report on Form 10-K;

Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q;

Current Reports on Form 8-K;

Forms 3, 4, and 5 required of executive officers and directors under Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act; and Detailed proxy statement as required by Regulation 14A under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

In addition, the merger will result in there being less liquidity in First BancTrust's common stock and may negatively affect the goodwill of some customers of First BancTrust's subsidiary bank. (See pages .)

First BancTrust's directors and officers have, or may appear to have, a conflict of interest in voting for and recommending the approval of the merger. As a result of the merger, directors and officers' beneficial ownership of First BancTrust stock, as a group, are expected to increase from approximately 21.8% to 22.1%. (See page .)

The merger is expected to be taxable to those stockholders who receive cash in exchange for their securities. These holders are expected to recognize gain or loss for federal, and possibly state and local, income tax purposes when they receive cash for their securities. They will generally recognize gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount of cash received and their tax basis in the securities. Stockholders should consult their personal tax advisors for a full understanding of the merger's tax consequences. (See page .)

First BancTrust's financial advisor, Howe Barnes Hoefler & Arnett, Inc., has given the Board of Directors a written opinion that the cash consideration to be paid in the merger is fair, from a financial point of view, to the stockholders of First BancTrust. (See page .) A copy of this opinion is attached to this proxy statement as Appendix C.

The proposed amendment is expected to help slow the growth in the number of stockholders, thus avoiding or delaying the need to again register the common stock under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The amendment will be effective when First BancTrust files a certificate of amendment with the Delaware Secretary of State. First BancTrust intends to file the certificate of amendment promptly following stockholder approval of the amendment proposal. (See pages .)

The amendment will not take effect unless the stockholders approve the merger. (See page .)

Table of Contents

The board of directors has determined that the proposed merger is substantively and procedurally fair to all unaffiliated stockholders of First BancTrust, including those being cashed out in the merger, as well as those remaining unaffiliated stockholders. The board has also determined that the price of $11.00 per share to be paid to those holders receiving cash for their shares is a fair price. Applicable SEC rules require that in addition to First BancTrust itself, FBT Merger Co. must express its belief as to the substantive and procedural fairness of the merger to each group of unaffiliated stockholders. FBT Merger Co. has determined that the merger is substantively and procedurally fair to the unaffiliated stockholders of First BancTrust that are cashed-out in the merger, as well as those remaining unaffiliated stockholders of First BancTrust. (See pages and .)

The board recommends that stockholders vote FOR the Agreement and Plan of Merger proposal and FOR the amendment to the certificate of incorporation.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE SPECIAL MEETING AND THE MERGER

The following questions and answers are intended to briefly address commonly asked questions regarding the special meeting, the merger and the amendment. These questions and answers may not address all questions that may be important to you as a stockholder. Please refer to the more detailed information contained elsewhere in this proxy statement, the appendices to this proxy statement, and the documents referred to or incorporated by reference in this proxy statement.

When and where is the special meeting?

The meeting will be held on _____, 2008, at _____ [a.m./p.m.], local time, at First Bank & Trust's Main Office, located at 101 South Central Avenue, Paris, Illinois 61944.

How many votes do I have?

You will have one vote for every share of common stock you owned on _____, 2008, the record date.

How many votes can be cast by all stockholders?

As of _____, 2008 (the record date), 2,185,839 shares of common stock were issued and outstanding and held of record by approximately 484 stockholders.

Can I change my vote?

Yes, just send in a new proxy with a later date, or send a written notice of revocation to the corporate secretary at the address on the cover of this proxy statement. If you attend the special meeting and want to vote in person, you can deliver a written revocation of your proxy to the secretary at the meeting.

What happens if the meeting is postponed or adjourned?

Your proxy will be good and may be voted at the postponed or adjourned meeting. You will still be able to change or revoke your proxy until it is voted.

Why should I vote to approve the plan of merger?

The board of directors believes that the merger is in the best interests of all First BancTrust stockholders. The merger will reduce the number of holders of shares of common stock to below 300 persons, which will then allow termination of the registration of the common stock under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "1934 Act"). The board believes that the monetary expense and the burden to management incident to continued compliance with the 1934 Act significantly outweigh any material benefits derived from continued registration of the shares.

The merger will also serve as a source of liquidity for those stockholders who receive cash for their shares. The board recognizes that there is no active trading market for the common stock and no market is expected to develop upon consummation of the merger. The board believes that the merger provides a means for those stockholders with a limited number of shares to receive cash for their shares at a fair price and without out-of-pocket costs.

How will the merger affect the day-to-day operations?

The merger will have very little effect on First BancTrust or its subsidiary bank's operations. The bank will continue to conduct its existing operations in the same manner as now conducted. The certificate of incorporation and by-laws of First BancTrust and the bank will remain in effect and unchanged by the merger. The deposits of the bank will continue to be insured by the FDIC. After the merger is completed, the current officers and directors of the bank will continue to hold the positions each now holds with the bank, and the bank will continue to be regulated by the same agencies as before the merger.

How was the cash price for shares of the common stock determined?

The board of directors retained Howe Barnes Hoefler & Arnett, Inc., an independent financial advisor experienced in the financial analysis and valuation of financial institutions, to assist the board in determining a fair price for the shares of common stock to be purchased by First BancTrust in the merger transaction. Howe Barnes delivered a valuation report to the board valuing a share of the common stock at $11.00 per share. The board of directors considered the independent valuation and other factors and determined that the cash consideration under the merger agreement should be $11.00 per share. Subsequently, Howe Barnes issued an opinion to the board of directors that the cash consideration to be paid in the merger is fair, from a financial point of view, to the stockholders of First BancTrust. A copy of the fairness opinion of Howe Barnes is attached as Appendix C to this proxy statement for your review.

May I obtain a copy of Howe Barnes valuation report?

In connection with Howe Barnes fairness opinion, Howe Barnes has prepared and delivered to First BancTrust a valuation report that details the valuation principles and methodologies used to determine the fairness of the proposed transaction. You or your representative (designated in writing) may inspect and copy the valuation report at First BancTrust's main office during regular business hours. You or your representative (designated in writing) may also receive a copy of the report upon written request and at your expense. Please send in your written request to the address set forth on the cover page of this proxy statement. Additional information or documentation may be requested from you if necessary to verify your identity or that of your representative or the authority of your representative.

The SEC also maintains a website that contains reports, proxy statements and other information about issuers, including First BancTrust, who file electronically with the SEC. The address of that site is <http://www.sec.gov>. First BancTrust has filed with the SEC a Rule 13e-3 Transaction Statement on Schedule 13E-3 in connection with the transactions described in this proxy statement. As permitted by the SEC, this proxy statement omits certain information contained in the Schedule 13E-3. A copy of the valuation report is attached as an exhibit to the Company's Schedule 13E-3 and is available for inspection electronically at the SEC's website.

When will the merger be completed?

We plan to complete the transaction during the third quarter of 2008 so that registration of the common stock can be terminated in the fourth quarter of 2008.

Should I send in my common stock certificates now?

No. After the merger transaction is completed, those stockholders who receive cash in the merger will receive written instructions for exchange of their common stock certificates for cash.

What is the purpose of the amendment?

The amendment will allow First BancTrust to slow the growth of its stockholder base by limiting transfers which would result in a stockholder holding of record fewer than 250 shares.

Who can help answer my questions?

If you have any questions about the special meeting or any of the items to be considered by the stockholders at the meeting, or if you need additional copies of the enclosed materials or proxy, you should contact: Terry J. Howard,

President and Chief Executive Officer, First BancTrust Corporation, 101 South Central Avenue, Paris, Illinois 61944.
His telephone number is 217-465-0260.

What do I need to do now?

Mail your signed proxy in the enclosed return envelope as soon as possible so that your shares may be represented at the meeting. If you sign and return your proxy but do not include instructions on how to vote, your shares will be voted FOR the proposal to approve and adopt the merger and the merger agreement and FOR the amendment.

For a more complete description of voting at the stockholders meeting, see the section entitled Information Regarding the Special Meeting of Stockholders beginning on page of this proxy statement.

SPECIAL FACTORS

Background of the Merger Proposal

Overview. Of First BancTrust's 484 holders of record, approximately 258 hold fewer than 250 shares (not including beneficial owners whose shares may be registered in street name). Collectively, these 258 record holders (who comprise approximately 53% of all record holders) own an aggregate of approximately 27,779 shares, or 1.3% of our outstanding shares.

We have no direct knowledge of the number of shares of our common stock owned beneficially (but not of record) by persons who own fewer than 250 shares of our common stock and hold the shares in street name. The right to retain stock or receive cash as a result of the merger will be determined with reference to the number of shares held as it appears on First BancTrust's list of record stockholders as of the effective time of the merger. Thus, the rights of a beneficial owner of shares held in street name will be determined with reference to the number of shares held in aggregate by that bank, broker, financial institution or its depository or nominee as that holding appears on the stock records of First BancTrust, and not with reference to the number of shares owned by the ultimate beneficial owner of those shares. Therefore, if you are a stockholder who holds your shares in street name and hold fewer than 250 shares, you will be unable to predict whether you will be cashed out in the merger unless you take action to become a record holder on First BancTrust's stockholder list, rather than a holder in street name. Generally, this is accomplished by instructing your nominee in writing to re-register your shares in your name personally (or as you otherwise instruct other than in street name). Your nominee may have specific procedures in order to effect such re-registration so please contact your nominee promptly if you wish to re-register your shares.

If you are a record holder holding 250 or more shares and want to ensure that you are cashed-out in the merger, you must take some action to reduce your holdings below 250 shares prior to the close of business on the day preceding the effective time of the merger (e.g. by selling some of your shares, or re-registering a portion of them in another form jointly, for example, if you currently hold them individually). Correspondingly, if you are a record holder holding fewer than 250 shares but would like to remain a stockholder of First BancTrust, you must take some action to increase your shares up to 250 or more (e.g., by buying additional shares or consolidating your ownership if you hold shares in more than one form, for example, jointly and individually, or by transferring stock into street name with a broker that holds 250 or more shares). First BancTrust has assumed that a substantial portion of the beneficial owners of shares held in nominee with 250 or more shares and will remain stockholders of First BancTrust after the merger.

As a SEC reporting company, First BancTrust is required to prepare and file with the SEC, among other items, the following:

Annual Reports on Form 10-K;

Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q;

Current Reports on Form 8-K;

Edgar Filing: FIRST BANCTRUST CORP - Form PREM14A

Forms 3, 4, and 5 required of executive officers and directors under Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act; and Proxy Statements and related materials as required by Regulation 14A under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

The costs associated with these reports and other filing obligations comprise a significant corporate overhead expense. These costs include securities counsel fees, auditor fees, costs of printing and mailing the SEC documents and the word processing, specialized software filing costs associated with the SEC reports and other filings, and considerable management's time and attention devoted to public reporting issues and the SEC's reporting requirements. These SEC registration-related expenses have increased since the adoption of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act in 2002 and comprise a significant portion of First BancTrust's overhead expense. (See Purposes of and Reasons for the Merger Proposal.)

Most of the requirements of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act are now effective and applicable to First BancTrust, and First BancTrust has implemented procedures intended to comply with those requirements. However, one very substantial requirement of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, Section 404, will first be applicable to First BancTrust in connection with its annual report to be filed in the first quarter of 2009. In general terms, Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act requires that management include in each annual report an assessment of the effectiveness of its internal control structure and procedures for financial reporting. Further, for First BancTrust's annual report to be filed in 2009, it will require that First BancTrust's registered public accounting firm attest to, and report on, this assessment. These requirements are expected to result in significant increased annual charges from First BancTrust's registered public accounting firm. The merger proposal is being made at this time, primarily to avoid the costs to be incurred in complying with Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and, secondarily to eliminate those costs that we currently incur as a result of having our securities registered under the Securities Exchange Act. The sooner the proposal can be implemented, the sooner First BancTrust will cease to incur the expenses and burdens associated with having our securities registered under the Securities Exchange Act and the sooner holders who are to receive cash in the merger will receive and be able to reinvest or otherwise make use of such cash payments.

Alternatives Considered. The board considered the following alternatives at its March 20, 2008 and April 21, 2008 board meetings, further details of which meetings are described in detail below. In making its determination, the board of directors considered other means of possibly achieving the same result, but rejected these alternatives for the reasons that follow. These alternatives were:

Tender Offer at a Similar Price. The board of directors was uncertain as to whether this alternative would result in securities being tendered by a sufficient number of record holders so as to accomplish the going private objective and to reduce recurring costs. The board found it unlikely that many holders of small numbers of shares would make the effort to tender their securities.

Reverse Stock Split. This alternative would accomplish the objective of reducing the number of record stockholders, assuming approval of the reverse stock split by First BancTrust's stockholders. In a reverse stock split, First BancTrust would acquire the interests of the cashed-out stockholders pursuant to an amendment to First BancTrust's certificate of incorporation to reduce the number of issued and outstanding shares of common stock such that the cashed-out stockholders would own less than one full share of First BancTrust common stock. First BancTrust would then distribute cash for the resulting fractional share interests. The reverse stock split and the merger would both achieve the same objective of reducing the number of record common stockholders, assuming stockholder approval. However, the reverse stock split had the disadvantage that it would result in an unreasonably high share price, or in the alternative, would require an immediate forward stock split to return the stock to its pre-reverse share price—a procedural step that would not be necessary utilizing a merger. The board viewed the merger alternative as preferable because it did not require this subsequent step.

After consideration of the various alternatives described above, the board determined that the merger proposal was the best choice for First BancTrust and its stockholders. First BancTrust estimates that, following the proposed merger, it should have approximately 226 stockholders of record, which will permit First BancTrust to terminate the registration of its securities under the Securities Exchange Act.

Board of Directors. Since the enactment of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act in 2002, management and the board of directors had become increasingly aware of the alternative of going private, as that alternative has been presented at industry conferences, in business publications and discussed generally among banking industry participants. Management and the board also became aware of going private transactions being effected by other community bank holding companies which are very similar to First BancTrust located in Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana. On February 7, 2008, the board of directors held a meeting at which issues relating to going private were discussed. All members of the board of directors were present along with Mrs. Litteral and representatives of Howe Barnes.

