Alyst Acquisition Corp. Form 425 January 26, 2009

China s Emerging TV Advertising Network

January 2009

Filed by China Networks International Holdings Ltd.

Pursuant to Rule 425 under the Securities Act of 1933 and Deemed Filed Pursuant to Rule 14a-12 under the Securities Act of 1934

Subject Company: Alyst Acquisition Corp. SEC File No. 001-33563

The information contained in this presentation is intended solely for the benefit of investors interested in the proposed acquisition of China Networks Media Ltd. (China Networks) by Alyst Acquisition Corp. (Alyst). Except where otherwise indicated, the information in this presentation has been provided solely by China Networks and Chardan Capital Markets.

Alyst, China Networks and China Networks International Holdings (CN International), and their respective directors and executive officers, and Chardan Capital Markets and its partners and directors may be deemed to be participants in the solicitation of proxies for the special meeting of Alyst stockholders to be held to approve, among other things, the proposed business combination with China Networks. In connection with the pending transaction, CN International will also file with the SEC a Registration Statement on Form S-4. The stockholders of Alyst are urged to read the Registration Statement and the preliminary proxy statement/prospectus, and the definitive proxy statement/prospectus when they are available, as well as all other relevant documents filed or to be filed with the SEC, because they will contain important information about China Networks, Alyst, and the proposed transaction. The final proxy statement/prospectus will be mailed to stockholders of Alyst after the Registration Statement is declared effective by the SEC. Stockholders will be able to obtain a copy of the definitive proxy statement/prospectus and any other relevant filed documents at no charge from the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission s website (www.sec.gov). These documents will also be available from Alyst at no charge, once filed with the SEC, by directing a request to 233 East 69th Street, #6J, New York, NY 10021.

This presentation contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995.

These forward-looking statements are based on current expectations or beliefs, including, but not limited to, statements concerning the company's operations and financial performance and condition. For this purpose, statements that are statements of historical fact may be deemed to be forward-looking statements. The company cautions that these statements by their nature involve risks and uncertainties, and actual results may differ materially depending on a variety of important factors beyond the control of Alyst and China Networks.

Growth Strategy

1. Improve core profitability Organic Growth

Increase revenue ~20+% per annum through: ad sales effectiveness, network leveraged pricing, assisting the TV stations on improving their programming acquisition strategy

Reduce costs of ad delivery through storage/transmission technologies and economies of scale, holding net margins at 68 70%

2. Extend offering in network Organic Growth

Expand full-service offering to include media planning and creative services

Leverage buying power by advising network stations on their programming acquisition

Develop new channel offerings in partnership with partners, e.g. Home Shopping

3. Expand network M&A Growth

Acquire additional TV advertising network stakes: pipeline of >10 deals already prioritized from field of >350 potential broadcaster partners

Opportunity to build affiliate network with agency deals to sell partial ad inventory

Profile of Typical Add-on Acquisition

Business Opportunity

Chinese TV industry is decentralized and highly fragmented

296 broadcasters operating over 2,983 channels, reaching 96% of the population through terrestrial and cable ¹

National and Provincial SARFT² who own all assets currently are keen to see performance and monetization

Huge growth in advertising spending

Advertising growth set to continue at 17.33% per annum³

China will become the 4th largest advertising economy in the world in 2010 worth $24bn⁴

TV advertising is largest (~40%) and fastest growing medium in the market ⁴

Deregulation just beginning

Industry has been highly regulated which has limited private investment and virtually precluded foreign investment to date

Deregulation (in advertising initially) creates significant opportunities for companies that can improve the profitability and efficiency of broadcasters

Takeaway Points China s First TV Advertising Network

Profitable established business with significant scale

China Network s initial acquisitions provide a historically stable profit base with a large platform of established audiences in each market.

Rapidly growing market

China s advertising market was already large ($15bn) in 2007 and growing rapidly (17.33% CAGR) and will become the 4th largest in the world in 2010, with TV advertising consisting of 40% share.¹

Unique and advantageous structural position

By securing exclusive contracts to provide advertising in multiple territories in partnership with SARFT, China Network enters the market with a unique and sustainable competitive advantage, and a highly scalable business model.

Strong growth prospects

In addition to expanding the core ad-sales business through operational improvements and market development, and growing the network through acquiring stakes in additional territories, China Network has a rich set of growth options including building an affiliate network of partner-channels and additional content provision.

Seasoned management team

China Network has attracted a highly-experienced team with solid experience and proven track record in the TV and advertising industry in China and internationally, as well as established relationships with national and local governments.
