Baker, Byers, Colella, Goldberg and Livingston and Dr. Cohen on May 24, 2006, the day after our 2006 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, were inadvertently not filed until September 2006.

ITEM 11. Executive Compensation.

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

Our Compensation Philosophy and Objectives

We believe that compensation of our executive officers should encourage creation of stockholder value and achievement of strategic corporate objectives, attract and retain qualified, skilled and dedicated executives on a long-term basis, reward past performance, and provide incentives for future performance. Our philosophy is to align the interests of our stockholders and management by integrating compensation with our annual and long-term corporate and financial objectives, including through equity ownership by management. In order to attract and retain qualified personnel, we strive to offer a total compensation package competitive with companies in the life sciences industry, taking into account relative company size, performance and geographic location as well as individual responsibilities and performance. Our compensation philosophy with respect to our executive officers currently focuses more on the use of equity-based compensation rather than cash-based compensation.

In setting the level of cash and equity compensation for our executive officers, the Compensation Committee of our board of directors and the independent members of our board consider various factors, including the performance of the Company and the individual executive during the year, the uniqueness and relative importance of the executive's skill set to the Company, the executive's expected future contributions to the Company, the percentage of vested versus unvested options held by the executive, the level of the executive's stock ownership and the Company's compensation philosophy for all employees. While the Compensation Committee and independent members of the board did not use market benchmarks to determine executive compensation for 2006, the Compensation Committee reviewed survey data with respect to companies in the San Francisco Bay Area with revenues in a broadly similar range as the Company's revenues and data with respect to a peer group of biotechnology, life sciences and diagnostic companies, which included competitive information relating to compensation levels for comparable positions in those industries. The Compensation Committee and the independent members of the board, who have a broad range of experience relating to executive compensation matters for similarly situated companies, consider as well the compensation levels of other employees of the Company. When establishing each element of an executive officer's compensation, the Compensation Committee and independent members of the board also take into consideration the executive's historical cash and equity compensation, level of equity ownership, and total current and potential compensation.

Table of Contents

We do not enter into employment or severance contracts with our executive officers as we do not believe these types of arrangements facilitate our compensation goals and objectives. We do not have a stock ownership or stock retention policy that requires executive officers to own stock in Genomic Health or retain options they exercise. We do not have an employee stock purchase plan, nor have we made contributions to our executive officers' 401(k) plans. In 2007, we will make up to a $1,000 matching 401(k) contribution for all eligible employees and executive officers.

We generally intend to qualify executive compensation for deductibility without limitation under section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code. Section 162(m) provides that, for purposes of the regular income tax and the alternative minimum tax, the otherwise allowable deduction for compensation paid or accrued with respect to a covered employee of a publicly-held corporation (other than certain exempt performance-based compensation) is limited to no more than $1 million per year. None of the non-exempt compensation we paid to any of our executive officers for 2006 as calculated for purposes of section 162(m) exceeded the $1 million limit.

Elements of Executive Compensation

Our compensation structure for executive officers consists of a combination of salary and stock options; because of our egalitarian culture, we do not have programs providing for personal-benefit perquisites to officers. The Compensation Committee makes recommendations with respect to executive officer compensation, to be approved by the independent members of the board of directors. For 2007, executive officers will be eligible to receive cash bonuses as well.

Base Salary. Our Compensation Committee reviews base salaries for executive officers on an annual basis, considering recommendations by the Chief Executive Officer for executive officers other than the Chief Executive Officer, and adjusting salaries based on individual and company performance. The Compensation Committee also considers market information and the base salaries and other incentives paid to executive officers of other similarly sized companies within our industry. However, the Compensation Committee does not limit its decisions to or target any particular range or level of total compensation paid to executive officers at these companies. The Chief Executive Officer is involved in the decisions on base salary adjustments for executives other than the Chief Executive Officer.

Annual Bonus. While we have had a bonus pool that is tied to corporate and operational goals for our non-executives, we have not in the past paid cash bonuses to our executive officers. For 2007, our executive officers will be eligible to participate in our cash bonus program. The eligible bonus pool for all employees will be 10% of the Company's total salary base, but there will be no preset limitations on minimum or maximum bonus amounts. While bonuses for non-executive employees will be based in part on achievement of corporate goals established by our executive officers, bonuses for executive officers will be determined by the Compensation Committee and independent members of our board of directors at the time of their annual compensation review based on their assessment of corporate and individual achievements.

Equity-Based Compensation. Our Compensation Committee administers our stock option plan for executive officers, employees, consultants and outside directors, under which it grants options to purchase our common stock with an exercise price equal to the fair market value of a share of our common stock on the date of grant, which is the closing price on the date of grant. Option grants to Randal W. Scott that were intended to qualify as incentive stock options while he owned more than 10% of our common stock were made at an exercise price of 110% of fair market value on the date of grant and have a five-year term.