Howe Barnes discussed common reasons for going private, various risks and costs of going private and alternative structures of completing a going private transaction. Mrs. Litteral reviewed with the board the historical costs that would continue if First BancTrust continues as a reporting company. These costs were estimated at approximately $173,700. In order to be conservative, these estimates reviewed by Mrs. Litteral with the board included the direct internal costs associated with the employment of a dedicated employee responsible for Sarbanes-Oxley Section 404 compliance but did not include any estimate of management time involved in department heads performing periodic testing of their control procedures, or Mr. Howard's or Mrs. Litteral's management time in overseeing these responsibilities. (See Purposes of and Reasons for the Merger Proposal.)

Mrs. Litteral then provided the board with an overview of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and Section 404 in particular. Mrs. Litteral reviewed with the board current reporting requirements of First BancTrust as well as the additional requirements resulting from the full implementation of Section 404. Based on information received from First BancTrust's independent registered public accounting firm, Mrs. Litteral estimated that costs for the external audit of management's assessment of its internal controls which would begin to be required starting in 2009 would be between $40,000 and $80,000 per year. Mrs. Litteral further estimated that total annual employee costs to perform testing and ongoing monitoring of control procedures required under Section 404 including estimates of management time involved in department heads performing periodic testing of their control procedures, and Mr. Howard's and Mrs. Litteral's management time in overseeing these responsibilities was approximately $177,500.

At that meeting, the board of directors authorized management to further investigate the feasibility of a going private transaction and to report back to the board at its April meeting.

The board of directors held a special meeting on March 20, 2008, which was attended all members of the board of directors, representatives of Howe Barnes, and Theodore L. Eissfeldt of Howard & Howard Attorneys P.C. Mrs. Litteral was also present. Mr. Eissfeldt discussed with the board the board's fiduciary responsibilities in considering a going private. He also discussed the alternative structures of and steps necessary to complete a going private transaction. Additional discussions took place regarding the feasibility and costs associated with a going private transaction. Management reported to the board regarding the number of stockholders who would likely receive cash in a going private transaction in order to achieve a reasonable number of stockholders to assure that the going private transaction would have ongoing success. Mrs. Litteral again reviewed with the board the costs that the company would continue to incur if First BancTrust continues as a reporting company.

At a special board meeting held on March 27, 2008, all members of the board of directors were present. The board discussed the need for the appointment of a financial advisor to perform a stock valuation and to ultimately render a fairness opinion in connection with such a transaction. Following that discussion, the board authorized management to engage the services of Howe Barnes to serve as financial advisor in connection with a possible going private transaction. The board also instructed management to move forward in exploring the going private transaction for consideration at the April, 2008 meeting of the board of directors. The engagement letter with Howe Barnes was executed by Mr. Howard on behalf of First BancTrust on April 14, 2008. Pursuant to the engagement, Howe Barnes agreed to:

meet with the board of directors and management of First BancTrust as necessary, either in person or telephonically;

identify alternative methods of effecting the transaction;

analyze the financial impact of the transaction and provide such written analysis to First BancTrust;

identify and evaluating other similar transactions; and either (i) render an opinion in such form as it and First BancTrust shall consider appropriate, as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to First BancTrust's common shareholders of the consideration to be paid by First BancTrust in the transaction or (ii) advise the board of directors that it is unable to render such an opinion due to the excessiveness of the consideration.

At the April 21, 2008 meeting of the board of directors of First BancTrust, which was attended by all First BancTrust directors, Mrs. Litteral, Mr. Eissfeldt and Kenneth Lovik and Andrew Ross of Howe Barnes, Mr. Eissfeldt summarized alternative legal structures associated with the proposed transaction, the terms of a proposed agreement and plan of merger by and between First BancTrust and a Delaware corporation to be formed to facilitate the proposed transaction and the steps necessary to complete the transaction.

Mr. Howard then requested Mr. Lovik and Mr. Ross from Howe Barnes to present the results of the valuation of the per share value of the common stock of First BancTrust prepared by Howe Barnes. Mr. Lovik and Mr. Ross then reviewed the considerations, methodology and results of the valuation. (See Financial Fairness.) They indicated that Howe Barnes concluded that the reasonable estimate of the per share value of the common stock of First BancTrust is $11.00 per share. A discussion then took place regarding the valuation report. Mr. Lovik and Mr. Ross answered questions posed by members of the board. A discussion then took place regarding recent trades, balancing the interest of stockholders receiving cash and the interest of remaining stockholders, and various other factors. Mr. Lovik and Mr. Ross were asked whether their firm was prepared to issue an opinion that the price of $11.00 per share to be paid in the merger was a fair price, from a financial point of view, to the stockholders of First BancTrust. Mr. Lovik stated that the valuation result supports such price and that it is the opinion of Howe Barnes that the $11.00 per share to be paid in the merger is fair, from a financial point of view, to the stockholders of First BancTrust.

A discussion took place regarding procedural safeguards which could be put in place to assure that the transaction is fair to all stockholders, including those stockholders who are not affiliated with First BancTrust. The board considered whether to utilize a procedure which would require a majority vote of stockholders in favor of the proposed transaction including the votes of stockholders who are unaffiliated with First BancTrust. The board also considered whether to appoint an independent committee made up exclusively of non-employee directors to consider the proposed transaction. The board determined that because directors and officers group have a right to vote approximately 12.3% of First BancTrust's outstanding stock and non-employee directors constitute all but one member of the board, adequate procedural safeguards exist to assure fair treatment of stockholders, including those not affiliated with First BancTrust. (See Recommendation of our Board of Directors.)

The board then determined that the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement were fair to and in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders, including those stockholders who are not affiliated with the Company, that the cash payment to be made to stockholders of the Company who receive cash pursuant to the merger agreement will be $11.00 per share, and approved and adopted the merger agreement. The board also approved the amendment to the certificate of incorporation, subject to the approval of the merger agreement, and recommended that such amendment be approved by the stockholders.

Finally, on June 6, 2008, the board members reviewed with management a draft proxy statement and transaction statement on Schedule 13E-3 prepared by counsel and discussed the necessary SEC disclosures. Thereafter, the board approved the form of proxy statement and Schedule 13E-3 and authorized management to make all necessary filings with the SEC or otherwise to consummate the proposed going private transaction with each director indicating his intent to vote in favor of the merger. The board also received, reviewed and accepted a written fairness opinion, dated June 6, 2008 from Howe Barnes, a copy of which is included as Appendix C to this proxy statement, which opinion states that $11.00 per share to be paid in the merger is fair, from a financial point of view, to the stockholders of First BancTrust.

The board did not consider other methods to significantly reduce its overhead expense as an alternative to a going private transaction. The board did not consider a possible sale of First BancTrust since no firm offers had been presented to the board and no determination had been made that such a sale would be in the best interest of the stockholders. See Recommendation of our Board of Directors below for a discussion of the factors and procedural safeguards considered by the board in connection with the merger.

Purposes of and Reasons for the Merger Proposal

The purpose of the proposed merger is to terminate First BancTrust's status as a reporting company with the SEC, which the board believes will reduce expenses and create stockholder value. We are aware that the advantages to being a public company, including potential investment liquidity and the possibility for use of company securities to raise capital in the public markets or make acquisitions, may be important to some companies. We have not, however, been able to take advantage of these benefits and do not anticipate that we will be in a position to do so in the foreseeable future. In our experience, community banks of our size do not typically receive the necessary attention from stock analysts and the investment community to create substantial liquidity.

While the periodic reporting, proxy rules, liability provisions, and recently enacted provisions of Sarbanes-Oxley which, among other things, require that the Company's officers certify the accuracy of its financial statements, create significant value for the Company's stockholders, in the board's judgment, the significant costs associated with the ongoing registration of First BancTrust stock with the SEC outweighs the benefits that First BancTrust and its stockholders receive as a public reporting company. In addition, the board believes that management has reduced the Company's controllable corporate overhead as much as possible, and that the majority of the corporate costs remaining are those associated with being a public company. We believe these costs will only continue to increase.

First BancTrust incurs direct and indirect costs associated with the filing and reporting requirements imposed on public companies by the 1934 Act. Examples of anticipated direct cost savings from terminating registration of the common stock include substantially less complicated disclosure, reduced professional and advisory fees, reduced accounting fees, reduced insurance costs, reduced printing and mailing costs for corporate communications, and reduced miscellaneous, clerical and other expenses (e.g., the word processing, specialized software and electronic filings associated with SEC filings).

Our costs associated with the routine SEC filing and reporting requirements are estimated at approximately $173,700 or 1.8% of our overhead expense for our 2007 reporting year and 2008 annual meeting (the 2007 reporting cycle).

These expenses consisted of the following:

Accounting Fees	$ 16,700
Securities Counsel	$ 32,600
Corporate Communications	$ 18,400
NASDAQ Annual Fee	$ 27,500
SEC Filing Fees and Miscellaneous	$ 6,500
Internal Compliance Costs	$ 72,000

We believe that the costs incurred over the 2007 reporting cycle are a conservative estimate for the recurring annual cost savings that should result from the going private transaction and subsequent termination of our SEC registration. For example, as a result of the implementation of Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, we have been advised by our independent auditors that the anticipated fees in 2009 for its audit of our management's assessment of internal controls required under Section 404 are expected to be approximately 66% to 120% of our audit fees (approximately $67,000 in 2007).

Estimates of the annual savings to be realized if the merger is implemented are based upon (i) the actual costs of the services and disbursements in each of the above categories that are reflected in recent historical financial statements and (ii) management's estimates of the portion of the expenses and disbursements in each category believed to be solely or primarily attributable to the public company status. In some instances, management's estimates are based on information provided by third parties or upon verifiable assumptions. For example, our auditors have informed us that there will likely be a reduction in annual audit fees if we cease to be public as annual and quarterly reviews of SEC filings will not be needed if we no longer file reports with the SEC. Further legal costs associated with quarterly and annual SEC filings will no longer be incurred. Other estimates are more subjective. For example, we expect lower printing and mailing costs as a result of less complicated disclosure required by our private status, and the reduction in direct miscellaneous clerical and other expenses. The amounts set forth above are only estimates, and the actual savings to be realized may be higher or lower than these estimates.

The projected reduction in the number of total record stockholders from 484 to approximately 226 will also result in reduced expenses and less burden on management because First BancTrust will have less than half of its current number of stockholders. The decrease in number of stockholders reduces the volume of communications and amount of postage and related expenses associated with the quarterly issuance of dividend checks to stockholders and other stockholder communications.

Structure of the Merger

The merger proposal is structured as a going private transaction because it is intended to and, if completed, will likely result in the termination of our reporting requirements and other filing obligations under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

The merger has been structured so that upon consummation of the merger, First BancTrust will have fewer than 300 record holders of its shares of common stock. We have recently organized FBT Merger Co. solely to facilitate the merger transaction. FBT Merger Co. will be merged with and into First BancTrust pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement. First BancTrust will be the surviving corporation to the merger. If completed, the merger will have the following effects.

Shares held by stockholders owning fewer than 250 shares. Each share of common stock owned of record at the close of business on the date preceding the effective time of the merger, by a holder of fewer than 250 shares will be converted, pursuant to the terms of the merger, into the right to receive a cash payment of $11.00 per share. After the merger and payment of that amount, holders of these shares will have no further interest in First BancTrust. These stockholders will not have to pay any service charges or brokerage commissions in connection with the merger or the cash payments to them.

Shares held by stockholders owing 250 or more shares. Each share of common stock owned of record at the close of business on the date preceding the effective time of the merger, by a holder of 250 or more shares of common stock will remain outstanding and continue to represent one share of common stock in First BancTrust following the merger.

Beneficial owners of shares of the common stock. Nominees (such as a bank or broker) may have required procedures, and stockholders holding common stock in street name should contact their nominees to determine how they will be affected by the merger transaction.

Under the merger agreement, each share of common stock owned by a stockholder who holds of record fewer than 250 shares will be converted into the right to receive cash. The board selected 250 shares as the ownership minimum for several reasons, including to ensure that, after completion of the merger:

the number of record stockholders would be less than the 300 stockholder limit necessary to terminate registration with the SEC; and

First BancTrust would have sufficient flexibility to issue stock in the future for corporate purposes, including raising equity capital for First BancTrust or the Bank or attracting and retaining qualified employees, directors or executive officers.

The 250 share level was chosen by the board based on management's review with the board of First BancTrust's stockholder base. The board considered using a number other than 250 shares. The board was aware that stockholders are free to buy or transfer shares until the effective time of the merger. It is expected that some stockholders will acquire additional shares before the effective time through market purchases or other transactions in order to be a holder of more than the threshold number of shares and thus remain a stockholder after the Merger. Because the number of stockholders above the threshold could increase before the Effective Time, it was necessary to select a threshold sufficiently high to make reasonable allowance for changes in the composition of the stockholder list without defeating the purposes of the proposed transaction. In reliance on management's analysis, the board believes that using a number lower than 250 would have resulted in an unacceptably high risk that the transaction would not yield the desired result of having less than 300 stockholders. Out of a total of 484 record stockholders, approximately 226 stockholders own 250 or more shares of our common stock. These 226 stockholders own, in the aggregate, approximately 98.7% of the outstanding shares of common stock.

Determination of the Terms of the Merger

The structure and terms of the merger were determined by the board of directors. Of the alternatives considered by the board for reducing the number of stockholders of the Company in order to enable the Company to deregister its securities with the SEC, the board chose a merger transaction over both (1) a tender offer; and (2) a reverse stock split. The board believes the merger transaction is preferable because (1) unlike the tender offer, the merger transaction provides substantial certainty that sufficient stockholders will be eliminated to enable the Company to deregister; and (2) unlike the reverse stock split, the merger transaction would not result in an unreasonably high share price, or in the alternative, require a second step forward stock split to restore the stock to around its pre-reverse stock split share price. See Background of the Merger Alternatives Considered.

Because FBT Merger Co. is an affiliated company, the terms of the merger cannot be considered the result of arm's-length negotiations between unrelated parties. Consequently, the board retained Howe Barnes, an independent financial advisor experienced in the financial analysis and valuation of financial institutions, to value the common stock. The cash consideration to be paid for the common stock under the merger was determined by the board of directors largely in reliance on Howe Barnes' valuation report and fairness opinion. See Financial Fairness.

Financial Fairness

The board of directors believes that the merger proposal is fair to, and in the best interests of, First BancTrust and all stockholders, including those stockholders who are not officers and directors, and to all stockholders who will receive cash for their shares. The board of directors also believes that the process by which the merger is to be approved is fair.

