Allianz repays a first tranche of the MILES bond in Munich Re shares

Allianz will be repaying a first tranche of about 50 percent of the MILES bond issued in January 2001 ahead of schedule by releasing Munich Re shares. The number of Munich Re shares used to redeem the bond will be based on the DAX Index and the average stock-market price of the Munich Re share during a 20-day reference period. This commences on July 18, 2003 and ends on August 14, 2003. The repayment in Munich Re shares will be made on August 25, 2003. As already announced in March, this transaction should be regarded in conjunction with Allianz' intention to reduce the shareholding in Munich Re to around 15 percent. Partial redemption of the index-linked convertible bond will presumably reduce the shareholding by around 3 percent.

The MILES index-linked exchangeable bond was issued on January 12, 2001 with a nominal value of then 2.0 billion euros. The current market value of the bond is around 1 billion euros. It matures on February 20, 2004.

Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

Certain of the statements contained herein may be statements of future expectations and other forward-looking statements that are based on management's current views and assumptions and involve known and unknown risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results, performance or events to differ materially from those expressed or implied in such statements. In addition to statements which are forward-looking by reason of context, the words `may, will, should, expects, plans, intends, anticipates, believes, estimates, predicts, potential, or continue' and similar expressions identify forward-looking statements. Actual results, performance or events may differ materially from those in such statements due to, without limitation, (i) general economic conditions, including in particular economic conditions in the Allianz Group's core business and core markets, (ii) performance of financial markets, including emerging markets, (iii) the frequency and severity of insured loss events, (iv) mortality and morbidity levels and trends, (v) persistency levels, (vi) the extent of credit defaults (vii) interest rate levels, (viii) currency exchange rates including the Euro-U.S. dollar exchange rate, (ix) changing levels of competition, (x) changes in laws and regulations, including monetary convergence and the European Monetary Union, (xi) changes in the policies of central banks and/or foreign governments, (xii) the impact of acquisitions, including related integration issues, (xiii) reorganization measures and (xiv) general competitive factors, in each case on a local, regional, national and/or global basis. Many of these factors may be more likely to occur, or more pronounced, as a result of terrorist activities and their consequences. The matters discussed herein may also involve risks and uncertainties described from time to time in Allianz AG's filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. The company assumes no obligation to update any forward-looking information.

No duty to update
