IHS INC.
NOTES TO UNAUDITED CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Basis of Presentation and Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Operations

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

IHS Inc. (IHS, the Company, we, our, or us) is a publicly traded Delaware corporation. We are one of the leading global providers of critical technical information, decision-support tools and services to customers in the energy, defense, aerospace, construction, electronics, and automotive industries.

Consolidation Policy

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of all wholly owned and majority-owned subsidiaries. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated.

Unaudited Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements reflect all adjustments, consisting of normal recurring accruals, which are necessary for a fair presentation of the financial position, results of operations and cash flows for the periods presented. The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements include our accounts and the accounts of our majority-owned domestic and foreign subsidiaries. All significant intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated in consolidation. These condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements for the year ended November 30, 2005. The results of operations for the three months ended February 28, 2006, are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be achieved for the full fiscal year and cannot be used to indicate financial performance for the entire year.

The year-end condensed consolidated balance sheet data was derived from the audited November 30, 2005, balance sheet.

Results Subject to Seasonal Variations

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

Although our business model is broadly subscription based resulting in recurring revenue and cash flow, our business does have seasonal aspects. For example, certain sales of non-deferred subscriptions occur most frequently in our first and fourth quarters. Consequently, we generally recognize a greater percentage of our revenue and income in those quarters. Also, our first quarter benefits from the inclusion of the results from CERAWeek, an annual energy executive gathering.

Subscriptions are generally paid in full within one to two months after the subscription period commences. As a result, the timing of our cash flows generally precedes the recognition of revenue and income. Due to the historical timing and alignment of our sales to correspond to certain of our customers' budget and funding cycles, our cash flow provided by operating activities tends to be higher in our first fiscal quarter as we receive subscription payments.

Use of Estimates

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

The preparation of interim condensed consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported and disclosed in the financial statements and the accompanying notes. Actual results could differ materially from these estimates. On an ongoing basis, we evaluate our estimates, including those related to the allowances for doubtful accounts, fair value of marketable securities and investments, fair value of acquired intangible assets and goodwill, useful lives of intangible assets and property and equipment, and income taxes. We base our estimates on historical experience and on various other assumptions that we believe to be reasonable, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities.

Compensation Expense Related to Share-Based Awards

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

We adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 123 (revised 2004), Share-Based Payment, effective December 1, 2005, the first day of our 2006 fiscal year. SFAS 123(R) is a revision of SFAS No. 123. SFAS 123(R) supersedes APB Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and amends SFAS No. 95, Statement of Cash Flows. Generally, the approach in SFAS 123(R) is similar to the approach described in SFAS 123. However, SFAS 123(R) requires all share-based payments to employees, including grants of employee stock options, to be recognized in the income statement based on their fair values. Pro forma disclosure is no longer an alternative.

SFAS 123(R) permits public companies to adopt its requirements using one of two methods:

1. A modified prospective method in which compensation cost is recognized beginning with the effective date (a) based on the requirements of SFAS 123(R) for all share-based payments granted after the effective date and (b) based on the requirements of SFAS 123 for all awards granted to employees prior to the effective date of SFAS 123(R) that remain unvested on the effective date.
2. A modified retrospective method which includes the requirements of the modified prospective method described above, but also permits entities to restate based on the amounts previously recognized under SFAS 123 for purposes of pro forma disclosures for either (a) all prior periods presented or (b) prior interim periods of the year of adoption.

We elected to use the modified prospective method. During the quarter ended February 28, 2006, we had unvested performance shares, performance unit awards, restricted shares, and restricted stock awards outstanding. During the quarter ended February 28, 2005, we had unvested restricted shares outstanding. In each instance, compensation expense for these equity-based awards is calculated based on the fair value of our Class A common stock on the grant date. Initially, additional paid-in capital is recorded based on the fair market value of our Class A common shares on the grant date, and an offsetting entry is recorded to unearned compensation, also an equity account. The unearned compensation is amortized to compensation expense related to equity awards over the vesting period using the straight-line method.

Income Taxes

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

Our effective quarterly tax rate is estimated based upon the effective tax rate expected to be applicable for the full fiscal year.

