Item 5.      Other Events

The United States Attorney's Office for the Central District of California has informed the Company that it is investigating the hiring practices of Ralphs Grocery Company during the labor dispute from October, 2003 through February, 2004. Among matters under investigation is the allegation that certain Ralphs store directors knowingly allowed or enabled some locked out employees to work under false identities or false Social Security numbers despite Company policy forbidding such conduct. A grand jury has convened to consider whether such acts violated federal criminal statutes. The Company is cooperating with the investigation, and it is too early to determine whether charges will be filed or what potential penalties Ralphs may face. In addition, these alleged practices are the subject of claims that Ralphs' conduct of the lockout was unlawful, and that Ralphs should be liable under the National Labor Relations Act. The National Labor Relations Board has not determined to issue a complaint and, in any case, the Company believes it has substantial defenses to any such claims.