The board of directors believes that the merger proposal is fair despite the absence of statutory safeguards identified by the SEC, namely that the board did not retain an unaffiliated representative to act solely on behalf of the stockholders who are not officers or directors, including stockholders who will receive only cash in the merger, for the purpose of negotiating the terms of the merger proposal or preparing a report covering the fairness of the merger proposal; and the merger proposal is not structured so that the approval of at least a majority of those stockholders who are not officers and directors is required.

However, despite the absence of an SEC requirement to do so, the board did obtain an opinion from an unaffiliated third-party relating to the fairness of the cash consideration to be paid to certain stockholders. As a result of obtaining an independent fairness opinion, the board determined that the cost of obtaining an additional fairness opinion or valuation from an unaffiliated representative for the purpose of negotiating the terms of the merger proposal on behalf of the unaffiliated stockholders would be costly and would not provide any meaningful additional benefit.

In connection with rendering the valuation and its opinion to First BancTrust, Howe Barnes performed a variety of financial analyses, which are summarized below. Howe Barnes believes that its analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of its analyses and the factors considered by it, without consideration of all factors and analyses, could create a misleading view of the analyses and the processes underlying Howe Barnes' valuation and its opinion. Howe Barnes arrived at the valuation and its opinion based on the results of all the analyses it undertook, assessed as a whole, and it did not draw conclusions from or with regard to any one method of analysis. The preparation of a valuation is a complex process involving subjective judgments, and is not necessarily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description.

In connection with rendering its valuation analysis and opinion, Howe Barnes reviewed and considered, among other things:

The recent operating history and nature of First BancTrust's business;

Certain publicly available financial statements, both audited (where available) and un-audited, and other historical financial information of First BancTrust;

First BancTrust's Annual Report for the year ended December 31, 2007;

First BancTrust's interim financial statements for the quarter ended March 31, 2008;

Such other information and performed such other studies and analyses as Howe Barnes considered relevant.

The valuation analysis provided by Howe Barnes to First BancTrust, dated as of April 21, 2008, was necessarily based upon economic, monetary, financial market, and other relevant conditions as of the date the valuation analysis was rendered.

In connection with its review and arriving at its valuation analysis, with the consent of First BancTrust's board, Howe Barnes assumed and relied upon the accuracy and completeness of the financial information and other pertinent information provided by First BancTrust to Howe Barnes for purposes of rendering its analysis. Howe Barnes did not assume any obligation to independently verify any of the information discussed above, including, without limitation, information from published sources, as being complete and accurate. With regard to the financial information, including financial projections it received from First BancTrust. Howe Barnes assumed that this information reflected the best available estimates and good faith judgments of management as to First BancTrust's future performance and that the projections provided a reasonable basis upon which Howe Barnes could formulate its opinion. As a matter of course, First BancTrust does not publicly disclose internal management forecasts or projections of the type utilized by Howe Barnes in connection with Howe Barnes' role as its financial advisor, and those forecasts and projections were not prepared with a view towards public disclosure. The forecasts and projections were based upon numerous variables and assumptions that are inherently uncertain, including, among others, factors relative to the general economic and competitive conditions First BancTrust faces. Accordingly, actual results could vary significantly from those set forth in the forecasts and projections. The following is the forecast provided by First BancTrust's management to Howe Barnes:

Howe Barnes does not purport to be an expert in the evaluation of loan portfolios or the allowance for loan losses with respect to loan portfolios and, accordingly, assumes that First BancTrust's allowances are adequate to cover any losses. In addition, Howe Barnes has not reviewed and does not assume any responsibility for any individual credit files and did not make an independent evaluation, appraisal, or physical inspection of the assets or liabilities, contingent or otherwise, of First BancTrust's individual properties, nor was Howe Barnes provided with any such appraisals. In addition, for purposes of rendering its valuation analysis, Howe Barnes assumed that (i) the transaction will be consummated in accordance with the terms set forth in the merger agreement, without any waiver of any of its material terms or conditions, and that obtaining the necessary regulatory approvals for the transaction will not have an adverse effect on First BancTrust, and (ii) the transaction will be consummated in a manner that complies in all respects with the applicable provisions of the Securities Act of 1933, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and all other applicable federal and state statutes, rules, and regulations. In addition, for purposes of its valuation analysis,

Howe Barnes relied on advice of counsel and independent accountants to First BancTrust as to all legal and financial reporting matters with respect to First BancTrust, the transaction and the merger agreement and Howe Barnes assumed, with First BancTrust's consent, that there are no legal issues with regard to First BancTrust that would affect Howe Barnes' valuation analysis, and Howe Barnes relied on this assumption without undertaking any independent investigation or inquiry.

Summary of Valuation Analysis. In connection with rendering its valuation analysis to First BancTrust's board of directors, Howe Barnes performed a variety of financial and comparative methodologies, which are summarized briefly below. Howe Barnes believes that these analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of them and the factors considered by Howe Barnes, without considering all of those analyses and factors, could create an incomplete understanding of the process underlying the analyses and, more importantly, a misleading or incomplete view of Howe Barnes' valuation based on these valuation analyses. The preparation of a valuation analysis is a complex process involving subjective judgments and is not necessarily susceptible to partial analyses or a summary description of those analyses. In its full analysis, Howe Barnes drew from its past experience in similar transactions, as well as its experience in the valuation of securities and its general knowledge of the bank and thrift industry as a whole. Any estimates in Howe Barnes analyses were not necessarily indicative of actual future results or values, which may significantly diverge more or less favorably from those estimates. Estimates of company valuations do not purport to be appraisals nor do they necessarily reflect the prices at which a company or its respective securities may actually be sold.

Howe Barnes analyses included (i) comparable public company (including book value) analysis, (ii) current and historical common stock trading price analysis and (iii) going concern value/discounted cash flow analysis. Howe Barnes reconciled the results of these analyses to establish a fair value for First BancTrust's common stock. Howe Barnes also provided information on First BancTrust's relative trading price performance and comparable transactions that resulted in a partial redemption of shares including an analysis of the premiums paid to stockholders.

Relative Price Performance Analysis. Howe Barnes reviewed the market performance of First BancTrust over the last twelve month period ending April 16, 2008. Howe Barnes compared the market performance of First BancTrust to that of the Guideline Companies (as defined below), all publicly traded thrifts located in the Midwest, all publicly traded thrifts located in Illinois, Nationwide thrifts with assets between $250 and $500 million, and Nationwide thrifts with market capitalizations between $15 and $30 million. During this period, First BancTrust stock traded down 30.52% and the comparable groups listed above traded down 19.20%, 30.88%, 9.83%, 19.04%, and 28.49%, respectively.

Comparable Public Company (Including Book Value) Analysis. Howe Barnes compared the financial and market performances of First BancTrust to selected publicly traded thrifts with similar characteristics to the Company. Howe Barnes specifically compared First BancTrust to the Guideline Companies, the group Howe Barnes believes to be most comparable to the Company. The Guideline Companies include selected publicly traded Midwestern thrifts, excluding those headquartered in major metropolitan areas, with assets between $250 and $500 million. Howe Barnes also analyzed all publicly traded thrifts located in the Midwest, all publicly traded thrifts located in Illinois, Nationwide thrifts with assets between $250 and $500 million and Nationwide thrifts with market capitalizations between $15 and $30 million. Howe Barnes reviewed various financial measures, including earnings performance, operating efficiency, asset quality, and various measures of market performance. Howe Barnes used these measurements to determine relative value of the respective companies within the financial services industry. A list of the Guideline Companies and a summary of the comparable public company analysis is outlined below.

Howe Barnes next applied the high, low, and weighted average multiples of the Guideline Companies and the four other comparison groups to First BancTrust's (i) book value per share, (ii) tangible book value per share, and (iii) last twelve months reported earnings per share. As a result, Howe Barnes was able to determine an imputed range of values for First BancTrust based on each of the selected pricing multiples. The table below illustrates the summary of the imputed range of values:

Current and Historical Common Stock Trading Price Analysis. Howe Barnes reviewed the trading prices and volume activity of the Company over the last twelve months, last six months, and last three months prior to April 16, 2008 on days for which a trade had been reported. In analyzing this trading history, Howe Barnes calculated the weighted average trading price per share to be $10.77, $9.91 and $9.30 for the prior twelve months, six month and three months, respectively, ending April 16, 2008. Howe Barnes noted that during the same twelve month period, the Company's common stock was traded on 148 of the possible 254 days for trading. The average daily volume of First BancTrust stock trading on days the stock actually traded was 2,881, 2,632 and 1,972 shares, respectively, during the twelve month, six month and three month period ending April 16, 2008. The total number of shares traded during the twelve month period was 426,456.

Going Concern Value/Discounted Cash Flow Analysis. Howe Barnes performed a going concern/discounted cash flow analysis to generate a range of present values per share of First BancTrust common stock. The range was determined by adding, (i) the present value of the future excess capital of First BancTrust; and (ii) the present value of the terminal value of First BancTrust common stock. Present value refers to the current value of future cash flows obtained by discounting such future cash flows by a discount rate that takes into account risk, the opportunity cost of capital, expected returns and other factors. Terminal value refers to the capitalized value of the Company's future operating potential.

In this analysis, Howe Barnes used management projections for the years 2008 through 2012 as a basis for forecasting the future excess capital of First BancTrust. Howe Barnes assumed that First BancTrust would maintain its current annual dividend. The analysis assumed a targeted ratio of tangible equity to tangible assets of 7.5% for First BancTrust. Howe Barnes applied price-to-earnings multiples of 11x to 15x and price-to-tangible book multiples of 100% to 125% to the respective projected financial metrics as of December 31, 2012 to establish the terminal value of the Company. The range of terminal multiples applied was based on numerous factors, including the current range of price-to-earnings and price-to-tangible book value multiples of comparable public companies to First BancTrust, historic trading multiples of First BancTrust, and the projected financial performance of the Company. The future excess capital and terminal values were then discounted using rates of 12.5% to 16.5% to represent an estimate of the Company's cost of equity capital, which Howe Barnes viewed as an appropriate range of discount rates for companies with the risk characteristics of First BancTrust. Howe Barnes used the Buildup Method, a variation of the Capital Asset Pricing Model, to calculate the estimate of the Company's cost of equity capital. The Buildup Method is an additive model in which the return on an asset is estimated as the sum of a risk-free rate and one or more risk premiums. Each premium represents the reward an investor receives for taking on a specific risk.

Based on these assumptions, the imputed per share present value of First BancTrust common stock using a terminal price-to-earnings multiple ranged from $11.18 to $15.98. Using a terminal price-to-tangible book multiple, the imputed per share present value of First BancTrust common stock ranged from $11.27 to $13.81. Howe Barnes noted that the discounted cash flow analysis was considered because it is a widely used valuation methodology, but that the results of the methodology are highly dependent upon the numerous assumptions that must be made, including asset and earnings growth rates, discount rates, and terminal values.

Based on Howe Barnes' review of the Company's projected financial performance and experience in analyzing discounted cash flows to determine current value, it selected the weightings listed below to derive a fair value per share of First BancTrust based on this methodology. Howe Barnes concluded that the fair value indicated by discounted cash flow analysis is $12.80 per common share.

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis	Weighting(1)	Range of Value(2)
Value range based on terminal earnings multiple		$11.18 - $15.98
Value range based on terminal tangible book multiple		$11.27 - $13.81
Midpoint of terminal earnings multiple	25%	$13.58
Midpoint of terminal tangible book multiple	75%	$12.54

Valuation Analysis Conclusion. Howe Barnes analyzed the fair value of First BancTrust's common stock established by comparable public company analysis, common stock trading analysis, and discounted cash flow analysis. Based on the valuation work performed and Howe Barnes' review of the Company and overall market conditions, it selected the weightings listed below to derive a fair value per share of First BancTrust based on application of all methodologies used. Howe Barnes reconciled the results of the three analyses and determined the current fair value of the Company's common stock to be approximately $11.00 per share.

Valuation Conclusion	Weighting(1)	Value
Comparable Public Company Analysis	30%	$ 9.94
Current and Historical Common Stock Trading Price Analysis	30%	$ 10.00
Going Concern Value/Discounted Cash Flow Analysis	40%	$ 12.80
Weighted average fair value		$ 11.10
First BancTrust Fair Value (rounded to nearest quarter)		$ 11.00

Liquidation Value. Howe Barnes also considered liquidation value as a methodology but did not believe that it was relevant in this situation. In a liquidation process, First BancTrust's assets and liabilities would possibly be sold at prices varying from their current book value, requiring a significant number of variables for which estimates must be made. Furthermore, First BancTrust would incur legal fees, sales costs and other expenses as a result of the liquidation process. Therefore, in Howe Barnes' opinion, the liquidation value of First BancTrust would be significantly lower than its value as a going concern.

The board of directors requested that Howe Barnes (i) provide its valuation of the common stock, and (ii) issue a fairness opinion on the price determined by the board of directors to be paid for shares of common stock in connection with the merger proposal. While Howe Barnes did provide a valuation, it did not recommend the amount of consideration to be paid in the going private transaction and the board was at all times free to adopt a price at, higher, or below the value determined by Howe Barnes. The board imposed no limitations upon Howe Barnes with respect to the investigations made or procedures followed in rendering the valuation or the fairness opinion. The board reviewed and considered Howe Barnes' analysis and has adopted it as its own. A copy of Howe Barnes' fairness opinion is attached to this proxy statement as Appendix C. You or your representative (designated in writing) may inspect and copy the valuation report at the bank's main office during regular business hours. You or your representative (designated in writing) may also receive a copy of the report upon written request and at your expense. Please send in your written request to the address set forth on the cover page of this proxy statement. Additional information or documentation may be requested from you if necessary to verify your identity or that of your representative or the authority of your representative.

The SEC also maintains a website that contains reports, proxy statements and other information about issuers, including First BancTrust, who file electronically with the SEC. The address of that site is <http://www.sec.gov>. First BancTrust has filed with the SEC a Rule 13e-3 Transaction Statement on Schedule 13E-3 in connection with the transactions described in this proxy statement. As permitted by the SEC, this proxy statement omits certain information contained in the Schedule 13E-3. A copy of the valuation report is attached as an exhibit to First BancTrust's Schedule 13E-3 and is available for inspection electronically at the SEC's website.