Our effective tax rate for the first quarter of 2006 was 33.6% compared to 28.5% for the prior-year period. The lower rate in 2005 was due to recognition of the benefits resulting from the favorable settlements of a Canadian and an IRS audit. There were no discrete period items in 2006.

Earnings per Share

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

Earnings per common share (EPS) are computed in accordance with SFAS No. 128, Earnings Per Share. Basic EPS is computed by dividing net income by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted EPS reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue common stock were exercised or converted into common shares.

Our authorized capital stock consists of 80,000,000 shares of Class A common stock and 13,750,000 shares of Class B common stock. These classes have equal dividend rights and liquidation rights. However, the holders of our Class A common stock are entitled to one vote per share and holders of our Class B common stock are entitled to ten votes per share on all matters to be voted upon by the stockholders. Each share of Class B common stock is convertible at any time at the option of the holder into one share of Class A common stock and will automatically convert, without any action by the holder, upon the earlier of the occurrence of specified events or November 16, 2009.

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

We use the two-class method for computing basic and diluted EPS amounts. We calculated undistributed earnings as follows:

	2006		Three Months Ended February 28, (In thousands)		2005
Net income		$	13,464		$	13,133
Less: dividends
Undistributed earnings		$	13,464		$	13,133

Weighted average common shares outstanding are calculated as follows:

	2006		Three Months Ended February 28, (In thousands)		2005
Weighted average common shares outstanding:

Capital Structure

For the three months ended February 28, 2006, our capital structure changed as follows:

	Class A common shares	Unvested Restricted shares	Unvested Performance shares	Total Class A common shares
Balances, November 30, 2005	41,536,517	2,187,204	354,510	44,078,231

Balances, February 28, 2006	42,231,904	2,203,878	358,890	44,794,672

(a) Vested equity awards were primarily comprised of 687,887 deferred stock units, which represented rights to shares of our Class A common stock but not actual Class A shares prior to vesting and delivery.

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

There was no change to the number of Class B common shares outstanding during the three months ended February 28, 2006.

Derivatives

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

We follow the provisions of SFAS No. 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities (SFAS 133). SFAS 133 requires every derivative instrument (including certain derivative instruments embedded in other contracts) be recorded in our condensed consolidated balance sheet as either a risk management asset or risk management liability measured at its fair value, with changes in the fair value of qualifying hedges recorded in other comprehensive income. SFAS 133 requires that changes in a derivative's fair value be recognized currently in earnings unless specific hedge accounting criteria are met. Accounting for qualifying hedges allows a derivative's gains and losses to offset the related results of the hedged item and requires us to formally document, designate and assess the effectiveness of transactions that receive hedge accounting treatment. Based on the criteria established by SFAS 133, all of our qualifying hedges, consisting of foreign-currency forward contracts, are deemed effective. While we expect that our derivative instruments will continue to meet the conditions for hedge accounting, if the hedges did not qualify as effective or if we did not believe that forecasted transactions would occur, the changes in the fair value of the derivatives used as hedges would be reflected in earnings. We do not believe we are exposed to more than a nominal amount of credit risk in our hedging activities, as our counter party is an established, well-capitalized financial institution.

Our Swiss subsidiary's local currency is its functional currency. The functional currency is used to pay labor and other operating costs, and it also has certain other operating costs which are denominated in British Pound Sterling. However, this subsidiary bills and collects principally in U.S. dollars. Beginning January 2005, to hedge our Swiss subsidiary's foreign-currency risk, we effectively converted a portion of our Swiss subsidiary's calendar-year 2005 sales and operating expenses which are denominated in foreign currencies into the local currency using forward contracts. We have not entered into similar contracts to hedge our Swiss subsidiary's calendar-year 2006 sales and operating expenses. Our Swiss subsidiary's revenue transactions are subscription-based and, consequently, they are deferred initially and recognized ratably into earnings over the course of the subscription period, generally twelve months. Accordingly, our related hedges are accounted for in the same fashion. As a result, we expect all of the $2.7 million unrealized loss on foreign currency hedges in accumulated other comprehensive income at February 28, 2006 will be reclassified into earnings by the end of December 2006.

