FIRST QUARTER 2010 HIGHLIGHTS

- Nokia net sales of EUR 9.5 billion, up 3% year-on-year and down 21% sequentially.
- Devices & Services net sales of EUR 6.7 billion, up 8% year-on-year and down 19% sequentially.
- Services net sales of EUR 148 million, down 12% sequentially; billings of EUR 228 million, up 1% sequentially.
- Nokia total mobile device volumes of 107.8 million units, up 16% year-on-year and down 15% sequentially.

Edgar Filing: NOKIA CORP - Form 6-K

- Nokia converged mobile device (smartphone and mobile computer) volumes of 21.5 million units, up 57% year-on-year and up 3% sequentially.
- Nokia mobile device ASP (including services revenue) of EUR 62, down from EUR 64 in Q4 2009.
- Devices & Services gross margin of 32.4%, down from 33.8% in Q1 2009 and 34.3% in Q4 2009.
- Nokia Siemens Networks net sales of EUR 2.7 billion, down 9% year-on-year and down 25% sequentially (down 12% and 27% at constant currency).
- Nokia operating cash flow of EUR 1.0 billion.
- Total cash and other liquid assets of EUR 9.7 billion at the end of Q1 2010.
- Nokia taxes were unfavorably impacted by Nokia Siemens Networks taxes as no tax benefits are recognized for certain Nokia Siemens Networks deferred tax items.

OLLI-PEKKA KALLASVUO, NOKIA CEO:

In Q1, Nokia delivered both year-on-year net sales and operating profit growth. We continue to face tough competition with respect to the high end of our mobile device portfolio, as well as challenging market conditions on the infrastructure side.

During the quarter, we also demonstrated our ability to deliver the Nokia smartphone experience to consumers on a global scale, with our smartphone shipments up by more than 50% year-on-year. The consumer response to the inclusion of our walk and drive navigation offering on our smartphones has been tremendous. Since launching in January, 10 million Nokia smartphone users around the world have downloaded the offering.

In infrastructure, Nokia Siemens Networks' profitability benefited from a positive sales mix in Q1. I am also pleased to see encouraging results from the company's focus on helping operators meet the challenge of the rapid growth in data and signaling traffic from smartphones.

INDUSTRY AND NOKIA OUTLOOK

- Nokia expects Devices & Services net sales to be between EUR 6.7 billion and EUR 7.2 billion in the second quarter 2010.
- Nokia and Nokia Siemens Networks expect Nokia Siemens Networks' net sales to be between EUR 3.1 billion and EUR 3.4 billion in the second quarter 2010.
- Nokia continues to expect industry mobile device volumes to be up approximately 10% in 2010, compared to 2009 (based on its revised definition of the industry mobile device market applicable beginning in 2010).
- Nokia continues to target its mobile device volume market share to be flat in 2010, compared to 2009.
- Nokia continues to target to increase its mobile device value market share slightly in 2010, compared to 2009.
- Nokia and Nokia Siemens Networks continue to expect a flat market in euro terms for the mobile and fixed infrastructure and related services market in 2010, compared to 2009.
- Nokia and Nokia Siemens Networks continue to target Nokia Siemens Networks to grow faster than the market in 2010.

Nokia Group

Nokia's first quarter 2010 net sales increased 3% to EUR 9.5 billion, compared with EUR 9.3 billion in the first quarter 2009.

Nokia's first quarter 2010 operating profit increased to EUR 488 million, compared with EUR 55 million in the first quarter 2009. Nokia's first quarter 2010 operating margin was 5.1% (0.6%).

Operating cash flow for the first quarter 2010 was EUR 1.0 billion. The operating cash flow for the first quarter 2009 was EUR 0.3 billion. Total cash and other liquid assets were EUR 9.7 billion at end of the first quarter 2010, compared with EUR 8.1 billion at the end of the first quarter 2009. At the end of the first quarter 2010, Nokia's net debt-equity ratio (gearing) was 31% compared with -14% at the end of the first quarter 2009.