Howe Barnes is a national investment banking firm. First BancTrust selected Howe Barnes as an advisor based on the firm's reputation, its experience in investment banking, its extensive experience and knowledge of the bank and thrift market, its recognized expertise in the valuation of bank and thrift businesses, and its familiarity with First BancTrust. Howe Barnes, through its investment banking business, specializes in bank and thrift institutions and is regularly engaged in the valuation of such business and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, competitive biddings and other corporate transactions.

First BancTrust has paid Howe Barnes a valuation fee of $15,000 in connection with the delivery of its financial analysis and an additional fee of $20,000 upon receipt of the fairness opinion. First BancTrust has also agreed to reimburse Howe Barnes for certain reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with its engagement and to indemnify Howe Barnes and its affiliates and their respective directors, officers, employees, agents and controlling persons against certain expenses and liabilities, including liabilities under federal securities laws.

During the two years preceding the date of the opinion, Howe Barnes has not had a material relationship with First BancTrust where compensation was received or that it contemplates will be received after closing of the transaction other than the fees discussed above. In the ordinary course of business as a broker-dealer, Howe Barnes may from time to time, purchase securities from, and sell securities to, First BancTrust. As a market maker in securities, Howe Barnes may also actively trade the equity securities of First BancTrust for its own account and for the accounts of its customers and, accordingly, may at any time hold a long or short position in such securities.

Recommendation of our Board of Directors

Based on the factors described above and the considerations set forth immediately below, the board of directors of First BancTrust has determined that the merger proposal is in the best interests of, and fair to, the unaffiliated stockholders of First BancTrust that are cashed-out in the merger, as well as those remaining unaffiliated stockholders of First BancTrust. The board further determined that the merger consideration ($11.00 per share) payable to the unaffiliated stockholders who receive the cash in the merger is fair to those stockholders. Accordingly, the board of directors unanimously approved the merger proposal, and recommends that the stockholders vote in favor of the merger and the merger agreement.

In reaching its decision to approve the merger proposal and in making its recommendation, the First BancTrust board of directors considered a number of material factors, with each of them considered as positive or negative from a fairness standpoint.

Positive factors for all unaffiliated stockholders. The factors that the board considered positive for all the unaffiliated stockholders included:

the fact that the board retained and received advice from an independent financial advisor, Howe Barnes, in determining the fairness of the price of $11.00 per share;

the opinion of Howe Barnes Hofer & Arnett, Inc., dated June 6, 2008, that the $11.00 per share to be paid in the merger is fair, from a financial point of view, to the stockholders of First BancTrust; and the fact that dissenter's rights of appraisal would be available in connection with the transaction.

Positive factors for unaffiliated stockholders who receive cash in the merger. In addition to the positive factors applicable to all unaffiliated stockholders set forth above, the factors that the board considered positive for the unaffiliated stockholders who receive cash in the merger included:

the fact that the cash price per share of $11.00 offered in the merger represents a 22% premium over the pre-announcement last sales price of First BancTrust common stock on April 18, 2008 of $9.00;

the fact that the merger consideration is all cash, which provides certainty of value to those stockholders and immediate liquidity for the stockholders who receive cash in the merger; and the fact that no brokerage or other transaction costs are to be incurred by stockholders who receive cash in the merger.

Positive factors for remaining unaffiliated stockholders. In addition to the positive factors applicable to all unaffiliated stockholders set forth above, the factors that the board considered as positive for the unaffiliated stockholders who will remain stockholders following the merger included:

the fact that such stockholders would have the opportunity to participate in any future growth and earnings of First BancTrust;

the fact that such stockholders would not be required to pay income taxes as a result of the merger; and the fact that the remaining unaffiliated stockholders would realize the potential benefits of termination of registration of the common stock, including, reduced expenses of First BancTrust for no longer having to comply with SEC requirements.

Table of Contents

Negative factors for all unaffiliated stockholders. The factors that the board of directors considered negative for all the unaffiliated stockholders included:

the fact that the directors and executive officers of First BancTrust have interests in the merger or have relationships that present actual or potential, or the appearance of actual or potential, conflicts of interest in connection with the merger, including the fact that all of the directors and executive officers will retain their shares in the merger and their ownership interests will increase modestly; and

Negative factors for unaffiliated stockholders receiving cash in the merger. In addition to the negative factors applicable to all unaffiliated stockholders set forth above, the factors that the board considered negative for the unaffiliated stockholders who would receive cash in the merger included:

the fact that such stockholders would not have the opportunity to participate in any future growth and earnings of First BancTrust;

the fact that such stockholders would be required to pay income tax on the receipt of cash in the merger; and the fact that these stockholders will not be able to sell their shares at a time and for a price of their choosing.

Negative factors for remaining unaffiliated stockholders. In addition to the negative factors applicable to all stockholders set forth above, the factors that the board considered negative for the stockholders who will retain their shares in the merger, including all such unaffiliated stockholders, included:

the fact that after the completion of the merger and registration is terminated, such stockholders will have decreased access to information about First BancTrust;

the fact that after the completion of the merger, there will be approximately 258 fewer stockholders, which will reduce liquidity in First BancTrust's stock;

the fact that after the completion of the merger, First BancTrust will not be subject to the periodic reporting, proxy rules and Section 16 of the 1934 Act; and the merger may negatively affect the goodwill of certain of the Bank's customers.

While the board considered the negative factors described above, it concluded that the benefits of the positive factors outweighed the detriments of the negative factors and that the proposed transaction was fair and in the best interest of First BancTrust's unaffiliated stockholders being cashed-out, as well as those remaining unaffiliated stockholders.

The board did not consider any firm offers by third parties because there were none. Neither management nor the board made any efforts to identify a buyer because the board determined that consideration thereof was inappropriate in the context of a transaction that would not be intended to result in a change of control of First BancTrust. The board believed that it would be inappropriate to solicit such offers where no change of control was contemplated. The board did not consider other methods to significantly reduce its overhead expenses as an alternative to a going private transaction since only the going private transaction would result in First BancTrust and the bank continuing to conduct their operations in substantially the same manner as they currently conduct their operations, only without the costs associated with being a public company. See SPECIAL FACTORS Operations of the Bank Following the Merger.

The board did not consider and vote upon whether or not to, and as a result, did not, retain an unaffiliated representative to act solely on behalf of stockholders who are not directors or officers of First BancTrust or the bank for purposes of negotiating the terms of the merger transaction or preparing a report on the fairness of the transaction. Nor did First BancTrust structure the transaction so the approval of at least a majority of unaffiliated security holders is required. Stockholders who are expected to receive cash in the merger represent approximately 1.3% of the common stock. The merger requires approval by stockholders holding a majority of the outstanding stock. Directors and officers as a group have the right to vote approximately 12.3% of the outstanding shares of First BancTrust common stock. Because the shares held by directors and officers represent a small percentage of votes required to approve the transaction and because of the small percentage of stockholders receiving cash in the merger, the board concluded that having an unaffiliated representative to act solely on behalf of stockholders who are not directors or officers of First BancTrust and/or requiring a majority of unaffiliated stockholders to approve the transaction were unnecessary for this transaction.

Likewise, the board did not consider establishing a committee of independent directors to negotiate on behalf of the unaffiliated security holders. First BancTrust's board of directors consists of nine directors, only one of whom is an officer of First BancTrust. In view of the makeup of the board it was not deemed necessary to establish a committee of independent directors to negotiate on behalf of the unaffiliated security holders.

The foregoing discussion of the factors considered by the board of directors is not intended to be exhaustive. In view of the variety of factors considered in connection with their evaluation of the merger proposal, the board of directors did not find it practicable to, and did not quantify or otherwise assign relative weights to the specific factors considered in reaching its determination. The board considered all the factors as a whole in reaching its determination. In addition, individual members of the board of directors may have given different weights to different factors.

The board, based upon the factors outlined above, believes that the merger proposal is fair to all unaffiliated stockholders of First BancTrust being cashed-out, as well as those remaining unaffiliated stockholders.

Purposes and Reasons of FBT Merger Co. for the Merger Proposal

FBT Merger Co. was organized solely for the purpose of facilitating the merger transaction. As a result FBT Merger Co.'s purpose and reasons for engaging in the merger transaction are the same as those set forth in Purposes of and Reasons for the Merger Proposal.

Position of FBT Merger Co. as to the Fairness of the Merger

FBT Merger Co. has considered the analyses and findings of the First BancTrust board of directors with respect to the fairness of the merger proposal to the unaffiliated First BancTrust stockholders. As of the date hereof, FBT Merger Co. adopts the analyses and findings of the First BancTrust board of directors with respect to the merger, and believes that the merger is fair to the unaffiliated First BancTrust stockholders being cashed-out, as well as the remaining unaffiliated stockholders of First BancTrust. See Recommendation of our Board of Directors. The merger agreement has been approved by FBT Merger Co.'s board of directors and the sole stockholder of FBT Merger Co.

Interests of Certain Persons in the Merger

The officers and directors of First BancTrust and the bank who are also stockholders will participate in the merger in the same manner and to the same extent as all of the other stockholders of First BancTrust. However, all of the officers and directors of the Company own in excess of 250 shares and will, therefore, retain their shares in the merger, unlike many other stockholders who will be required to relinquish their interest in First BancTrust as a result of the merger. If the merger is completed, the respective ownership percentages of the directors and executive officers will increase modestly, as will the ownership interests of any other stockholder who retains his or her shares. As a result of the merger, the beneficial ownership interest of the directors and officers will increase from 21.8% to approximately 22.1%. See Security Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners and Management.

Except as set forth in the immediately preceding paragraph, the executive officers and directors of First BancTrust are not aware of any other benefits or additional compensation in connection with this transaction that will not be shared by First BancTrust's unaffiliated stockholders generally. The proposed transaction does not constitute a change of control for purposes of any existing employment agreement with the executive officers of First BancTrust. First BancTrust has not and does not anticipate entering into any new employment or other compensation agreements with its executive officers as a result of the proposed transaction. We understand that all of the directors of First BancTrust and the bank and all of the executive officers intend at this time to vote their shares in favor of the proposal to approve and adopt the merger and the merger agreement.

Certain Consequences of the Merger; Benefits and Detriments to Affiliated and Unaffiliated Stockholders

Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, following stockholder approval of the merger proposal and subject to the fulfillment or waiver of certain conditions, FBT Merger Co. will be merged with and into First BancTrust, and First BancTrust will continue as the surviving company in the merger. The merger will cause a reduction in the number of First BancTrust's stockholders from approximately 484 to approximately 226. Further, the merger will result in termination of the registration of the common stock with the SEC, which will eliminate the reporting and proxy solicitation obligations of First BancTrust pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

The shares that are acquired in the merger will be cancelled. Because all shares of common stock held by the stockholders, who, at the close of business on the date preceding the effective time of the merger, own fewer than 250 shares will be cancelled in the merger, stockholders who own these shares will cease to participate in future earnings or growth, if any, of First BancTrust or benefit from any increases, if any, in the value of First BancTrust or its stock, and they no longer will bear the risk of any decreases in value.

Distributions by the surviving First BancTrust after completion of the merger (other than any distribution for which the record date is a date prior to the date of completion of the merger) will be paid to the owners of First BancTrust and not to the stockholders who receive cash in the merger.

The merger will also provide unaffiliated stockholders who receive cash in the merger a cost-effective way to cash out their investments, because First BancTrust will pay all transaction costs in connection with the merger proposal.

Potential disadvantages to unaffiliated stockholders who remain as stockholders after the merger is completed and registration terminated include:

- the fact that after the completion of the merger, First BancTrust will not be subject to the periodic reporting, proxy rules, the liability provisions and Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act, and the provisions of Sarbanes-Oxley which, among other things, requires that the Company's officers certify the accuracy of its financial statements; and

- decreased liquidity, as a result of there being fewer stockholders.

Potential disadvantages to unaffiliated stockholders receiving cash in the merger include:

- the fact that such stockholders will be required to surrender their shares involuntarily in exchange for a price determined by the board and would not have the opportunity to participate in any future growth and earnings of the Company or to liquidate their shares at a time and price of their choosing; and

- the tax consequences described in Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger beginning on page below.

Operations of First BancTrust and the Bank Following the Merger

Following the merger, First BancTrust and the bank will continue to conduct their existing operations in the same manner as now conducted. The executive officers and directors immediately prior to the merger will be the executive officers and directors of First BancTrust immediately after the merger. First BancTrust and the bank's charter and by-laws will remain in effect and unchanged by the merger. The deposits of the bank will continue to be insured by the FDIC. The corporate existence of neither First BancTrust nor the bank will be affected by the merger. First BancTrust and the bank will continue to be regulated by the same agencies that regulated each entity before the merger.

Financing of the Merger

The funds necessary to acquire shares of common stock in the merger, approximately $305,000, are anticipated to come from an existing line of credit at the holding company. The Company anticipates that it and bank will be well-capitalized both before and after the merger.

Table of ContentsSource of Funds and Expenses

We estimate that approximately $305,000 will be required to pay for the shares of First BancTrust common stock exchanged for cash in the merger. We intend to finance the merger using existing capital. Additionally, First BancTrust will pay all of the expenses related to the merger. We estimate that these expenses will be as follows:

SEC filing fees	$ 12
Legal fees	$ 70,000
Accounting fees	$ 5,000
Financial Advisory Fees	$ 37,500
Printing costs	$ 23,000
Transfer Agent Fees	$ 5,600
Other	$ 1,000
Total	$ 142,112

Certain Terms of the Merger

The following is a summary of certain provisions of the merger agreement and certain matters relating to the merger. The merger agreement is attached as Appendix A to this proxy statement and is incorporated herein by reference. You are urged to read the merger agreement in its entirety and to consider it carefully.

Effective Time of the Merger

We are working to complete the merger during the third quarter of 2008 so that we will terminate our registration with the SEC by December 31, 2008. However, we cannot guarantee that the merger will be effective by the end of 2008.

The merger will become effective at the time (i) of the filing with and acceptance for record of the certificate of merger by the Delaware Secretary of State, or (ii) at such time as we specify in the certificate of merger. The certificate of merger will be filed as soon as practicable after the requisite approval of the merger proposal by the stockholders at the special meeting is obtained and the other conditions precedent to the consummation of the merger have been satisfied or waived. We cannot assure you that all conditions to the merger contained in the merger agreement will be satisfied or waived. See Conditions to Consummation of the Merger.