During the quarter ended February 28, 2006, we recorded losses of $1.1 million in revenue and gains of $0.1 million in cost of revenue in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations for settled forward-exchange contracts. During the quarter ended February 28, 2005, we recorded losses of less than $0.1 million in revenue and gains of less than $0.1 million in cost of revenue in the accompanying consolidated statements of operations for settled forward-exchange contracts.

As of February 28, 2006, we had no risk management assets or liabilities associated with foreign exchange contracts on our condensed consolidated balance sheet as all such transactions had settled early in the first quarter. As of November 30, 2005, we had current risk management liabilities of $2.7 million and current risk management assets of $0.1 million associated with foreign-exchange contracts, consisting of the fair market value of forward-exchange contracts.

Additionally, for our Swiss subsidiary, we effectively converted a portion of its U.S.-dollar-denominated accounts receivable to its local currency. As of February 28, 2006, the notional amount of this contract was $29.8 million. As of November 30, 2005, the notional amount of this contract was $7.2 million. During the quarters ended February 28, 2006 and 2005, we recorded losses of approximately $0.2 million and $0.3 million, respectively, in other (income) expense, net for settled foreign exchange contracts. Our accounts receivable hedges do not qualify for hedge accounting.

New Accounting Pronouncement

In May 2005, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued SFAS No. 154, Accounting Changes and Error Corrections. SFAS 154 applies to all voluntary changes in accounting principles and to changes required by an accounting pronouncement that do not include explicit transition provisions. SFAS No. 154 requires that a change in accounting principle be retroactively applied instead of including the cumulative effect in the income statement. The correction of an error will continue to require financial statement restatement. A change in accounting estimate will continue to be accounted for in the period of change and in subsequent periods, if necessary. SFAS No. 154 became effective for fiscal years beginning after December 31, 2005. We will follow the provisions of this statement in the event of a future accounting change.

2. Acquisition

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

On December 1, 2005, we acquired the assets of a content-and-data-services (CDS) business for approximately $33 million that serves all of the industries targeted by our Engineering segment. The purchase price was paid from existing cash on hand at the acquisition date. The acquisition was accounted for using the purchase method of accounting. Our unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements include all the assets and liabilities acquired and the results of operations from the date of acquisition. Pro forma results of the acquired business have not been presented as they did not have a material impact on our results of operations.

The purchase price for this acquisition was initially allocated as follows (in thousands):

Assets:
Current assets	$
Property and equipment		250
Intangible assets		15,420
Goodwill		21,685
Deferred tax assets
Total assets		37,355
Liabilities:
Current liabilities		4,379
Long-term liabilities
Total liabilities		4,379
Purchase price	$	32,976

3. Restructuring and Offering Charges

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

A summary of the restructuring and offering charges follows (in thousands):

	Three Months Ended February 28,
	2006		2005
Restructuring charge	$	(18)	$
Offering costs		20
Total	$	2	$

During the third quarter of 2005, we executed a restructuring initiative affecting our Engineering segment and certain unallocated corporate costs. This initiative was undertaken to reduce costs, further the integration of operations from previous acquisitions, streamline our data delivery processes, and realign the marketing function to support core product initiatives. During the course of the restructuring, we reduced our aggregate workforce by over 100 employees and closed certain offices.

The restructuring charge was incurred in its entirety during the third quarter of 2005. Approximately $4.4 million and $3.8 million of the restructuring charge related to our Engineering segment and certain unallocated corporate costs, respectively. Our Energy segment did not have a restructuring charge. The restructuring charge was comprised of the following (in thousands):

Employee severance and other termination benefits	$	5,947
Accelerated vesting of restricted stock		2,130
Contract-termination costs		167
Total	$	8,244

A reconciliation of the related accrued restructuring liability from November 30, 2005 to February 28, 2006 was as follows:

	Employee Severance and Other Termination Benefits	Accelerated Vesting of Restricted Shares	Contract Termination Costs	Total

4. Discontinued Operations

During the third quarter of 2005, a business in our Energy segment was classified as being held for sale. We continually evaluate opportunities to align our business activities within core operations. The business held for sale is a manufacturing operation, which is not a part of our core operations. We recently entered into a non-binding letter of agreement to sell the business to an unrelated third party, and we believe it is probable that it will be sold by the third quarter of 2006. During the first quarter of 2006, we revised our estimate, and wrote down the value, of the assets of the discontinued operation $1.0 million based on what we had experienced to date in the sales process.