We believe that providing executive officers who have responsibility for our management and growth with an opportunity to increase their stock ownership aligns the interests of the executive officers with those of our stockholders. Accordingly, the Compensation Committee also considers stock option grants to be an important aspect in compensating and providing incentives to management. Each executive officer is initially granted an option when he or she begins working for us. The amount of the grant is based on his or her position with us, relevant prior experience and market conditions. These initial grants generally vest over four years and no shares vest before the one-year anniversary of the option grant. We spread the vesting of our options over four years to compensate executives for their contribution over a period of time and to provide an incentive to focus on our longer term goals. The Compensation Committee also sets annual grants as part of its and the independent members of the board's annual compensation review process. The Compensation Committee determines the number of shares underlying each stock option grant based upon the executive officer's and the Company's performance, the executive officer's role and responsibilities, the executive officer's base salary, and comparison with comparable awards to individuals in similar positions in our industry. Additionally, in the future our Compensation Committee and independent members of our board of directors may consider awarding additional or alternative forms of equity incentives, such as grants of restricted stock, restricted stock units and other performance-based awards. We do not coordinate the timing of equity award grants with the release of financial results or other material announcements by the Company; our annual equity grants are made at regularly scheduled board and Compensation Committee meetings.

Other Compensation. All of our full-time employees, including our executive officers, may participate in our health programs, such as medical, dental and vision care coverage, and our 401(k) and life and disability insurance programs.

Named Executive Officers

The 2006 Summary Compensation Table, 2006 Grants of Plan-Based Awards Table and the tables that follow provide compensation information for our named executive officers, including Randal W. Scott, as Chief Executive Officer, G. Bradley Cole, as Chief Financial Officer, and the three most highly compensated executive officers of the Company who were serving as executive officers at the end of 2006 which, in 2006, were Kimberly J. Popovits, Joffre B. Baker and Steven Shak.

(1) Represents the compensation expense related to outstanding options we recognized for the year ended December 31, 2006 under Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 (revised 2004), or SFAS

123R, rather than amounts paid to or realized by the named individual, and includes expense we recognized in 2006 for option grants in prior periods.

Compensation expense is determined by computing the fair value of each option on the grant date in accordance with SFAS 123R and recognizing that amount as expense ratably over the option vesting term. See Note 9 of Notes to our Consolidated Financial Statements set forth in Item 8 of this Report for the assumptions made in determining SFAS 123R values. The SFAS 123R value of an option as of the grant date is spread over the number of months in which the option is subject to vesting and includes ratable amounts expensed for option grants in prior years. There can be no assurance that options will be exercised (in which case no value will be realized by the individual) or that the value on exercise will approximate the compensation expense we recognized.

fair value of each option on the grant date in accordance with SFAS 123R and recognizing that amount as expense ratably over the option vesting term. See Note 9 of Notes to our Consolidated Financial Statements set forth in Item 8 of this Report for the assumptions made in determining SFAS 123R values. The SFAS 123R value of an option as of the grant date is spread over the number of months in which the option is subject to vesting and includes ratable amounts expensed for option grants in prior years. There can be no assurance that options will be exercised (in which case no value will be realized by the individual) or that the value on exercise will approximate the compensation expense we recognized. In 2006, Messrs. Baker, Byers, Colella, Goldberg and Livingston and Dr. Cohen each received an option to purchase 8,250 shares of our common stock with a grant date fair value of $59,300, and Dr. Myers received an option to purchase 16,500 shares of our common stock with a grant date fair value of $110,000.

- (3) The following table sets forth the aggregate number of shares of common stock underlying option awards outstanding at December 31, 2006:

Directors who are employees of the Company do not receive any fees for their service on our board of directors or any committee. During 2006, Dr. Scott and Ms. Popovits were the Company's only employee directors.

Our outside directors receive an annual retainer of $20,000 and Mr. Livingston, as chairman of our audit committee, receives an annual retainer of $30,000. We also reimburse our non-employee directors for reasonable expenses in connection with attendance at board of director and committee meetings.

Table of Contents

In addition to cash compensation for services as a member of the board, non-employee directors also are eligible to receive nondiscretionary automatic grants of stock options under our 2005 Stock Incentive Plan. An outside director who joins our board is automatically granted an initial option to purchase 16,500 shares upon first becoming a member of our board of directors. The initial option vests and becomes exercisable over four years, with the first 25% of the shares subject to the initial option vesting on the first anniversary of the date of grant and the remainder vesting monthly thereafter. Immediately after each of our regularly scheduled annual meetings of stockholders, each outside director is automatically granted a nonstatutory option to purchase 8,250 shares of our common stock, provided the director has served on our board of directors for at least six months. These options vest and become exercisable on the first anniversary of the date of grant or immediately prior to our next annual meeting of stockholders, if earlier. The options granted to outside directors under our 2005 Stock Incentive Plan have a per share exercise price equal to 100% of the fair market value of the underlying shares on the date of grant, a term of ten years, and become fully vested in the event of a change in control.

ITEM 12. Security Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners and Management and Related Stockholder Matters.

The following table sets forth certain information as of March 31, 2007, as to shares of our common stock beneficially owned by: (1) each person who is known by us to own beneficially more than 5% of our common stock, (2) each of our named executive officers listed in the Summary Compensation Table under Item 11 of this Report, (3) each of our directors and (4) all of our directors and executive officers as a group.

We have determined beneficial ownership in accordance with the rules of the SEC. Except as indicated by the footnotes below, we believe, based on the information furnished to us, that the persons and entities named in the table below have sole voting and investment power with respect to all shares of common stock that they beneficially own, subject to applicable community property laws.

In computing the number of shares of common stock beneficially owned by a person and the percentage ownership of that person, we deemed outstanding shares of common stock subject to options held by that person that are currently exercisable or exercisable within 60 days after March 31, 2007. We did not deem these shares outstanding, however, for the purpose of computing the percentage ownership of any other person.