Conversion and Exchange of Stock Certificates

As soon as practicable after the merger is completed, we will mail to each stockholder receiving cash in the merger a letter of transmittal and instructions for surrendering their stock certificates. When these stockholders deliver their stock certificates to us along with the letter of transmittal and any other required documents, their stock certificates will be cancelled and they will be issued a check in the amount of $11.00 per share of common stock that is being cancelled in the merger.

When the merger is completed, the shares of common stock owned by each stockholder receiving cash in the merger will automatically be converted into cash without any further action on the stockholder's part. In order to receive the cash, however, such stockholders must deliver to First BancTrust their stock certificates along with a letter of transmittal and any other required documents. No service charge will be payable by stockholders in connection with the cash payments or otherwise; and all expenses will be borne by First BancTrust. A stockholder will not be entitled to any distributions that are declared after the merger is completed on any shares of common stock that are automatically converted into cash as a result of the merger, regardless of whether the stockholder has surrendered his or her stock certificates to us. Each stockholder will be entitled to distributions on his or her common stock declared prior to the date on which the merger is completed, even if it is not paid until after the merger is completed provided he or she held the common stock on the date of record for such distribution. Please Do Not Surrender Your Stock Certificates Until You Receive the Letter of Transmittal

Conditions to Consummation of the Merger

The boards of directors of First BancTrust and FBT Merger Co. have approved the merger agreement and authorized the consummation of the merger. Also, the sole stockholder of FBT Merger Co. has approved the merger. The completion of the merger depends upon a number of events, including:

- the approval of the merger and the merger agreement by the stockholders of First BancTrust;
- the filing of a certificate of merger with the Delaware Secretary of State; and
- the receipt of all regulatory approvals, if any. See Regulatory Requirements.

Amendment or Termination of the Merger Agreement

The merger agreement may be amended by mutual written agreement of our board of directors and board of directors of FBT Merger Co., generally without the necessity of further action by you. However, your approval is required for any modification or amendment that:

- changes the amount or kind of consideration that you will receive for your shares of common stock;
- changes any provision of First BancTrust's certificate of incorporation; or
- changes any of the terms of the merger agreement, if the change would adversely affect your rights as a stockholder.

No amendments or modifications to the merger agreement are presently contemplated. However, if there is any material amendment to the merger agreement before the special meeting, we will notify you and provide you with information relating to the amendments prior to the meeting.

The merger agreement may be terminated by the mutual consent in writing of First BancTrust and FBT Merger Co. at any time before the filing of a certificate of merger with the Delaware Secretary of State. At this time, the parties have no intention of terminating the merger agreement.

Regulatory Requirements

Except for the filing of the certificate of merger with the Delaware Secretary of State upon the approval of the merger by the First BancTrust stockholders, and compliance with federal and state securities laws, we are not aware of any material United States federal or state or foreign governmental regulatory requirement necessary to be complied with or approval that must be obtained in connection with the merger.

Dissenters' Rights

All of First BancTrust's stockholders have the right under Delaware law to demand appraisal of their shares and obtain cash in an amount equal to the fair value of their shares of First BancTrust common stock under the circumstances described below. If First BancTrust's stockholders fail to comply with the procedural requirements of Section 262 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, they will lose their right to demand appraisal and seek payment of the fair value of their shares.

The fair value that First BancTrust's stockholders obtain for their shares by dissenting is determined by the statutory requirements of Section 262 of the Delaware General Corporation Law. This fair value may be less than, equal to or greater than the value of the cash and First BancTrust common stock that a stockholder would be entitled to receive under the merger agreement.

The following is a summary of Section 262 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, which specifies the procedures applicable to stockholders demanding appraisal. This summary is not a complete statement of the law regarding the right to demand appraisal under Delaware law, and if you are considering demanding appraisal, we urge you to review the provisions of Section 262 carefully. The text of Section 262 is attached to this proxy statement as Appendix D, and we incorporate that text into this proxy statement-prospectus by reference.

To demand appraisal, you must satisfy each of the following conditions:

you must deliver a written demand for appraisal of your shares to First BancTrust before the vote on the adoption of the merger agreement at the special meeting;

Table of Contents

you must not vote in favor of the merger agreement (the return of a signed proxy that does not specify a vote against the merger agreement or a direction to abstain will be voted in favor of the merger agreement and constitute a waiver of your right of appraisal); and you must continuously hold your First BancTrust shares from the date of making the demand through the time the merger is completed.

If you fail to comply with any of these conditions and the merger becomes effective, you will be entitled to receive only the consideration provided in the merger agreement. Failure to vote on the merger agreement will not constitute a waiver of your appraisal rights. Voting against the merger agreement will not, by itself, satisfy the requirement of a written demand for appraisal.

A written demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs First BancTrust of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder intends to demand an appraisal of his or her shares. All written demands for appraisal should be addressed to: Ellen Litteral, Chief Financial Officer, First BancTrust Corporation, 101 South Central Avenue, Paris, Illinois 61944. The demands must be received before the vote at the special meeting concerning the merger agreement occurs, and should be executed by, or on behalf of, the holder of record. You may withdraw the demand for appraisal within a period of 60 days after the effective time.

To be effective, a demand for appraisal must be executed by or for the stockholder of record who holds the shares, fully and correctly, as the stockholder's name appears on his or her stock certificates. If First BancTrust shares are owned of record in a fiduciary capacity, as by a trustee, guardian or custodian, execution of a demand for appraisal should be made in that capacity. If First BancTrust shares are owned of record by more than one person, as in a joint tenancy or tenancy in common, the demand must be executed by or for all joint owners. An authorized agent, including one for two or more joint owners, may execute the demand for appraisal for a stockholder of record; however, the agent must identify the record owner or owners and expressly disclose the fact that, in executing the demand, he or she is acting as agent for the record owner. A record owner, such as a broker or trustee, who holds First BancTrust shares as a nominee for others may exercise his or her rights of appraisal with respect to the shares held for one or more beneficial owners, while not exercising such right for other beneficial owners. In that case, the written demand should set forth the number of shares as to which the record owner dissents. Where no number of shares is expressly mentioned, the demand will be presumed to cover all shares of First BancTrust shares in the name of that record owner.

At any time within the 60-day period after the effective time, a stockholder may withdraw his or her demand for appraisal. If he or she does so, that stockholder will be treated as having accepted the terms offered in the merger. After the permissive 60-day withdrawal period, a stockholder may withdraw an appraisal demand only with First BancTrust's consent.

Within 10 days after the merger, First BancTrust must give written notice that the merger has become effective to each holder of First BancTrust shares who filed a written demand for appraisal and who did not vote in favor of the merger agreement. Any stockholder entitled to appraisal rights may, within 20 days after the date of mailing of the notice, demand in writing from First BancTrust the appraisal of his or her First BancTrust shares. Within 120 days after the completion of the merger, either First BancTrust or any First BancTrust stockholder who has complied with Section 262 may file a petition in the Delaware Court of Chancery demanding a determination of the value of the First BancTrust shares held by all stockholders entitled to appraisal of their shares. First BancTrust does not presently intend to file such a petition. Because First BancTrust has no obligation to file such a petition, the failure of a stockholder to do so within the period specified could nullify the stockholder's previous written demand for appraisal.

If a petition for appraisal is duly filed by a stockholder and a copy is delivered to First BancTrust, First BancTrust will then be obligated within 20 days of receipt of the copy to provide the Court of Chancery with a duly verified list containing the names and addresses of all stockholders who have demanded an appraisal of their shares and with whom agreement as to the value of their shares has not been reached. After notice to these stockholders, the Court of Chancery is empowered to conduct a hearing to determine which stockholders are entitled to appraisal rights.

The Court of Chancery will then appraise the First BancTrust shares, determining their fair value exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the merger. When the value is determined, the Court will direct the payment by First BancTrust of this value, with interest thereon, simple or compound, if the Court so determines, to the stockholders entitled to receive this money.

Stockholders of First BancTrust who are considering seeking an appraisal should bear in mind that the fair value of their First BancTrust shares as determined under Section 262 could be more than, the same as or less than the merger consideration they are entitled to receive pursuant to the merger agreement if they do not seek appraisal of their shares.

Costs of the appraisal proceeding may be assessed against the stockholder by the court as the court deems equitable in the circumstances. From and after the effective date of the merger, no stockholder who has demanded appraisal rights shall be entitled to vote his or her stock for any purpose or to receive payment of dividends or other distributions (except dividends or other distributions payable to stockholders of record at a date which is prior to the effective date of the merger).

Failure to comply strictly with these procedures will cause you to lose your appraisal rights. Consequently, if you desire to exercise your appraisal rights, you are urged to consult a legal advisor before attempting to exercise these rights.

Except as provided in this proxy statement under the captions "Where You Can Find More Information" and "May I obtain a copy of Howe Barnes' valuation report", there have been no provisions established to grant unaffiliated security holders access to First BancTrust's corporate files or to obtain counsel or appraisal services at First BancTrust's expense.

Accounting Treatment

The accounting treatment of the merger will be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. For shares that are exchanged for cash, the line item captioned "Common Stock" on the stockholders' equity section of First BancTrust's balance sheet will be reduced by the par value of the shares exchanged and the line item "Additional Paid-in Capital" will be reduced by the excess of the purchase price over the par value. For shares that remain outstanding, there will be no accounting impact.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger

The following discussion summarizes the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger. The discussion is based upon the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, its legislative history, applicable Treasury regulations, existing administrative interpretations and court decisions currently in effect. Any of these authorities could be repealed, overruled or modified at any time after the date of this proxy statement, and any such change could be applied retroactively. This discussion does not address any tax consequences under state, local or foreign laws.

The discussion that follows neither binds the IRS nor precludes the IRS from adopting a position contrary to that expressed in this proxy statement, and we cannot assure you that such a contrary position could not be asserted successfully by the IRS or adopted by a court if the positions were litigated. First BancTrust does not intend to obtain a ruling from the IRS with respect to the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger. In addition, First BancTrust does not intend to obtain an opinion from tax counsel with respect to the federal income tax consequences of the merger.

This discussion assumes that you hold your shares of common stock as a capital asset within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Internal Revenue Code. This discussion does not address all aspects of federal income taxation that may be important to you in light of your particular circumstances or if you are subject to certain rules, such as those rules relating to:

stockholders who are not citizens or residents of the United States;

financial institutions;

Table of Contents

tax-exempt organizations and entities, including IRAs;

insurance companies;

dealers in securities; and stockholders who acquired their shares of common stock through the exercise of employee stock options or similar derivative securities or otherwise as compensation.

Tax Consequences to Stockholders Who Retain Their Shares.

If you are a stockholder who retains your shares of common stock in the merger and you do not receive any cash or property (including stock) as part of the merger, you will not recognize gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a result of the merger. The merger will not affect the adjusted tax basis or holding period of any shares of common stock that you continue to own following the merger.

Tax Consequences to Stockholders Who Receive Cash for their Shares.

If you are a stockholder who receives cash for your shares of common stock in the merger, you should be treated for federal income tax purposes as having had your shares redeemed by First BancTrust under Section 302 of the Internal Revenue Code. Unless the cash received is treated as a dividend under Section 301 of the Internal Revenue Code (as discussed below), you will recognize gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes with respect to the cash received for your shares of common stock. The gain or loss will be measured by the difference between the amount of cash received, $11.00 per share, and the adjusted tax basis of your shares of common stock. The gain or loss will be capital gain or loss and will be long-term capital gain or loss if you will have owned your shares of common stock for more than one year at the time the merger is completed.

Section 302 of the Internal Revenue Code provides that the cash distribution will not be treated as a dividend if the distribution is (i) not essentially equivalent to a dividend, (ii) substantially disproportionate with respect to the stockholder or (iii) completely terminates the stockholder's interest in our company. The constructive ownership rules of Section 318 of the Internal Revenue Code apply in comparing a stockholder's percentage interest in First BancTrust immediately before and immediately after the merger. Generally, the constructive ownership rules under Section 318 treat a stockholder as owning (i) shares of common stock owned by certain relatives, related corporations, partnership, estates or trusts, and (ii) shares of common stock the stockholder has an option to acquire. If you receive cash for your common stock in the merger and completely terminate your direct and constructive ownership interest in First BancTrust, you should recognize capital gain or loss as a result of the merger, and the cash distribution should not be treated as a dividend.

Tax Consequences to First BancTrust, FBT Merger Co. and the Bank.

Neither First BancTrust, FBT Merger Co. nor the bank will recognize gain or loss for U.S. income tax purposes as a result of the merger.

Backup Withholding.

Certain stockholders of First BancTrust may be subject to backup withholding on the cash payments received for their shares of common stock. Backup withholding will not apply, however, if you furnish to First BancTrust a correct taxpayer identification number and certify that you are not subject to backup withholding on the substitute Form W-9 or successor form included in the letter of transmittal to be delivered to you following the date of completion of the merger (foreigners should contact their tax advisers).

Backup withholding is not an additional tax but is credited against the federal income tax liability of the taxpayer subject to the withholding. If backup withholding results in an overpayment of a taxpayer's federal income taxes, that taxpayer may obtain a refund from the IRS.

This discussion is only intended to provide you with a general summary and is not intended to be a complete analysis or description of all potential U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger. In addition, this discussion does not address tax consequences that may vary with, or are contingent on, your individual circumstances. Moreover, this discussion does not address any non-income tax or any foreign, state or local tax consequences of the merger. Accordingly, you are strongly encouraged to consult with your own tax advisor to determine the particular U.S. federal, state, local or foreign income or other tax consequences of the merger that are applicable to you.

Pro Forma Effect of the Merger

The following selected pro forma financial data illustrates the pro forma effect of the transactions contemplated by the merger on First BancTrust's financial statements as of and for the three months ended March 31, 2008 and as of and for the year ended December 31, 2007. Please see Pro Forma Financial Information for the complete pro forma financial information relating to this transaction.

Termination of Securities Exchange Act Registration

First BancTrust's common stock is currently registered under the Securities Exchange Act and quoted on the Nasdaq Stock Market. We will be permitted to terminate our registration if there are fewer than 300 record holders of outstanding shares of First BancTrust common stock. Upon the completion of the merger, First BancTrust will have approximately 226 stockholders of record. We intend to apply for termination of the registration of First BancTrust's common stock under the Securities Exchange Act as promptly as possible after the effective date of the merger.