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

For all of the periods presented, the related results of operations are shown as a discontinued operation, net of tax, in our condensed consolidated statements of operations and cash flows.

The carrying amounts of the major classes of related assets and liabilities were as follows:

5. Marketable Securities

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

At February 28, 2006, we owned only short-term investments which were classified as available-for-sale securities and reported at fair value as follows:

	Gross Amortized Cost	Unrealized Holding Losses (In thousands)	Estimated Fair Value
Municipal securities	$ 25,850	$ (28)	$ 25,822
Other	31		31
Total	$ 25,881	$ (28)	$ 25,853

We use the specific-identification method to account for gains and losses on securities. Realized gains on sales of marketable securities included within other income (expense) were immaterial for the three months ended February 28, 2006. At February 28, 2005, we did not have any investments.

We review all marketable securities to determine if any decline in value is other than temporary. We have concluded that the decline in value as of February 28, 2006 is temporary.

6. Commitments and Contingencies

We are a party to various legal proceedings that arise in the ordinary course of business. In the opinion of management, none of these actions, either individually or in the aggregate, is expected to have a material adverse affect on our financial condition, liquidity or results of operations.

During the first quarter of 2006, the human resources committee of our board of directors amended our retiree-medical plan. The new plan design does not cover prescription drug coverage post-Medicare so there is no additional impact from the Medicare Modernization Act.

During the three months ended February 28, 2006, we notified our employees of certain changes adopted by the human resources committee of our board of directors regarding our U.S. pension and post-retirement benefit plans. These changes take effect May 1, 2006. However, we began recording the effect of these changes as of February 1, 2006, the approximate date the changes were communicated to our employees.

9. Segment Information

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

We have two reportable segments: Energy and Engineering. Our Energy segment develops and delivers critical oil and gas industry data on exploration, development, production, and transportation activities to major global energy producers and national and independent oil companies. Our Energy segment also provides operational, research, and strategic advisory services to these customers, as well as to utilities and transportation, petrochemical, coal, and power companies. Our Engineering segment provides solutions incorporating technical specifications and standards, regulations, parts data, design guides, and other information to customers in its targeted industries. Both segments primarily derive their revenue from subscriptions.

Information as to the operations of our two segments is set forth below based on the nature of the offerings. Our Chairman and Chief Executive Officer and their direct reports represent our chief operating decision maker, and they evaluate segment performance based primarily on revenue and operating profit. The accounting policies of our segments are the same as those described in the summary of significant accounting policies (see Note 2 to our 2005 Form 10-K).

No single customer accounted for 10% or more of our total revenue for the three months ended February 28, 2006 or 2005. There are no material inter-segment revenues for any period presented.

As shown below, certain corporate transactions are not allocated to the reportable segments. Amounts not allocated include corporate-level restructuring and offering charges, compensation expense related to equity awards, net periodic pension and post-retirement benefits income, corporate-level impairments, and gains on sales of corporate assets.

Words such as may, could, should, would, believe, expect, anticipate, estimate, intend, seeks, plan, project, continue, predict and other words or expressions of similar nature are intended to identify forward-looking statements, although not all forward-looking statements contain these identifying words. These statements are based on our current expectations about future events or results and information that is currently available to us, involve assumptions, risks and uncertainties, and speak only as of the date on which such statements are made. Our actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied in these forward-looking statements. Those factors include, but are not limited to, our ability to obtain content from third parties (including Standards Development Organizations) on commercially reasonable terms, changes in demand for IHS's products and services, changes in the energy industry, our ability to develop new products and services, pricing and other competitive pressures, risks associated with the integration of acquisitions, changes in laws and regulations governing our business and certain other factors discussed under the caption Risk Factors in the MD&A section of our 2005 Form 10-K, and in our other filings with the SEC. IHS undertakes no duty to update, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, unless required by law.