Nokia is taking measures to mitigate the impact on its business of the disruption to air traffic caused by the spread of ash following the volcanic eruption in Iceland. Measures include adjusting our logistics operation to help ensure component availability and product deliveries to customers. Although the impact on our business is not quantifiable at this stage, it is anticipated that, depending on how long they would need to be in place, the use of alternative logistics arrangements may have an adverse impact on our net sales and profitability going forward.

Devices & Services

Net Sales: First quarter 2010 Devices & Services net sales increased 8% to EUR 6.7 billion, compared with EUR 6.2 billion in the first quarter 2009. The net sales increase resulted primarily from higher volumes in most regions driven by stronger demand, partially offset by an ASP decline, compared to the first quarter 2009.

The following chart sets out Devices & Services net sales for the periods indicated, as well as the year-on-year and sequential growth rates, by geographic area.

Volume and Market Share: In the first quarter 2010, the total mobile device volumes of Devices & Services were 107.8 million units, representing an increase of 16% year-on-year and a decrease of 15% sequentially. The overall industry mobile device volumes for the same period were 323 million units based on Nokia's preliminary estimate, representing an increase of 11% year-on-year and a decrease of 10% sequentially. Nokia's preliminary estimated mobile device market share was 33% in the first quarter 2010, up from an estimated 32% in the first quarter 2009 and down from an estimated 35% in the fourth quarter 2009. As previously announced, beginning in 2010 we revised our definition of the industry mobile device market that we use to estimate industry volumes. This is due to improved measurement processes and tools that enable us to have better visibility to estimate the number of mobile devices sold by certain new entrants in the global mobile device market. We are applying the revised definition and improved measurement processes and tools beginning in 2010, and retrospectively to 2009 for comparative purposes only.

Of the total industry mobile device volumes, converged mobile device industry volumes in the first quarter 2010 increased to 52.6 million units, based on Nokia's preliminary estimate, compared with an estimated 36.0 million units in the first quarter 2009 and 52.4 million units in the fourth quarter 2009. Our own converged mobile device volumes, comprising our smartphones and mobile computers, were 21.5 million units in the first quarter 2010, an increase of 57% compared with 13.7 million units in the first quarter 2009 and 3% compared with 20.8 million units in the fourth quarter 2009. Nokia's preliminary estimated share of the converged mobile device market was 41% in the first quarter 2010, up from an estimated 38% in the first quarter 2009 and an estimated 40% in the fourth quarter 2009.

The following chart sets out our mobile device volumes for the periods indicated, as well as the year-on-year and sequential growth rates, by geographic area.

Total	107.8	93.2	16%	126.9	-15%

Nokia's 16% year-on-year increase in global mobile device volumes was primarily driven by an improved demand environment as economic conditions continued to improve in most regions, compared with the difficult economic conditions of the first quarter 2009. This improvement was offset to some extent by lower demand for our mobile devices in some countries in Asia-Pacific and North America. On a sequential basis, Nokia's 15% decline in global mobile device volumes primarily reflected typical seasonal demand weakness in virtually all regions, offset to some extent by strong demand in China during the New Year festive season in the first quarter 2010. Demand was strong for our converged mobile devices in the first quarter 2010. However, competitive pressures in the ultra-low to mid-range product price bands, particularly in certain Asian countries, adversely affected our mobile device volumes in the first quarter 2010.

Average Selling Price. Our mobile device average selling price (ASP) in the first quarter 2010 was EUR 62, down from EUR 66 in the first quarter 2009 and from EUR 64 in the fourth quarter 2009. The lower year-on-year ASP was primarily due to general price erosion across our mobile device portfolio, offset to some extent by a positive mix shift from sales of mobile phones towards sales of converged mobile devices. On a sequential basis, our lower ASP was primarily driven by price pressure, particularly in certain high-end smartphones, offset to some extent by a positive mix shift from sales of mobile phones towards sales of converged mobile devices. The year-on-year and sequential declines in our converged mobile devices ASPs were mainly driven by an increase in the proportion of such devices sold at lower price points consistent with our strategy to reach wider groups of consumers and price pressure in certain high-end smartphones in the first quarter 2010. As previously announced, beginning in the first quarter 2010 our total ASP includes services net sales given the increasing contribution of the services we sell in combination with our devices.