Termination of registration under the Securities Exchange Act will substantially reduce the information required to be furnished by First BancTrust to its stockholders and to the Securities and Exchange Commission. After termination of registration with the SEC, First BancTrust will no longer be required to file periodic reports under Section 13 of the Securities Exchange Act like the Annual Report on Form 10-K, the Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, and Current Reports on Form 8-K. In addition, other provisions of the Securities Exchange Act, such as the short-swing profit provisions of Section 16 and the requirement of furnishing a proxy or information statement in connection with stockholder meetings under Section 14(a) would cease to apply to the Company 90 days after it files the required Form 15 suspending its reporting obligations under the Securities Exchange Act. The requirements of Rule 13e-3 regarding going private transactions, will also no longer apply to First BancTrust.

Table of Contents

We estimate that termination of the registration of First BancTrust common stock under the Securities Exchange Act will save First BancTrust approximately $173,700 per year in legal, accounting, printing, direct internal compliance costs and other expenses per year.

AMENDMENT PROPOSAL

First BancTrust's Board of Directors has unanimously approved, and recommends that stockholders vote for the proposal to approve the Amendment. The following discussion summarizes the material change to First BancTrust's existing certificate of incorporation that would be effected by the approval and adoption of this proposal. This summary is qualified in its entirety by reference to the text of new Article 14, which is included as Appendix B to this proxy statement.

Proposed Article 14 would limit the size of First BancTrust's stockholder base by not allowing certain transfers of shares that would result in a stockholder holding fewer than 250 shares unless First BancTrust consented to the transfer. First BancTrust's consent will be deemed to have been given if a transfer of stock is recorded on First BancTrust's stock records. The transfer prohibition may be enforced only to the extent allowed by law. As a result of this change, stockholders of First BancTrust following the filing of the amendment may not be able to transfer shares of common stock if, following the transfer, either the transferring or the receiving stockholder would own of record fewer than 250 shares of common stock. The proposed amendment would not generally limit transfers to or among street name accounts, as shares held for beneficial owners by banks or brokers are typically held of record by a depository nominee which is the holder of record of more than 250 shares.

The board of directors unanimously recommends that the stockholders vote FOR the approval and adoption of the Amendment Proposal.

INFORMATION REGARDING THE SPECIAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS

Time and Place of Meeting

We are soliciting proxies through this proxy statement for use at a special meeting of First BancTrust stockholders. The special meeting will be held at _____ on _____, 2008, at First Bank & Trust's Main Office at 101 South Central Avenue, Paris, Illinois 61944.

Record Date and Mailing Date

The close of business on _____, 2008, is the record date for the determination of stockholders entitled to notice of and to vote at the special meeting. We first mailed the proxy statement and the accompanying form of proxy to stockholders on or about _____, 2008.

Number of Shares Outstanding

As of the close of business on the record date, First BancTrust had 5,000,000 shares of common stock, $0.01 par value, authorized of which 2,185,839 common shares were issued and outstanding. Each outstanding share of common stock is entitled to one vote on all matters presented at the meeting.

Purpose of Special Meeting

The purposes of the special meeting are:

1. To consider and act upon a proposal to approve the merger of FBT Merger Co., a wholly-owned subsidiary of First BancTrust, with and into First BancTrust as contemplated by the merger agreement attached as Appendix A to the enclosed proxy statement. Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, (a) each share of First BancTrust common stock owned of record at the close of business on the date preceding the effective time of the merger, by a holder of fewer than 250 shares of common stock, will be converted into, and will represent the right to receive from First BancTrust $11.00 cash per share; and (b) each share of First BancTrust common stock owned of record at the close of business on the date preceding the effective time of the merger, by a holder of 250 or more shares of common stock will continue to represent one share of First BancTrust common stock after the merger.

2. To consider and act upon a proposal to amend First BancTrust's certificate of incorporation that would prohibit certain transfers of the surviving corporation's stock if, as a result of the transfer, any stockholder would own of record fewer than 250 shares of the surviving corporation. The amendment is contingent on stockholder approval of the merger agreement.

3. To consider and act upon a proposal to adjourn or postpone the meeting, if necessary, in the event that an insufficient number of shares is present in person or by proxy to approve and adopt the merger agreement and approve the transactions it contemplates.

4. To transact any other business as may properly come before the meeting or any adjournments of the meeting.

Voting at the Special Meeting

The merger and the amendment must be approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote at the special meeting. On _____, 2008, First BancTrust's directors and executive officers owned, directly or indirectly, 267,965, representing approximately 12.3%, of the approximately 2,185,839 outstanding shares of common stock as of that date. Each of the directors and executive officers has indicated that he or she intends to vote his or her shares in favor of the proposed merger.

Dissenters' Rights

Applicable Delaware laws entitle stockholders of First BancTrust to dissent from the merger. See Description of the Merger-Dissenters' Rights.

Procedures for Voting by Proxy

If you properly sign, return and do not revoke your proxy, the persons appointed as proxies will vote your shares according to the instructions you have specified on the proxy. If you sign and return your proxy but do not specify how the persons appointed as proxies are to vote your shares, your proxy will be voted FOR the approval of each of the proposals and in the best judgment of the persons appointed as proxies on all other matters properly brought before the special meeting on all matters which were unknown to us a reasonable time before the solicitation.

You can revoke your proxy at any time before it is voted by delivering to Ellen Litteral, Chief Financial Officer, 101 South Central Avenue, Paris, Illinois 61944, either a written revocation of the proxy or a duly signed proxy bearing a later date or by attending the special meeting and voting in person.

Requirements for Stockholder Approval

A quorum will be present at the meeting if a majority of the shares of First BancTrust common stock entitled to vote are represented in person or by valid proxy. We will count abstentions and broker non-votes, which are described below, in determining whether a quorum exists. Approval of the merger and the amendment require the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares of First BancTrust entitled to vote on Proposals 1 and 2. Any other matter that may properly come before the special meeting requires that more shares be voted in favor of the matter than are voted against the matter. We will count abstentions and broker non-votes in determining the minimum number of votes required for approval.

Based on the 2,185,839 shares outstanding as of the record date, a quorum will consist of 1,092,920 shares represented either in person or by proxy. Based on the 2,185,839 shares outstanding as of the record date, the minimum number of votes required to be cast in favor of the proposals in order to approve the merger and amendment is 1,092,920.

Abstentions. A stockholder who is present in person or by proxy at the special meeting and who abstains from voting on any proposal will be included in the number of stockholders present at the special meeting for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum. Abstentions do not count as votes in favor of or against a given matter. Since Proposals 1 and 2 must be approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares entitled to vote, an abstention has the effect of a vote against the proposals.

Broker Non-Votes. Brokers who hold shares for the accounts of their clients may vote these shares either as directed by their clients or in their own discretion if permitted by the exchange or other organization of which they are members. Proxies that contain no voting instructions by the broker on a particular matter are referred to as broker non-votes with respect to the proposals not voted upon. Broker non-votes are included in determining the presence of a quorum. A broker non-vote, however, does not count as a vote in favor of or against a particular proposal for which the broker has no discretionary voting authority. Since Proposals 1 and 2 must be approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares entitled to vote, a broker non-vote has the effect of a vote against the proposals.

Solicitation of Proxies

Proxies are being solicited by our board of directors, and First BancTrust will pay the cost of the proxy solicitation. Our directors, officers and employees may, without additional compensation, solicit proxies by personal interview, telephone, or fax. We will direct brokerage firms or other custodians, nominees or fiduciaries to forward our proxy solicitation material to the beneficial owners of common stock held of record by these institutions and will reimburse them for the reasonable out-of-pocket expenses they incur in connection with this process. In addition, depending upon the timeliness of the receipt of proxies, First BancTrust may engage Georgeson Inc. to advise and assist it with the solicitation, distribution, processing and collection of proxies at an anticipated cost of $5,000, plus reasonable out-of-pocket expenses.

Authority to Adjourn Special Meeting to Solicit Additional Proxies

On the proxy card for the special meeting, First BancTrust is asking you to grant full authority for the special meeting to be postponed or adjourned, if necessary, to permit solicitation of additional proxies to approve the transactions proposed by this proxy statement.

INFORMATION ABOUT FIRST BANCTRUST AND ITS AFFILIATES

General

First BancTrust Corporation (First BancTrust) was incorporated in November 2000 for the purpose of owning First Bank & Trust (the bank). First BancTrust 's executive offices are located at 101 South Central Avenue, Paris, Illinois 62711, and its telephone number is 217-465-6381.

The bank was originally founded in 1887 as an Illinois mutual savings and loan. The bank provides a full range of retail and commercial banking services designed to meet the borrowing and depository needs of small and medium sized businesses and consumers in local areas. Substantially all of the bank 's loans are to customers located within its service area. The primary service area of the bank consists of Clark, Champaign and Edgar counties located in east central Illinois.

The bank 's principal business consists of attracting retail deposits from the general public and investing those funds primarily in one-to-four family mortgages, commercial real estate, agriculture real estate, commercial and industrial, agricultural production finance, consumer, and other loans. The bank 's revenues are derived principally from interest on loans, investment securities and overnight deposits, as well as fees and charges on deposit accounts.

The bank offers a variety of deposit accounts having a wide range of interest rates and terms, which generally include passbook and statement savings accounts, money market deposit accounts, NOW and non-interest bearing checking accounts and certificates of deposit. At March 31, 2008, the bank had assets of $339.9 million, liabilities of $312.8 million and stockholders' equity of $27.1 million.

As of [Record Date], there were approximately 484 common stockholders of record, not including beneficial owners whose shares may be registered in street name.

After the merger, First BancTrust will not be required to file reports under the Securities Exchange Act, and its common stock will not be registered under the Securities Exchange Act. First BancTrust anticipates that its stock will continue to be quoted in the over-the-counter market on the OTC Bulletin Board and in the Pink Sheets. The Pink Sheets is a centralized quotation service that collects and publishes market maker quotes in real time primarily through its website, Pinksheets.com, which provides stock and bond price quotes, financial news and information about securities traded. Morgan Keegan and Howe Barnes have agreed to continue to use their best efforts to make a market in the shares of common stock as long as the volume of trading and certain other market making considerations justify such activity.

Description of Common Stock

First BancTrust is authorized to issue 5,000,000 shares of common stock, $0.01 par value. The authorized but unissued and unreserved shares of common stock are available for general corporate purposes, including, but not limited to, possible issuance as stock dividends, in connection with mergers or acquisitions, under a cash dividend reinvestment or stock purchase plan, in a public or private offering or under employee benefit plans.

Voting Rights. Each share of the common stock has the same relative rights and is identical in all respects with every other share of the common stock. The holders of the common stock possess exclusive voting rights in First BancTrust.

Except as provided below, each holder of common stock is entitled to one vote for each share held of record on all matters submitted to a vote of holders of the common stock.

Dividends. First BancTrust has consistently issued dividends to the holders of the common stock, who are and will continue to be entitled to share equally in any such dividends. For additional information as to dividends, see Dividend Policy below.

Liquidation. In the unlikely event of the complete liquidation or dissolution of First BancTrust, holders of the common stock would be entitled to receive all assets of First BancTrust available for distribution in cash or in kind, after payment or provision for payment of (i) all debts and liabilities of First BancTrust; (ii) any accrued dividend classes; (iii) liquidation preferences upon any preferred stock and other serial preferred stock which may be issued in the future; and (iv) any interest in the liquidation account.

Other Characteristics. Holders of the common stock do not have preemptive rights with respect to any additional shares of common stock which may be issued. Therefore, the board of directors may sell shares of common stock of First BancTrust without first offering such shares to existing stockholders. The common stock is not subject to call for redemption, and the outstanding shares of common stock when issued and upon receipt by First BancTrust of the full purchase price therefor are fully paid and nonassessable.

Transfer Agent and Registrar. The transfer agent and registrar for the common stock is Illinois Stock Transfer Company, Chicago, Illinois.

Dividend Policy

Future dividend payments may be made at the discretion of First BancTrust's board of directors, considering factors such as operating results, financial condition, regulatory restrictions, tax consequences, and other relevant factors.

PRO FORMA CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL INFORMATION
(In thousands except per share data)

The following unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated balance sheet as of March 31, 2008 (the Pro Forma Balance Sheet), and the unaudited pro forma consolidated statements of earnings for the year ended December 31, 2007 and three month period ended March 31, 2008 (the Pro Forma Earnings Statement), show the pro forma effect of the merger. Pro forma adjustments to the Pro Forma Balance Sheet are computed as if the merger occurred at January 1, 2008, while the pro forma adjustments to the Pro Forma Earnings Statements are computed as if the merger was consummated on January 1, 2007, the earliest period presented. The pro forma information does not purport to represent what First BancTrust's results of operations actually would have been if the merger had occurred on January 1, 2007.

Pro Forma Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited)

The following unaudited pro forma consolidated balance sheet as of March 31, 2008 and the unaudited pro forma consolidated income statements for the year ended December 31, 2007, and the three months ended March 31, 2008, give effect to the following:

We have assumed that the merger occurred as of March 31, 2008, for the purposes of the consolidated balance sheet, and as of January 1, 2007 and January 1, 2008, respectively, with respect to the consolidated income statements for the year ended December 31, 2007, and the three months ended March 31, 2008.

We have assumed that a total of 27,779 shares are cashed out in the merger at a price of $11.00 per share for a total of $305,569.

We have assumed that all cash required to consummate the merger will be borrowed on an existing line of credit at the corporate level.

We have adjusted for anticipated cost savings, estimated to be approximately $173,700 for the year ended December 31, 2007 and $43,425 for the three months ended March 31, 2008. The applicable incremental federal income tax rate is assumed to be 34%. This is an estimate of the actual cost incurred in these periods for legal, accounting, internal and other costs associated with the filing requirements under the Securities Exchange Act. This adjustment is not a prediction of future results. Management estimates that costs associated with being a filing company under the Securities Exchange Act will be higher in later periods.

APPENDIX A

Agreement and Plan of Merger Between
First BancTrust Corporation
and FBT Merger Co.

AGREEMENT AND PLAN OF MERGER (this Merger Agreement), dated as of April 21, 2008, by and between FBT Merger Co., a Delaware corporation (Merger Co.), and First BancTrust Corporation, a Delaware corporation (First BancTrust).