Overview

IHS is one of the leading global providers of critical technical information, decision-support tools, and related services to customers in the energy, defense, aerospace, construction, electronics, and automotive industries. We have developed a comprehensive collection of technical information that is highly relevant to the industries we serve. Our decision-support tools enable our customers to quickly and easily search and analyze this information and integrate it into their work flows. Our operational, research, and strategic advisory services combine this information and these tools with our extensive industry expertise to meet the needs of our customers. Our customers rely on these offerings to facilitate decision making, support key processes, and improve productivity. Our customers range from governments and large multinational corporations to smaller companies and technical professionals in more than 100 countries. We manage our business through our Energy and Engineering operating segments.

Our Energy segment develops and delivers critical oil and gas industry data on exploration, development, production, and transportation activities to major global energy producers and oil companies. We also provide decision-support tools and operational, research, and strategic advisory services to these customers, as well as to utilities and transportation, petrochemical, coal, and power companies. For example, major global oil companies use our offerings to support a broad range of decision-making processes that identify attractive exploration investments, assess the likelihood of successful oil production projects, and develop detailed planning scenarios.

Our Engineering segment provides offerings in two broad categories of products: technical standards and parts information. These products include a broad range of technical specifications and standards, regulations, parts data, design guides, and other information for customers in our targeted industries. We also have expertise in developing decision-support tools that enhance the accessibility and usability of this information. We offer targeted advisory services that are designed to maximize the utilization and integration of our information within our customers' business processes. We serve some of the largest engineering-intensive companies around the world in the defense, aerospace, construction, electronics, and automotive industries. For example, we provide some of the largest aerospace companies with desktop access to industry specifications and standards; parts, logistics, and procurement data; engineering methods; and related analytical tools.

We sell our offerings primarily through subscriptions. As a result of our subscription-based business model and historically high renewal rates, we generate recurring revenue and cash flow. We generally recognize revenue from subscriptions (which are usually for one-year periods) ratably over the term of the subscription. However, our business does have seasonal aspects. For example, certain sales of non-deferred subscriptions occur most frequently in our first and fourth quarters. Consequently, we generally recognize a greater percentage of our revenue and income in those quarters. Also, our first quarter benefits from the inclusion of the results from CERAWEEK, an annual energy executive gathering.

Subscriptions are generally paid in full within one to two months after the subscription period commences. As a result, the timing of our cash flows generally precedes the recognition of revenue and income. Due to the historical timing and alignment of our sales to correspond to certain of our customers' budget and funding cycles, our cash flow provided by operating activities tends to be higher in our first fiscal quarter as we receive subscription payments.

We serve some of the world's largest corporations across multiple industries, as well as governments and other organizations, in more than 100 countries. We generate approximately half of our total revenue from outside the United States. Our primary operations outside the United States are in the United Kingdom, Canada, and Switzerland. Our operating profit outside the United States has historically exceeded our domestic operating profit.

Pensions and Post-retirement Benefits

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

During the three months ended February 28, 2006, we notified our employees of certain changes adopted by the human resources committee of our board of directors regarding our U.S. pension and post-retirement benefit plans. These changes take effect May 1, 2006. As a result of these changes, we expect our net periodic pension and post-retirement benefit income to increase during fiscal year 2006 compared to fiscal year 2005 and then decline for the foreseeable future.

Acquisition

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

On December 1, 2005, we acquired the assets of a content-and-data-services (CDS) business for approximately $33 million that serves all of the industries targeted by our Engineering segment. The purchase price was paid from existing cash on hand at the acquisition date. The acquisition was accounted for using the purchase method of accounting. Our unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements include all the assets and liabilities acquired and the results of operations from the date of acquisition. Pro forma results of the acquired business have not been presented as they did not have a material impact on our results of operations.