The following chart sets out our Devices & Services ASP for the periods indicated, as well as the year-on-year and sequential growth rates, by category.

DEVICES & SERVICES AVERAGE SELLING PRICE BY CATEGORY

Note 1: Series 30 and Series 40-based devices ranging from basic mobile phones focused on voice capability to devices with a number of additional functionalities, such as Internet connectivity, including the services and accessories sold with them.

Note 2: Smartphones and mobile computers, including the services and accessories sold with them.

Profitability: Devices & Services gross profit increased 3% to EUR 2.2 billion, compared with EUR 2.1 billion in the first quarter 2009, with a gross margin of 32.4% (33.8%). Devices & Services gross margin was 34.3% in the fourth quarter 2009. Overall, both the year-on-year and sequential gross margin declines were primarily due to our product material costs declining at a lower rate than the price erosion of our devices, especially in the high end of our mobile device portfolio during the first quarter 2010. The year-on-year gross margin decline was offset to some extent by a positive mix shift towards sales of higher-margin converged mobile devices in the first quarter 2010. The first quarter 2009 gross margin also benefited from more positive foreign exchange hedging than did the gross margin in the first quarter 2010. Sequentially, the appreciation of the Japanese Yen versus the Euro, lower royalty income and higher production overhead costs relative to lower volumes in the first quarter 2010 also contributed to the gross margin decline. Foreign exchange hedging had a positive one-quarter impact on the gross margin in the first quarter 2010, compared to an immaterial impact on the gross margin in the fourth quarter 2009.

Devices & Services operating profit increased 52% to EUR 831 million, compared with EUR 547 million in the first quarter 2009, with an operating margin of 12.5% (8.9%). The year-on-year increase in operating profit for the first quarter 2010 was driven primarily by higher net sales as well as lower operating and other expenses.

Nokia is planning to deliver a family of smartphones based on the Symbian^3 software platform that is targeted to offer a clearly improved user experience, a high standard of quality, and competitive value to consumers. We plan to launch the first smartphone based on Symbian^3 during the second quarter 2010, with shipments expected during the third quarter 2010.

NAVTEQ

Net Sales. First quarter 2010 NAVTEQ net sales increased 43% year-on-year to EUR 189 million, compared with EUR 132 million in the first quarter 2009, benefiting from growth in mobile device sales, particularly Nokia mobile devices, and improved conditions in the automotive industry.

Profitability. In the first quarter 2010, NAVTEQ's gross profit increased to EUR 160 million, compared with EUR 115 million in the first quarter 2009, with a gross margin of 84.7% (87.1%). In the first quarter 2010, NAVTEQ's operating loss decreased to EUR 77 million, compared with a EUR 120 million loss in the first quarter 2009. The operating margin was -40.7% (-90.9%).

Nokia Siemens Networks

Net Sales. First quarter 2010 net sales decreased 9% to EUR 2.7 billion, compared with EUR 3.0 billion in the first quarter 2009, reflecting challenging competitive factors and market conditions. Of total Nokia Siemens Networks net sales, services contributed EUR 1.3 billion in the first quarter 2010.

The following chart sets out Nokia Siemens Networks net sales for the periods indicated, as well as the year-on-year and sequential growth rates, by geographic area.