WHEREAS, the respective Boards of Directors of Merger Co. and First BancTrust have determined that it is in the best interests of their respective corporations and their stockholders to consummate a merger in which Merger Co. will merge with and into First BancTrust (the Merger), so that First BancTrust is the surviving corporation (hereinafter sometimes called the Surviving Corporation) in the Merger;

NOW, THEREFORE, in order to prescribe (a) the terms and conditions of the Merger, (b) the mode of carrying the same into effect, and (c) the manner and basis of converting the shares of the constituent corporations into cash, shares or obligations of the Surviving Corporation, the parties agree as follows:

ARTICLE I

THE MERGER

1.1 The Merger. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Merger Agreement, and in accordance with the Delaware General Corporation Law (the DGCL), at the Effective Time (as defined in Section 1.2), Merger Co. shall merge with and into First BancTrust and First BancTrust shall survive the Merger and shall continue its corporate existence under the laws of the State of Delaware. Upon consummation of the Merger, the separate corporate existence of Merger Co. shall terminate and the name of the Surviving Corporation shall be First BancTrust Corporation.

1.2 Effective Time. As soon as is reasonably practicable after the date hereof, after approval of this Merger Agreement by the stockholders of the constituent corporations and after the receipt of all required regulatory approvals and the expiration of any statutory waiting periods, a Certificate of Merger meeting the requirements of Section 251 of the DGCL shall be transmitted to the Delaware Secretary of State for filing. The Merger shall become effective (the Effective Time) when the Certificate of Merger has been filed with the Delaware Secretary of State.

1.3 Effects of the Merger. At and after the Effective Time, the Merger shall have the effects set forth in the DGCL.

1.4 Treatment of First BancTrust Common Stock; Conversion of Merger Co. Common Stock.

(a) At the Effective Time, by virtue of the Merger and without any action on the part of any holder of any shares of First BancTrust common stock, $0.01 par value per share (each a First BancTrust Share), the following shall occur:

(i) Each issued and outstanding First BancTrust Share owned of record by a Qualified Holder (as hereinafter defined) shall remain issued and outstanding as a share of common stock of First BancTrust as the Surviving Corporation.

(ii) Each issued and outstanding First BancTrust Share owned of record by a Cashed-Out Holder (as hereinafter defined) shall be converted into the right to receive cash from First BancTrust as the Surviving Corporation in the amount of $11.00 per First BancTrust Share (the Cash Merger Consideration) and thereafter Cashed-Out Holders shall cease to have any rights as shareholders of First BancTrust as the Surviving Corporation except such rights, if any, as they may have pursuant to the DGCL, and, except as aforesaid, their sole right shall be the right to receive the Cash Merger Consideration as aforesaid, without interest thereon, upon surrender to First BancTrust as the Surviving Corporation of their certificates which theretofore represented First BancTrust Shares.

(iii) Each First BancTrust Share issued but held in the treasury of First BancTrust shall be cancelled and shall cease to be an issued First BancTrust Share.

(b) At the Effective Time, by virtue of the Merger and without any action on the part of the holder of any issued and outstanding share of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of Merger Co. (each a Merger Co. Share) shall be converted into the right to receive cash from First BancTrust as the Surviving Corporation in the amount of $0.01 per share, and the holders of certificates representing such Merger Co. Shares shall cease to have any rights as shareholders of Merger Co., or First BancTrust as the Surviving Corporation, except such rights, if any, as they may have pursuant to the DGCL, and, except as aforesaid, their sole right shall be the right to receive cash as aforesaid, without interest, upon surrender to First BancTrust as the Surviving Corporation of their certificates which theretofore represented Merger Co. Shares.

(c) In no event shall any Holder holding, of record, as of the close of business on the day immediately preceding the Effective Time, Two Hundred Fifty (250) or more First BancTrust Shares in the aggregate be entitled to receive Cash Merger Consideration with respect to the First BancTrust Shares so held. It shall be a condition precedent to the right of any Holder to receive Cash Merger Consideration, if any, payable with respect to the First BancTrust Shares held by such Holder, that such Holder certify to First BancTrust in the letter of transmittal delivered by First BancTrust that such Holder held of record as of the close of business on the day immediately preceding the Effective Time fewer than Two Hundred Fifty (250) First BancTrust Shares in the aggregate.

1.5 Certain Definitions.

(a) The term Qualified Holder shall mean a Holder of First BancTrust Shares who holds of record as of the close of business on the day immediately preceding the Effective Time Two Hundred Fifty (250) or more First BancTrust Shares.

(b) The term Cashed-Out Holder shall mean a Holder of First BancTrust Shares who is not a Qualified Holder.

(c) The term Holder shall mean any record holder or holders of First BancTrust Shares who would be deemed, under Rule 12g5-1 promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, to be a single person for purposes of determining the number of record shareholders of First BancTrust.

1.6 Resolution of Issues. First BancTrust (along with any other person or entity to which it may delegate or assign any responsibility or task with respect thereto) shall have full discretion and exclusive authority (subject to its right and power to so delegate or assign such authority) to (i) make such inquiries, whether of any First BancTrust shareholder(s) or otherwise, as it may deem appropriate for purposes of this Article I and (ii) resolve and determine in its sole discretion, all ambiguities, questions of fact and interpretive and other matters relating to this Article I, including, without limitation, any questions as to the number of First BancTrust Shares held by any Holder immediately prior to the Effective Time. All determinations by First BancTrust under this Article I shall be final and binding on all parties, and no person or entity shall have any recourse against First BancTrust or any other person or entity with respect thereto.

For purposes of this Article I, First BancTrust may in its sole discretion, but shall not have any obligation to do so, (i) presume that any First BancTrust Shares held in a discrete account are held by a person distinct from any other person, notwithstanding that the registered Holder of a separate discrete account has the same or a similar name as the Holder of a separate discrete account; and (ii) aggregate the First BancTrust Shares held by any person or persons that First BancTrust determines to constitute a single Holder for purposes of determining the number of First BancTrust Shares held by such Holder.

1.7 Certificate of Incorporation. The Certificate of Incorporation of First BancTrust in effect as of the Effective Time shall be amended as of the Effective Time by adding Article 14 as set forth in Exhibit A hereto. Such Certificate of Incorporation, as amended, shall thereafter be the Certificate of Incorporation of the Surviving Corporation until thereafter amended in accordance with applicable law.

1.8 Bylaws. The Bylaws of First BancTrust in effect as of the Effective Time shall be the Bylaws of the Surviving Corporation after the Merger until thereafter amended in accordance with applicable law.

1.9 Board of Directors of Surviving Corporation. The directors of First BancTrust immediately prior to the Effective Time shall be, from and after the Effective Time, the directors of the Surviving Corporation until their respective successors shall have been elected or appointed and qualified or until their earlier death, resignation or removal in accordance with the Surviving Corporation's Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws.

1.10 Officers. The officers of First BancTrust immediately prior to the Effective Time shall be, from and after the Effective Time, the officers of the Surviving Corporation until their respective successors have been duly elected or appointed and qualified or until their earlier death, resignation or removal in accordance with the Surviving Corporation's Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws.

1.11 Stockholders Meeting. First BancTrust shall call a special meeting of its stockholders for the purpose of approving this Merger Agreement to be held as soon as reasonably practicable after the date hereof.

ARTICLE II

STOCK CERTIFICATES

2.1 Certificates Held by Qualified Holders. From and after the Effective Time, certificates representing First BancTrust Shares held by a Qualified Holder shall be deemed to evidence the same number of shares of the common stock of First BancTrust as the Surviving Corporation which they theretofore represented.

2.2 Certificates Held by Cashed-Out Holders. Until presented to First BancTrust as the Surviving Corporation, certificates which theretofore represented First BancTrust Shares held by a Cashed-Out Holder shall only evidence the right to receive the Cash Merger Consideration as hereinabove provided. Upon presentation to First BancTrust as the Surviving Corporation of certificates which theretofore represented First BancTrust Shares held by a Cashed-Out Holder, Cash Merger Consideration shall be paid in an amount to which a Cashed-Out Holder shall be entitled pursuant to Article I of this Merger Agreement. No interest shall be payable on any Cash Merger Consideration distributable pursuant to this Merger Agreement.

2.3 Merger Co. Certificates. Until presented to First BancTrust as the Surviving Corporation, certificates which theretofore represented Merger Co. Shares shall evidence only the right to receive the cash as hereinabove provided. Upon presentation to First BancTrust as the Surviving Corporation of certificates which theretofore represented Merger Co. Shares, cash shall be paid in the amount which such holder of Merger Co. Shares shall be entitled pursuant to Article I of this Merger Agreement. No interest shall be payable on any cash distributable pursuant to this Merger Agreement.

ARTICLE III

GENERAL PROVISIONS

3.1 Termination. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the board of directors of Merger Co. or the board of directors of First BancTrust at any time prior to the filing of the Certificate of Merger with the Delaware Secretary of State may terminate this Merger Agreement and this Merger Agreement shall be automatically terminated if the stockholder approval contemplated by Section 1.12 hereof has not been obtained, or if Merger has not been completed, in each case, by March 15, 2009. If terminated as provided in this Section 3.1, this Merger Agreement shall forthwith become wholly void and of no further force and effect.

Table of Contents

3.2 Counterparts. This Merger Agreement may be executed in counterparts, all of which shall be considered one and the same agreement and shall become effective when counterparts have been signed by each of the parties and delivered to the other parties, it being understood that all parties need not sign the same counterpart.

3.3 Governing Law. This Merger Agreement and the exhibits attached hereto shall be governed and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware without regard to any applicable conflicts of law.

3.4 Amendment. Subject to compliance with applicable law, this Merger Agreement may be amended by the parties hereto, by action taken or authorized by their respective boards of directors, at any time before or after approval of the matters presented in connection with the Merger by the stockholders of Merger Co. or First BancTrust; provided, however, that after any approval of the transactions contemplated by this Merger Agreement by the respective stockholders of Merger Co. or First BancTrust, there may not be, without further approval of such stockholders, any amendment of this Merger Agreement which (i) further alters or changes the amount or the form of the consideration to be delivered to the holders of Merger Co. Shares or First BancTrust Shares hereunder other than as contemplated by this Merger Agreement, (ii) alters or changes any term of the Certificate of Incorporation of the Surviving Corporation, or (iii) adversely affects the holder of any class or series of stock of any of the constituent corporations. This Merger Agreement may not be amended except by an instrument in writing signed on behalf of each of the parties hereto.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, Merger Co. and First BancTrust have caused this Merger Agreement to be executed by their respective duly authorized officers as of the date first above written.

Article 14. Transfer of Shares

No stockholder may transfer shares of common stock without the consent of the Corporation if, as a result of such attempted transfer, any person would own of record fewer than 250 shares of common stock. This restriction may be noted conspicuously on stock certificates issued or transferred after the effective date of the amendment adding this Article 14 to the Certificate of Incorporation. For purposes of this Article 14, transfer means any type of disposition, including but not limited to a sale, gift, contribution, pledge or other action that would result in a change of the record ownership of any share of common stock. It is the intent of the stockholders that this restriction on transfer will be enforced to the full extent, but only to the extent, it is enforceable against stockholders under the laws of the State of Delaware. The Corporation may determine issues relating to a proposed transfer in its discretion, including without limitation whether the transfer would or would not be in violation of this Article 14 and whether the restrictions of this Article 14 may or may not be enforced against a holder requesting a transfer of shares. The recording of a transfer on the stock records of the Corporation shall be conclusive evidence that the Corporation has consented to the transfer, if required under this Article 14, and any transfer of shares recorded on the stock records of the Corporation will be valid for all purposes.

Board of Directors
First BancTrust Corporation
101 South Central Avenue
P.O. Box 880
Paris, IL 61944

Members of the Board:

You have requested our opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to holders of the outstanding shares of common stock of First BancTrust Corporation (First BancTrust) of the cash consideration to be paid to certain holders of First BancTrust s common stock in connection with the proposed Stockholder Reduction Transaction (the Transaction) pursuant to and in accordance with the terms more fully set forth in the draft Proxy Statement for Special Meeting of Stockholders of First BancTrust (the Proxy Statement) provided to us.

You have advised us that, as set forth in the Proxy Statement, First BancTrust will engage in a cash-out merger. In connection with such cash-out mergers, and as permitted under applicable law, each record stockholder holding fewer than 250 shares of First BancTrust common stock on the date preceding the effective time of the merger will receive $11.00 cash (Redemption Price) per share from First BancTrust. Stockholders holding 250 or more shares on the date preceding the effective time of the cash-out merger will continue to hold the same number of shares after the cash-out merger and will not receive any cash payment from First BancTrust

For purposes of this opinion and in connection with our analysis of the Transaction, we have reviewed, among other things:

1. The recent operating history and nature of First BancTrust s business;
2. The terms of the Merger Agreement;
3. Certain publicly available financial statements, both audited (where available) and un-audited, and other historical financial information of First BancTrust;
4. First BancTrust s Annual Report for the year ended December 31, 2007;
5. First BancTrust s interim financial statements for the quarter ended March 31, 2008;
6. Discussions with senior management of First BancTrust regarding First BancTrust s business and future prospects;
7. Financial projections for First BancTrust for the years ending December 31, 2008 through 2012 as provided by and reviewed with senior management;
8. The publicly reported historical price and trading activity for First BancTrust s common stock, including a comparison of certain financial and stock market information for First BancTrust with similar publicly available information for certain other companies, the common stock of which are publicly traded; and

9. Such other information and performed such other studies and analyses as Howe Barnes considered relevant.

In giving our opinion, we have assumed and relied, without independent verification, upon the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial and other information that has been provided to us by First BancTrust and their respective representatives, and of the publicly available information that was reviewed by us. We are not experts in the evaluation of allowances for loan losses and have not independently verified such allowances, and have relied on and assumed that the aggregate allowances for loan losses set forth in the balance sheet of First BancTrust at December 31, 2007 are adequate to cover such losses and complied fully with applicable law, regulatory policy and sound banking practice as of the date of such financial statements. We were not retained to and we did not conduct a physical inspection of any of the properties or facilities of First BancTrust, did not make any independent evaluation or appraisal of the assets, liabilities or prospects of First BancTrust, were not furnished with any such evaluation or appraisal, and did not review any individual credit files. Our opinion is necessarily based on economic, market, and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to us as of, the date hereof.