The purchase price for this acquisition was initially allocated as follows (in thousands):

Assets:

Property and equipment		250
Intangible assets		15,420
Goodwill		21,685
Deferred tax assets
Total assets		37,355

Set forth below is our revenue and operating income for our Energy and Engineering segments for the three months ended February 28, 2006 and 2005. Certain corporate transactions are not allocated to our operating segments. Unallocated amounts include corporate-level restructuring and offering charges, compensation expense related to equity awards, net periodic pension and post-retirement benefits income, corporate-level impairments, and gains on sales of corporate assets.

Three Months Ended February 28, 2006 Compared to the Three Months Ended February 28, 2005

Revenue. Revenue was $129.9 million for the three months ended February 28, 2006 compared to $117.0 million for the three months ended February 28, 2005, an increase of $12.9 million or 11%. Revenue increased primarily due to organic growth, which contributed $13.7 million. Increased revenue from acquisitions of approximately $2.7 million was more than offset by $3.5 million in the impact of foreign currency.

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

Revenue for our Energy segment was $68.2 million for the three months ended February 28, 2006 compared to $58.1 million for the three months ended February 28, 2005, an increase of $10.1 million or 17%. The increase was principally due to organic growth, which contributed $11.0 million, partially offset by $0.9 million of adverse foreign currency movements. Organic growth in 2006 was driven by an expanding subscription base, price increases, and the contributions of certain items unique to the first quarter, such as CERAWEEK and the sale of certain U.K. sub-surface information as a result of a periodic government auction of exploration-and-production rights.

Revenue for our Engineering segment was $61.6 million for the three months ended February 28, 2006 compared to $58.9 million for the three months ended February 28, 2005, an increase of $2.7 million or 5%. Acquisitions contributed $2.8 million and organic growth added $2.7 million. These increases were partially offset by $2.7 million of adverse foreign currency movements. Organic growth was principally driven by increased sales within our specification and standards and parts-management offerings.

Cost of Revenue. Cost of revenue was $60.9 million for the three months ended February 28, 2006 compared to $55.5 million for the three months ended February 28, 2005, an increase of $5.4 million or 10%. As a percentage of revenue, cost of revenue decreased to 46.9% from 47.4%. Margins within our Energy segment increased principally due to the additional revenue discussed above, our ability to leverage a relatively fixed cost structure, and lower information technology spending. Margins within our Engineering segment remained relatively flat as the cost savings garnered from last year's restructuring were largely offset by individually immaterial items, including slightly higher effective royalty rates related to sales of critical information, our primary source of Engineering revenue.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses (SG&A) were $42.8 million for the three months ended February 28, 2006 compared to $40.6 million for the three months ended February 28, 2005, an increase of $2.2 million or 6%. As a percentage of revenue, selling, general and administrative expenses were 33.0% for the three months ended February 28, 2006, down from 34.7% for the three months ended February 28, 2005. SG&A increased primarily due to increased sales-and-marketing and back-office costs to support increased sales, and, at the corporate level, increased costs related to our first year as a public company. Cost savings from our third-quarter 2005 restructuring partially offset the above. Acquisitions contributed $0.7 million of the increase. Foreign currency movements partially offset the above by $0.9 million.

Depreciation and Amortization Expenses. Depreciation and amortization expenses were $3.4 million for the three months ended February 28, 2006, compared to $2.9 million for the three months ended February 28, 2005, an increase of $0.5 million or 16%. The increase was primarily due to acquisitions.

Compensation Expense Related to Equity Awards. Compensation expense related to equity awards was $3.9 million for the three months ended February 28, 2006, compared to $1.3 million for the three months ended February 28, 2005, an increase of $2.6 million or 207%. The increased expense primarily stems from costs associated with our equity awards granted at the time of our November 2005 initial public offering.

Net Gain on Sales of Assets. Net gain on sales of assets were $0.6 million for the three months February 28, 2005. There were no gains or losses on sales of assets for the three months ended February 28, 2006.

Operating Income. Operating income was $21.4 million for the three months ended February 28, 2006, compared to $18.8 million for the three months ended February 28, 2005, an increase of $2.7 million or 14%. As a percentage of revenue, operating income increased to 16.5% for the three months ended February 28, 2006 from 16.0% for the three months ended February 28, 2005.