Total	2 718	2 990	-9%	3 625	-25%

Profitability. Nokia Siemens Networks gross profit increased 11% to EUR 782 million, compared with EUR 703 million in the first quarter 2009, with a gross margin of 28.8% (23.5%). The higher year-on-year gross profit in the first quarter 2010 was due primarily to continued progress on product cost reductions as well as an increased proportion of sales of higher margin offerings during the quarter, offset to some extent by lower net sales, compared to the first quarter 2009.

Nokia Siemens Networks first quarter 2010 operating loss was EUR 226 million, compared with an operating loss of EUR 361 million in the first quarter 2009, with an operating margin of -8.3% (-12.1%). The year-on-year improvement in Nokia Siemens Networks operating result primarily reflected improved gross profitability as well as lower operating expenses.

Q1 2010 OPERATING HIGHLIGHTS

Devices & Services

- Nokia continued to make progress in the development of its key services:
- Location: Nokia introduced a new and improved version of Ovi Maps, available for download at www.nokia.com/maps. At the same time, Nokia modified its business model by including world-wide walk and drive navigation with the new Ovi Maps at no extra cost with compatible Nokia smartphones. Since launching in January, the new Ovi Maps has been downloaded by 10 million Nokia smartphone users. Going forward, the offering will be pre-installed on Nokia's smartphones.
- Music: Nokia continued to grow its footprint in digital music, expanding its chain of digital music stores to cover 34 markets, including several markets in the Middle East. Nokia also increased to 28 the number of markets in which Comes With Music, its all you can eat music offering, is available. Since the end of the quarter, Nokia has also launched a Digital Rights Management-free Comes With Music service in China, and announced the upcoming availability of Ovi Music Unlimited in India. Following the launch in India, Nokia will have introduced Comes With Music in each of the BRIC markets.
- Store: Nokia continued to grow and enhance the useability of Ovi Store. Nokia's most popular smartphones each have access to more than 9 500 content items (including applications) in the store, while operator support continues to increase with mobile billing now available through over 60 operators in 19 countries. The vast majority of Ovi Store users can access the store in their own language and pay for content in their local currency. Currently, the store is attracting more than 1.5 million downloads a day, with the average active user downloading more than 8 applications or items of content a month.
- Messaging: Nokia Messaging continued to grow, with more than three million accounts now created.
- Emerging markets: Subscriptions to Nokia Life Tools, a service giving access to agricultural information and education and entertainment services without requiring use of GPRS or web connectivity, reached more than one million. The service is currently available in India and Indonesia. After introducing Nokia Money in 2009, Nokia in February 2010 launched a commercial pilot of the service in Pune, one of the largest metropolitan areas in India, in partnership with YES BANK. Through the service, people can transfer money to other people just by using their mobile phone numbers, pay utility bills as well as recharge their prepaid SIM cards (SIM top-up).
- Nokia announced the Nokia C5, a smartphone optimized for social networking and sharing. The compact device includes access to Nokia's range of mobile services, such as free navigation, in one affordable package, with an estimated retail price of EUR 135, before taxes and subsidies.
- Nokia commenced shipments of the Nokia X6 16GB, a powerful, touch entertainment smartphone.

Edgar Filing: NOKIA CORP - Form 6-K

- Nokia commenced shipments of the Nokia 2690, an entry device giving access to Ovi Mail and featuring an FM radio and VGA camera.
- Nokia and T-Mobile USA commenced shipments of the Nokia 5230 Nuron smartphone, which features turn by turn navigation at no extra cost and is the first Nokia device with a United States operator preloaded with Ovi Store.
- Nokia and Intel began to merge their Maemo and Moblin software platforms to form a single Linux-based and fully open source platform, MeeGo, for a wide range of computing devices, including pocketable mobile computers, netbooks, tablets, mediaphones, connected TVs and in-vehicle infotainment systems. By creating MeeGo, Nokia and Intel plan to accelerate industry innovation and reduce time-to-market for a range of new Internet-based applications and services and exciting user experiences.
- Nokia announced the acquisition of Novarra, whose mobile browser and services platform will be used by Nokia to deliver enhanced Internet experiences on Nokia's mobile phones based on the Series 40 software platform. The acquisition was completed in April 2010.