Howe Barnes Hoefler & Arnett, Inc. (Howe Barnes), as part of its investment banking business, is regularly engaged in the valuation of banks and bank holding companies, thrifts and thrift holding companies, and various other financial services companies, in connection with mergers and acquisitions, initial and secondary offerings of securities, and valuations for other purposes. In rendering this fairness opinion, we have acted on behalf of the Board of Directors of First BancTrust and will receive a fee for our services; a portion of our fee was received after rendering our financial analysis and a portion is payable upon delivery of this opinion.

Howe Barnes' opinion as expressed herein is limited to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the Redemption Price to be paid to certain stockholders of First BancTrust in the Transaction and does not address First BancTrust's underlying business decision to proceed with the Transaction. We have been retained on behalf of the Board of Directors of First BancTrust, and our opinion does not constitute a recommendation to any director of First BancTrust as to how such director should vote with respect to the Transaction. In rendering this opinion, we express no opinions with respect to the amount or nature of any compensation to any officers, directors, or employees of First BancTrust, or any class of such persons relative to the consideration to be received by the holders of the common stock of First BancTrust in the Transaction or with respect to the fairness of any such compensation.

Except as provided above, during the two years preceding the date of the opinion, Howe Barnes had not had a material relationship with First BancTrust where compensation was received or that it contemplates will be received after closing of the transaction. In the ordinary course of business as a broker-dealer, Howe Barnes may from time to time, purchase securities from, and sell securities to, First BancTrust. As a market maker in securities, Howe Barnes may also actively trade the equity securities of First BancTrust for its own account and for the accounts of its customers and, accordingly, may at any time hold a long or short position in such securities.

Except as hereinafter provided, this opinion may not be disclosed, communicated, reproduced, disseminated, quoted or referred to at any time, to any third party or in any manner or for any purpose whatsoever without our prior written consent, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld, based upon review by us of the content of any such public reference, which shall be satisfactory to us in our reasonable judgment. This letter is addressed and directed to the Board of Directors of First BancTrust in your consideration of the Transaction and is not intended to be and does not constitute a recommendation to any stockholder as to how such stockholder should vote with respect to the Transaction. The opinion herein expressed is intended solely for the benefit of the Board of Directors in connection with the matters addressed herein and may not be relied upon by any other person or entity, or for any other purpose without our written consent. This opinion was approved by the fairness opinion committee of Howe Barnes.

Subject to the foregoing and based on our experience as investment bankers, our activities as described above, and other factors we have deemed relevant, we are of the opinion as of the date hereof that the Redemption Price for

APPENDIX D

SECTION 262 OF THE DELAWARE GENERAL CORPORATION LAW

§ 262. Appraisal rights.

(a) Any stockholder of a corporation of this State who holds shares of stock on the date of the making of a demand pursuant to subsection (d) of this section with respect to such shares, who continuously holds such shares through the effective date of the merger or consolidation, who has otherwise complied with subsection (d) of this section and who has neither voted in favor of the merger or consolidation nor consented thereto in writing pursuant to § 228 of this title shall be entitled to an appraisal by the Court of Chancery of the fair value of the stockholder's shares of stock under the circumstances described in subsections (b) and (c) of this section. As used in this section, the word "stockholder" means a holder of record of stock in a stock corporation and also a member of record of a nonstock corporation; the words "stock" and "share" mean and include what is ordinarily meant by those words and also membership or membership interest of a member of a nonstock corporation; and the words "depository receipt" mean a receipt or other instrument issued by a depository representing an interest in one or more shares, or fractions thereof, solely of stock of a corporation, which stock is deposited with the depository.

(b) Appraisal rights shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock of a constituent corporation in a merger or consolidation to be effected pursuant to § 251 (other than a merger effected pursuant to § 251(g) of this title), § 252, § 254, § 257, § 258, § 263 or § 264 of this title:

(1) Provided, however, that no appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock, which stock, or depository receipts in respect thereof, at the record date fixed to determine the stockholders entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the meeting of stockholders to act upon the agreement of merger or consolidation, were either (i) listed on a national securities exchange or (ii) held of record by more than 2,000 holders; and further provided that no appraisal rights shall be available for any shares of stock of the constituent corporation surviving a merger if the merger did not require for its approval the vote of the stockholders of the surviving corporation as provided in subsection (f) of § 251 of this title.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (1) of this subsection, appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock of a constituent corporation if the holders thereof are required by the terms of an agreement of merger or consolidation pursuant to §§ 251, 252, 254, 257, 258, 263 and 264 of this title to accept for such stock anything except:

a. Shares of stock of the corporation surviving or resulting from such merger or consolidation, or depository receipts in respect thereof;

b. Shares of stock of any other corporation, or depository receipts in respect thereof, which shares of stock (or depository receipts in respect thereof) or depository receipts at the effective date of the merger or consolidation will be either listed on a national securities exchange or held of record by more than 2,000 holders;

c. Cash in lieu of fractional shares or fractional depository receipts described in the foregoing subparagraphs a. and b. of this paragraph; or

d. Any combination of the shares of stock, depository receipts and cash in lieu of fractional shares or fractional depository receipts described in the foregoing subparagraphs a., b. and c. of this paragraph.

(3) In the event all of the stock of a subsidiary Delaware corporation party to a merger effected under § 253 of this title is not owned by the parent corporation immediately prior to the merger, appraisal rights shall be available for the shares of the subsidiary Delaware corporation.

(c) Any corporation may provide in its certificate of incorporation that appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of its stock as a result of an amendment to its certificate of incorporation, any merger or consolidation in which the corporation is a constituent corporation or the sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the corporation. If the certificate of incorporation contains such a provision, the procedures of this section, including those set forth in subsections (d) and (e) of this section, shall apply as nearly as is practicable.

D-1

(d) Appraisal rights shall be perfected as follows:

(1) If a proposed merger or consolidation for which appraisal rights are provided under this section is to be submitted for approval at a meeting of stockholders, the corporation, not less than 20 days prior to the meeting, shall notify each of its stockholders who was such on the record date for such meeting with respect to shares for which appraisal rights are available pursuant to subsection (b) or (c) hereof that appraisal rights are available for any or all of the shares of the constituent corporations, and shall include in such notice a copy of this section. Each stockholder electing to demand the appraisal of such stockholder's shares shall deliver to the corporation, before the taking of the vote on the merger or consolidation, a written demand for appraisal of such stockholder's shares. Such demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs the corporation of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder intends thereby to demand the appraisal of such stockholder's shares. A proxy or vote against the merger or consolidation shall not constitute such a demand. A stockholder electing to take such action must do so by a separate written demand as herein provided. Within 10 days after the effective date of such merger or consolidation, the surviving or resulting corporation shall notify each stockholder of each constituent corporation who has complied with this subsection and has not voted in favor of or consented to the merger or consolidation of the date that the merger or consolidation has become effective; or

(2) If the merger or consolidation was approved pursuant to § 228 or § 253 of this title, then either a constituent corporation before the effective date of the merger or consolidation or the surviving or resulting corporation within 10 days thereafter shall notify each of the holders of any class or series of stock of such constituent corporation who are entitled to appraisal rights of the approval of the merger or consolidation and that appraisal rights are available for any or all shares of such class or series of stock of such constituent corporation, and shall include in such notice a copy of this section. Such notice may, and, if given on or after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, shall, also notify such stockholders of the effective date of the merger or consolidation. Any stockholder entitled to appraisal rights may, within 20 days after the date of mailing of such notice, demand in writing from the surviving or resulting corporation the appraisal of such holder's shares. Such demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs the corporation of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder intends thereby to demand the appraisal of such holder's shares. If such notice did not notify stockholders of the effective date of the merger or consolidation, either (i) each such constituent corporation shall send a second notice before the effective date of the merger or consolidation notifying each of the holders of any class or series of stock of such constituent corporation that are entitled to appraisal rights of the effective date of the merger or consolidation or (ii) the surviving or resulting corporation shall send such a second notice to all such holders on or within 10 days after such effective date; provided, however, that if such second notice is sent more than 20 days following the sending of the first notice, such second notice need only be sent to each stockholder who is entitled to appraisal rights and who has demanded appraisal of such holder's shares in accordance with this subsection. An affidavit of the secretary or assistant secretary or of the transfer agent of the corporation that is required to give either notice that such notice has been given shall, in the absence of fraud, be prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein. For purposes of determining the stockholders entitled to receive either notice, each constituent corporation may fix, in advance, a record date that shall be not more than 10 days prior to the date the notice is given, provided, that if the notice is given on or after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, the record date shall be such effective date. If no record date is fixed and the notice is given prior to the effective date, the record date shall be the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which the notice is given.

(e) Within 120 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, the surviving or resulting corporation or any stockholder who has complied with subsections (a) and (d) of this section hereof and who is otherwise entitled to appraisal rights, may commence an appraisal proceeding by filing a petition in the Court of Chancery demanding a determination of the value of the stock of all such stockholders. Notwithstanding the foregoing, at any time within 60 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, any stockholder who has not commenced an appraisal proceeding or joined that proceeding as a named party shall have the right to withdraw such stockholder's demand for appraisal and to accept the terms offered upon the merger or consolidation. Within 120 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, any stockholder who has complied with the requirements of subsections (a) and (d) of this section hereof, upon written request, shall be entitled to receive from the corporation surviving the merger or resulting from the consolidation a statement setting forth the aggregate number of shares not voted in favor of the merger or consolidation and with respect to which demands for appraisal have been received and the aggregate number of holders of such shares. Such written statement shall be mailed to the stockholder within 10 days after such stockholder's written request for such a statement is received by the surviving or resulting corporation or within 10 days after expiration of the period for delivery of demands for appraisal under subsection (d) of this section hereof, whichever is later. Notwithstanding subsection (a) of this section, a person who is the beneficial owner of shares of such stock held either in a voting trust or by a nominee on behalf of such person may, in such person's own name, file a petition or request from the corporation the statement described in this subsection.

(f) Upon the filing of any such petition by a stockholder, service of a copy thereof shall be made upon the surviving or resulting corporation, which shall within 20 days after such service file in the office of the Register in Chancery in which the petition was filed a duly verified list containing the names and addresses of all stockholders who have demanded payment for their shares and with whom agreements as to the value of their shares have not been reached by the surviving or resulting corporation. If the petition shall be filed by the surviving or resulting corporation, the petition shall be accompanied by such a duly verified list. The Register in Chancery, if so ordered by the Court, shall give notice of the time and place fixed for the hearing of such petition by registered or certified mail to the surviving or resulting corporation and to the stockholders shown on the list at the addresses therein stated. Such notice shall also be given by 1 or more publications at least 1 week before the day of the hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the City of Wilmington, Delaware or such publication as the Court deems advisable. The forms of the notices by mail and by publication shall be approved by the Court, and the costs thereof shall be borne by the surviving or resulting corporation.

(g) At the hearing on such petition, the Court shall determine the stockholders who have complied with this section and who have become entitled to appraisal rights. The Court may require the stockholders who have demanded an appraisal for their shares and who hold stock represented by certificates to submit their certificates of stock to the Register in Chancery for notation thereon of the pendency of the appraisal proceedings; and if any stockholder fails to comply with such direction, the Court may dismiss the proceedings as to such stockholder.

(h) After the Court determines the stockholders entitled to an appraisal, the appraisal proceeding shall be conducted in accordance with the rules of the Court of Chancery, including any rules specifically governing appraisal proceedings. Through such proceeding the Court shall determine the fair value of the shares exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the merger or consolidation, together with interest, if any, to be paid upon the amount determined to be the fair value. In determining such fair value, the Court shall take into account all relevant factors. Unless the Court in its discretion determines otherwise for good cause shown, interest from the effective date of the merger through the date of payment of the judgment shall be compounded quarterly and shall accrue at 5% over the Federal Reserve discount rate (including any surcharge) as established from time to time during the period between the effective date of the merger and the date of payment of the judgment. Upon application by the surviving or resulting corporation or by any stockholder entitled to participate in the appraisal proceeding, the Court may, in its discretion, proceed to trial upon the appraisal prior to the final determination of the stockholders entitled to an appraisal. Any stockholder whose name appears on the list filed by the surviving or resulting corporation pursuant to subsection (f) of this section and who has submitted such stockholder's certificates of stock to the Register in Chancery, if such is required, may participate fully in all proceedings until it is finally determined that such stockholder is not entitled to appraisal rights under this section.

(i) The Court shall direct the payment of the fair value of the shares, together with interest, if any, by the surviving or resulting corporation to the stockholders entitled thereto. Payment shall be so made to each such stockholder, in the case of holders of uncertificated stock forthwith, and the case of holders of shares represented by certificates upon the surrender to the corporation of the certificates representing such stock. The Court's decree may be enforced as other decrees in the Court of Chancery may be enforced, whether such surviving or resulting corporation be a corporation of this State or of any state.

(j) The costs of the proceeding may be determined by the Court and taxed upon the parties as the Court deems equitable in the circumstances. Upon application of a stockholder, the Court may order all or a portion of the expenses incurred by any stockholder in connection with the appraisal proceeding, including, without limitation, reasonable attorney's fees and the fees and expenses of experts, to be charged pro rata against the value of all the shares entitled to an appraisal.

D-3

(k) From and after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, no stockholder who has demanded appraisal rights as provided in subsection (d) of this section shall be entitled to vote such stock for any purpose or to receive payment of dividends or other distributions on the stock (except dividends or other distributions payable to stockholders of record at a date which is prior to the effective date of the merger or consolidation); provided, however, that if no petition for an appraisal shall be filed within the time provided in subsection (e) of this section, or if such stockholder shall deliver to the surviving or resulting corporation a written withdrawal of such stockholder's demand for an appraisal and an acceptance of the merger or consolidation, either within 60 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation as provided in subsection (e) of this section or thereafter with the written approval of the corporation, then the right of such stockholder to an appraisal shall cease. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no appraisal proceeding in the Court of Chancery shall be dismissed as to any stockholder without the approval of the Court, and such approval may be conditioned upon such terms as the Court deems just; provided, however that this provision shall not affect the right of any stockholder who has not commenced an appraisal proceeding or joined that proceeding as a named party to withdraw such stockholder's demand for appraisal and to accept the terms offered upon the merger or consolidation within 60 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, as set forth in subsection (e) of this section.

(l) The shares of the surviving or resulting corporation to which the shares of such objecting stockholders would have been converted had they assented to the merger or consolidation shall have the status of authorized and unissued shares of the surviving or resulting corporation.
