BLOCKBUSTER COMMENTS REGARDING BOARD CANDIDATES

DALLAS, April 8, 2010 / PRNewswire FirstCall Blockbuster Inc. (NYSE: BBI, BBIB) today released a statement following Gregory Meyer's announcement of his self-nomination to the company's Board of Directors.

Blockbuster strongly supports James W. Crystal and the other members in the company's slate for election as members of the board of directors, said Jim Keyes, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of Blockbuster. Jim Crystal is very important for his experience with the company during the last three years and invaluable assistance in Blockbuster's plans for recapitalization of the company and the transformation of our business model. His continuity in board service, along with the others on the company's slate, will play a key role in our success at Blockbuster.

We remain committed to our work to recapitalize and continue to transform Blockbuster into a multi-channel provider of media entertainment, and believe that our slate of board members provide the essential experience, understanding and continuity to guide the company and deliver the best value for all of our shareholders.

While we have an appreciation for Mr. Gregory Meyer's investment and interest in the company, those are not sufficient reasons for his candidacy for the board. We are disappointed Mr. Meyer is pursuing a costly and disruptive proxy contest. A proxy contest can only serve as a distraction to the company when attention and resources would be better used in creating value for stakeholders by implementing our strategic plan. We assure all of our constituencies that we remain committed, as always, to doing what is right for our shareholders, debt holders, employees, and customers, concluded Mr. Keyes.