NAVTEQ

- NAVTEQ launched its new advanced mapping collection technology, NAVTEQ True, further innovating the scale and quality of data collection and processing.
- NAVTEQ announced the availability of real-time traffic in the United Kingdom, bringing to 13 the number of European countries in which uninterrupted traffic data are available.
- NAVTEQ launched Intermediate Maps of Nigeria and Kenya, expanding map coverage in Africa by more than 200 000 kilometers and more than 23 000 Points of Interest.
- NAVTEQ launched Enhanced 3D City Models in Europe, providing intelligent visual texturing to simplify navigation.
- NAVTEQ announced that Nobex Technologies selected NAVTEQ Location Point Advertising, making location-aware advertising inventory available on Nobex Radio Companion.
- NAVTEQ announced that the National Geospatial Intelligence Agency selected NAVTEQ map data to support the Homeland Security Infrastructure Program.
- NAVTEQ announced the signing of Golden Tulip Hospitality Group as a Direct Access customer for their 230 properties worldwide.
- NAVTEQ announced the development of Fiat Group Automobiles' first online Map Update Store.

Nokia Siemens Networks

- Under a five-year managed services contract with NII Holdings, Nokia Siemens Networks will plan, design, build, manage, and optimize their network in Argentina, Chile, Brazil, Mexico and Peru. The contract covers the existing iDEN networks and the upcoming 3G networks of the operator.

Edgar Filing: NOKIA CORP - Form 6-K

- Nokia Siemens Networks continued to win major contracts in key emerging markets including India with a USD 700 million network expansion deal with Bharti Airtel and a EUR 300 million GSM roll out and Managed Services contract with Aircel; and in China with a 3G Radio and Core Network deal with Beijing Mobile that supports future migration to TD-LTE.
- Nokia Siemens Networks maintained momentum in LTE with a new contract with TeliaSonera; Nokia Siemens Networks also made the Middle East's first LTE call with Zain Bahrain and completed a 100 Mbps data call on an LTE trial network with M1 in Singapore.
- Nokia Siemens Networks was selected by the Iliad Group's Free Mobile business for the supply of radio, core and applications for the 4th license 3G mobile network in France. Nokia Siemens Networks won a contract to upgrade Telefonica's 3G network in Spain to HSPA+ paving the way for enhanced mobile broadband services with download speeds up to 42 Mbps.
- Nokia Siemens Networks' core mobile network technology, which addresses the signaling and capacity challenges of growing smartphone data usage, earned the company contracts with operators including Swisscom and SFR. In response to the increasing demand for converged devices, Nokia Siemens Networks established Smart Labs in Finland and the United States with the aim of enhancing the everyday experience of users of converged devices.
- Operators continued to leverage Nokia Siemens Networks' subscriber-centric solutions to provide flexible and personalized services to its customers. Deals were signed with Tunisiiana and Vodacom Tanzania for flexible and convergent payment services and Smart Communications in the Philippines for unified charging and billing solution which will allow it to bring services to market faster.
- In North America, Nokia Siemens Networks announced five contracts for its 40 Gbps optical solution, with XO Communications, Columbus Networks, Insight Communications, NewWave Communications and Fidelity Communications. In addition, the Optical Transport Network (OTN) Switch was launched in the quarter, a key new product for the optical portfolio.

