Item 8.01 Other Events.

March 14, 2007, the United States District Court for the Northern District of California issued an order in the litigation captioned Monolithic Power Systems, Inc. v. O2 Micro International Limited (and Related Counterclaims), Case No. C 04-2000 CW (N.D. Cal.).

In the order, the Court: 1) granted a motion by MPS for summary judgment that O2 Micro was not damaged by any alleged unfair conduct; 2) granted in part and denied in part O2 Micro's motion for summary judgment. Specifically, the court ruled that O2 Micro's continued pursuit of its claim of the infringement of the '615 patent is not immunized and can be the basis for an unfair competition claim by MPS; and 3) granted in part a motion by MPS for summary judgment as to O2 Micro's unfair competition claim. Specifically, the court ruled that O2 Micro's allegations relating to an alleged violation of a Taiwanese court injunction and alleged second source supplier agreements cannot be the basis of O2 Micro's unfair competition claim.