Operating income for our Energy segment was $16.1 million for the three months ended February 28, 2006 compared to $12.3 million for the three months ended February 28, 2005, an increase of $3.9 million or 31%. The increase was primarily attributable to increased revenue discussed above coupled with a relatively fixed cost structure. First-quarter 2006 also benefited from certain events unique to the quarter, such as increased attendance and sponsorships for CERAWEEK and the sale of certain U.K. sub-surface information as a result of a periodic government auction of exploration-and-production rights.

Operating income for our Engineering segment was $8.2 million for the three months ended February 28, 2006 compared to $6.2 million for the three months ended February 28, 2005, an increase of $2.0 million, or 33%. Operating income increased primarily due to increased sales combined with cost savings resulting from our third-quarter 2005 restructuring.

Interest Expense. Interest expense was $0.1 million for the three months ended February 28, 2006 compared to $0.5 million for the three months February 28, 2005, a decrease of $0.4 million. In the first quarter of 2005, we wrote off certain deferred financing costs associated with our previous credit facility as we entered into a new credit facility in January 2005.

Provision for Income Taxes. Our effective tax rate for the three months ended February 28, 2006 was 33.6%, compared to 28.5% for the three months ended February 28, 2005. The lower rate in 2005 was due to recognition of the benefits resulting from the favorable settlements of certain tax audits. There were no similar discrete items in 2006.

Loss from Discontinued Operations, Net. Loss from discontinued operations, net was $1.3 million for the three months ended February 28, 2006 compared to $0.4 million for the three months ended February 28, 2005, an increase of $0.8 million. We recently entered into a non-binding letter of interest to sell the business to an unrelated third party, and we believe it is probable it will be sold by the third quarter of 2006. During the first quarter of 2006, we revised our estimate, and wrote down the value, of the assets of the discontinued operation based on what we had experienced to date in the sales process.

Financial Condition

Accounts Receivable, Net. Accounts receivable, net was $146.3 million as of February 28, 2006, compared to $137.0 million, an increase of $9.3 million or 7%. The increase was primarily attributable to the seasonal nature of our invoicing which generally peaks during the first quarter. Exclusive of the effects of foreign exchange and acquisitions, our accounts receivable balance rose approximately 11%, in line with our revenue increase.

Intangibles Assets, Net. Intangible assets, net were $42.5 million as of February 28, 2006, compared to $27.5 million as of November 30, 2005, an increase of $15.1 million or 55%. The increase was attributable to our December 1, 2005 acquisition.

Goodwill, Net. Goodwill, net was $320.1 million as of February 28, 2006, compared to $296.4 million as of November 30, 2005, an increase of $23.7 million or 8%. The increase was attributable to our December 1, 2005 acquisition.

Deferred Revenue. Deferred revenue was $183.4 million as of February 28, 2006, compared to $149.6 million as of November 30, 2005, an increase of $33.9 million or 23%. The increase was primarily attributable to the seasonal nature of our invoicing which generally peaks during the first quarter. Exclusive of the effects of foreign exchange and acquisitions, our deferred revenue balance rose approximately 13%, in line with our revenue increase.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

As of February 28, 2006, we had cash and cash equivalents of $125.7 million, short-term investments of $25.9 million, and virtually no debt. We have generated strong cash flows from operations over the last few years. As a result of these factors, as well as the availability of funds under our credit facility, we believe we will have sufficient cash to meet our working capital and capital expenditure needs.

Our future capital requirements will depend on many factors, including the timing and extent of spending to support product development efforts, the expansion of sales and marketing activities, the timing of introductions of new products, increased administrative costs of being a public company, changing technology, and the continued market acceptance of our offerings. We could be required, or could elect, to seek additional funding through public or private equity or debt financing for any possible future acquisitions. Additional funds may not be available on terms acceptable to us or at all. We expect our capital expenditures, excluding potential acquisitions, to be less than $8 million for 2006.

