ABB names Brice Koch to Group Executive Committee

Manager of China business to take on new role as Head of Marketing and Customer Solutions

Zurich, Switzerland, Sept. 9, 2009 ABB, the leading power and automation technology group, has appointed Brice Koch to the Group Executive Committee as Head of Marketing and Customer Solutions, a new role created to drive additional growth across the company's markets and regions.

Koch, 45, will oversee relations with ABB's largest customers and the development of opportunities in strategic growth areas such as rail, wind, water and smart grids. He will also be responsible for developing ABB's service business.

Koch has been manager of ABB's business in China and North Asia since January 2007. His career includes various positions within the Power Products division since joining ABB in 1994. Koch, a French national, holds a degree in Mechanical Engineering and a PhD in Materials Science, both from the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology (ETH) in Zurich.

Brice has achieved great success with ABB in China as well as in his previous roles, said CEO Joe Hogan. He has a great combination of global business and regional experience and his strong market orientation is very well suited to establishing this new role.

Koch will take up his new position on Jan. 1, 2010, and a successor for his roles in China and North Asia will be named in the next few weeks.
