Kesanupalli Senior Vice President and General Manager of the Worldwide Product Operations Division; and Scott C. Taylor, Vice President, General Counsel and Secretary. The term of each Severance Agreement is three years.

The Severance Agreement for Mr. Sisto provides that in the event of the termination of his employment by the Company for any reason other than cause, death, disability or a change of control or if Mr. Sisto terminates his employment for good reason, the Company will continue to pay him for a severance period of 24 months following such termination. The Severance Agreement for Mr. Gibbs provides that the Company will continue to pay him for an initial severance period of 12 months following such termination of his employment, and Mr. Gibbs may receive up to six months of additional severance pay if he has not been re-employed at the end of his initial severance period. This additional severance for Mr. Gibbs will cease when Mr. Gibbs is re-employed. The Severance Agreements for Mr. Kesanupalli and Mr. Taylor provide that the Company will continue to pay them for a severance period of six months following such termination of their employment.

The severance amount to be paid to each Executive will be at a monthly rate equal to the Executive's monthly base salary then in effect. The Company will also provide each Executive with his then current medical, dental and vision benefits for a period of six months following termination except that Mr. Sisto will receive such benefits for a period of 18 months following termination. In addition, the vested portion of any stock options held by the Executive as of the termination date will remain exercisable for six months following termination.

In the event of the termination of the Executive's employment within two months prior to or twelve months following a change of control of the Company, and such termination is (i) by the Company for any reason other than cause, death or disability or (ii) by the Executive for good reason, the Company will pay the Executive the severance and benefits described above.