Cash Flows

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

Net cash provided by operating activities was approximately $22.5 million for the three months ended February 28, 2006, compared to $11.1 million for the three months ended February 28, 2005, an increase of $11.4 million. The increase was primarily generated by higher sales combined with increasing margins. First-quarter 2005 cash flow from operations was diminished by a $9.9 million payment related to the settlement of a previously existing stock option plan. However, first-quarter 2006 net cash provided by operations was similarly reduced by an incremental $5.2 million in performance-based incentive payments and $2.7 million paid to settle foreign exchange hedges.

Net cash used in investing activities was approximately $32.0 million for the three months ended February 28, 2006, compared to $2.8 million for the three months ended February 28, 2005. We disbursed approximately $33 million on December 1, 2005 for the purchase of a content-and-data-services business for our Engineering segment.

Net cash provided by financing activities was $2.0 million for the three months ended February 28, 2006. Net cash used in financing activities was less than $0.1 million during the three months ended February 28, 2005. Beginning first quarter 2006, we adopted SFAS No. 123(R), Share-Based Payment. This standard amended SFAS

No. 95, Statement of Cash Flows, to require that excess tax benefits be reported as a financing cash inflow rather than as a reduction of taxes paid. Accordingly, we recognized a $2.0 million benefit during the first quarter of 2006; no similar benefit was recognized in the first quarter of 2005.

Credit Facility

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

We are a party to a $125 million unsecured revolving credit agreement (the Revolver), which has a feature allowing us to increase the facility to a maximum of $250 million. The agreement expires in January 2010.

The interest rates for borrowing under the Revolver are based upon our Leverage Ratio, which is the ratio of Consolidated Funded Indebtedness to rolling four quarter Consolidated Earnings Before Interest Expense, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortization (EBITDA), as defined in the Revolver. The rate ranges from the applicable LIBOR plus 75 basis points to 160 basis points or the agent bank's base rate. The facility fee is payable periodically and is 15 or 25 basis points based upon our Leverage Ratio. The Revolver contains certain financial and other covenants, including limitations on capital lease obligations, maximum Leverage Ratio, and maintenance of a Fixed Charge Coverage Ratio, as defined in the Revolver.

As of February 28, 2006, we were in compliance with all of the covenants in the agreement and had no outstanding borrowings. However, we had letters of credit totaling approximately $1.60 million as of February 28, 2006.

Off-Balance Sheet Transactions

We have no off-balance sheet transactions.

Critical Accounting Policies

Our management makes a number of significant estimates, assumptions and judgments in the preparation of our financial statements. See Management's Discussion and Analysis and Results of Operations Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates in our 2005 Form 10-K for a discussion of the estimates and judgments necessary in our accounting for revenue recognition, valuation of long-lived and intangible assets and goodwill, income taxes and pension and post-retirement benefits.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosure About Market Risk

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

For information regarding our exposure to certain market risk, see Item 7A, Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk, in our 2005 Form 10-K. There were no material changes to our market risk exposure during the first three months of 2006.

You should also read Derivatives included in Note 1 to our unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Form 10-Q.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

Edgar Filing: IHS Inc. - Form 10-Q

(a) Evaluation of disclosure controls and procedures.

Our management, with the participation of our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as defined in Rule 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 as of the end of the period covered by this Form 10-Q. The evaluation included certain internal control areas in which we have made and are continuing to make changes to improve and enhance controls. In designing and evaluating the disclosure controls and procedures, management recognized that any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving the desired control objectives. In addition, the design of disclosure controls and procedures must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints and that management is required to apply its judgment in evaluating the benefits of possible controls and procedures relative to their costs.

Based on that evaluation, our chief executive officer and chief financial officer concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures are effective to provide reasonable assurance that information we are required to disclose in reports that we file or submit under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in Securities and Exchange Commission rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

(b) Changes in internal control over financial reporting.

There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the period covered by this Form 10-Q that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

Since 2004 we have invested significant resources to comprehensively document and analyze our system of internal control over financial reporting. We have identified areas requiring improvement, and we are in the process of designing enhanced processes and controls to address issues identified through this review. We plan to continue this initiative as well as prepare for our first management report on internal control over financial reporting, as required by Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, for the annual period ending November 30, 2006, which may result in changes to our internal control over financial reporting.