The same accounting policies and methods of computation are followed in the interim financial statements as were followed in the consolidated financial statements of Nokia for 2009.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

It should be noted that certain statements herein which are not historical facts are forward-looking statements, including, without limitation, those regarding: A) the timing of the deliveries of our products and services and their combinations; B) our ability to develop, implement and commercialize new technologies, products and services and their combinations; C) expectations regarding market developments and structural changes; D) expectations and targets regarding our industry volumes, market share, prices, net sales and margins of products and services and their combinations; E) expectations and targets regarding our operational priorities and results of operations; F) the outcome of pending and threatened litigation; G) expectations regarding the successful completion of acquisitions or restructurings on a timely basis and our ability to achieve the financial and operational targets set in connection with any such acquisition or restructuring; and H) statements preceded by believe, expect, anticipate, foresee, target, estimate, designed, plans, will or similar expressions. These statements are based on best assumptions and beliefs in light of the information currently available to it. Because they involve risks and uncertainties, actual results may differ materially from the results that we currently expect. Factors that could cause these differences include, but are not limited to: 1) the competitiveness and quality of our portfolio of products and services and their combinations; 2) our ability to timely and successfully develop or otherwise acquire the appropriate technologies and commercialize them as new advanced products and services and their combinations, including our ability to attract application developers and content providers to develop applications and provide content for use in our devices; 3) our ability to effectively, timely and profitably adapt our business and operations to the requirements of the converged mobile device market and the services market; 4) the intensity of competition in the various markets where we do business and our ability to maintain or improve our market position or respond successfully to changes in the competitive environment; 5) the occurrence of any actual or even alleged defects or other quality, safety or security issues in our products and services and their combinations; 6) the development of the mobile and fixed communications industry and general economic conditions globally and regionally; 7) our ability to successfully manage costs; 8) exchange rate fluctuations, including, in particular, fluctuations between the euro, which is our reporting currency, and the US dollar, the Japanese yen and the Chinese yuan, as well as certain other currencies; 9) the success, financial condition and performance of our suppliers, collaboration partners and customers; 10) our ability to source sufficient amounts of fully functional components, sub-assemblies, software, applications and content without interruption and at acceptable prices and quality; 11) our success in collaboration arrangements with third parties relating to the development of new technologies, products and services, including applications and content; 12) our ability to manage efficiently our manufacturing and logistics, as well as to ensure the quality, safety, security and timely delivery of our products and services and their combinations; 13) our ability to manage our inventory and timely adapt our supply to meet changing demands for our products; 14) our ability to protect the complex technologies, which we or others develop or that we license, from claims that we have infringed third parties' intellectual property rights, as well as our unrestricted use on commercially acceptable terms of certain technologies in our products and services and their combinations; 15) our ability to protect numerous Nokia, NAVTEQ and Nokia Siemens Networks patented, standardized or proprietary technologies from third-party infringement or actions to invalidate the intellectual property rights of these technologies; 16) the impact of changes in government policies, trade policies, laws or regulations and economic or political turmoil in countries where our assets are located and we do business; 17) any disruption to information technology systems and networks that our operations rely on; 18) our ability to retain, motivate, develop and recruit appropriately skilled employees; 19) unfavorable outcome of litigations; 20) allegations of possible health risks from electromagnetic fields generated by base stations and mobile devices and lawsuits related to them, regardless of merit; 21) our ability to achieve targeted costs reductions and increase profitability in Nokia Siemens Networks and to effectively and timely execute related restructuring measures; 22) developments under large, multi-year contracts or in relation to major customers in the networks infrastructure and related services business; 23) the management of our customer financing exposure, particularly in the networks infrastructure and related services business; 24) whether ongoing or any additional governmental investigations into alleged violations of law by some former employees of Siemens AG ( Siemens ) may involve and affect the carrier-related assets and employees transferred by Siemens to Nokia Siemens Networks; 25) any impairment of Nokia Siemens Networks customer relationships resulting from ongoing or any additional governmental investigations involving the Siemens carrier-related operations transferred to Nokia Siemens Networks; as well as the risk factors specified on pages 11-32 of Nokia's annual report Form 20-F for the year ended December 31, 2009 under Item 3D. Risk Factors. Other unknown or unpredictable factors or underlying assumptions subsequently proving to be incorrect could cause actual results to differ materially from those in the forward-looking statements. Nokia does not undertake any obligation to publicly update or revise forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except to the extent legally required.
