Investment Objective of the WisdomTree Dreyfus Currency Income ETFs and WisdomTree Emerging Markets Local Debt Fund

The WisdomTree Dreyfus Euro Fund (Euro Fund) and the WisdomTree Dreyfus Japanese Yen Fund (Japanese Yen Fund) both seek to earn current income reflective of money market rates within their jurisdiction available to foreign investors.

The WisdomTree Dreyfus Brazilian Real Fund (Brazilian Real Fund), WisdomTree Dreyfus Chinese Yuan Fund (Chinese Yuan Fund), WisdomTree Dreyfus Indian Rupee Fund (Indian Rupee Fund), WisdomTree Dreyfus New Zealand Dollar Fund (New Zealand Dollar Fund), and WisdomTree Dreyfus South African Rand Fund (South African Rand Fund) each seek to achieve total returns reflective of both money market rates within their jurisdiction available to foreign investors and changes in the value of the respective currency relative to the U.S. dollar.

WisdomTree Dreyfus Emerging Currency Fund (Emerging Currency Fund) seeks to achieve total returns reflective of both money market rates in selected emerging market countries available to foreign investors and changes in the value of the currencies relative to the U.S. dollar.

WisdomTree Emerging Markets Local Debt Fund (Local Debt Fund) seeks a high level of total return consisting of both income and capital appreciation.

Economic Environment Background

Global economic recovery continued in the first six months of the fiscal year ended August 31, 2010, supported by the lingering effects of fiscal and monetary stimulus injected during the crisis of 2008. Emerging markets, in particular, recovered quickly from the crisis and generated strong economic growth. Many emerging market central banks also began raising interest rates to normalize rates and remove excess stimulus. Advanced economies such as the U.S., Europe, Japan, and United Kingdom, however, grew at much slower rates. In May, concerns over the willingness and ability of Greece and other smaller members of the European Union to satisfy their expansive debt obligations exploded. This helped trigger a sharp sell-off in late spring in assets perceived to be riskier. Support from the European Union and International Monetary Fund (IMF) helped to diffuse immediate risks, and the de-pegging of the Chinese yuan from the U.S. dollar in June encouraged investments in riskier assets during the early summer.

In August, disappointments in G4 economic releases and moderation in the pace of growth for key emerging markets sparked concerns about the vibrancy of the economic recovery. Pessimism about future growth, in turn, reignited sovereign debt concerns in Europe. The G4 Central banks debated implementing additional stimulative measures. Several emerging market central banks paused from hiking rates further. Renewed appreciation in the Chinese yuan and an uptick in economic data began to assuage growth concerns as the fiscal year came to a close.

Foreign Exchange Markets

The past year in foreign exchange markets was characterized by several key events: (i) overall weakness of the euro relative to the U.S. dollar and other currencies, (ii) the de-pegging of the Chinese yuan relative to the U.S. dollar and (iii) the continued outperformance of emerging currencies versus developed market currencies. Asian currencies and Latin American currencies performed the best over the year. Of the 34 currencies the Funds actively monitor, Asia and Latin America contributed all of the top ten performing currencies (7 and 3 respectively). The ten worst performing currencies in terms of spot performance were all European currencies.

During the fall of 2009, currencies of emerging market countries and commodity exporting currencies extended gains against the U.S. dollar. This was largely driven by the optimism about the global recovery and widening growth and yield differentials between these countries and G4 economies. The U.S. dollar began to recover in late November as the concerns over debt solvency broke out in Dubai and began to appear in the smaller European countries. A stream of positive U.S. economic figures fostered thoughts of a decoupling between U.S. and European economic growth. The euro, pound and Eastern European currencies declined relative to the dollar through the winter of 2010. Latin American and Asian currencies remained relatively resilient to the U.S. dollar during this period, as economic momentum continued in these regions.

In March and April, rising inflation pressures in China and increased tensions between China and the U.S. incited speculation that China would break its 18-month peg to the U.S. dollar. Investors in forward markets quickly moved to price in future appreciation of the yuan relative to the U.S. dollar. Investors were subsequently disappointed as discussions between China and U.S. leaders delayed the move and the yuan did appreciate as anticipated.

The escalation of European sovereign debt concerns spurred a flight to safety within the foreign exchange markets in late April. The U.S. dollar and the yen rallied, while the euro, commodity currencies, and emerging market currencies lost value. The diffusion of these stresses and the surprise de-pegging of the yuan to the U.S. dollar in June curtailed the sell-off and offered a more supportive backdrop for emerging currencies until concerns about future growth emerged in August.

The following table reflects the cumulative performance of specified foreign currencies based on the spot return rate of such currencies against the U.S. dollar during the year ended August 31, 2010. A spot rate is the foreign exchange market price at which a currency will be delivered on the settlement date. Spot rate is the starting point for all foreign exchange transactions. The spot return rate is the rate of return percentage difference between the end of period spot rate and the beginning of period spot rate.

Currency Fund Performance

Income return continued to be strong driver of fund performance over the last year. Among the single currency funds, 4 of the 7 funds produced total returns which exceeded the change in their respective value of the underlying currency by more than 1.5% (see pages 5 to 13 herein for a discussion of standardized performance for each Fund.). The two strongest performing funds, the Brazilian Real Fund and the South African Rand Fund, generated total returns twice as large as the underlying change in the spot return of the currency. The Brazilian Real Fund grew 14.2%, exceeding the 6.6% appreciation in the real to the dollar. The South African Rand Fund added 12.5% in value, with spot currency movements accounting for just 5.6% of the return. The Indian Rupee Fund, which grew 5.5% and the New Zealand Dollar, which grew 4.3%, both produced modest single-digit returns but exceeded spot returns by over 1.5%. Despite the near zero-coupon rates, the Japanese Yen Fund posted strong performance as periodic flights to safety and reduced involvement as a funding currency in the carry trade (purchases of high-yielding currencies through funding with low-yielding currencies) boosted the yen relative to the dollar.

The Emerging Currency Fund posted 4.0% return over the fiscal year, outperforming its industry benchmark the JP Morgan Emerging Local Markets Index Plus by over 1.0%. Regional selection drove the outperformance with limited exposure to Eastern Europe being a primary contributor.

Low interest rates on euro money markets provided little cushion against the sharp drop in the euro relative to the U.S. dollar and the Euro Fund lost over 11.4% during the year. The Chinese Yuan Fund struggled during the fiscal year posting -1.9% loss, while the currency gained 0.3%. The Fund underperformed as expectations for appreciation in the yuan went largely unrealized for much of the year. As Chinese officials resumed appreciating the yuan at fiscal year end, the Fund picked up momentum and erased the entire loss for the previous year in the month of September.

The Funds continue to focus on credit risk in selecting short-term money market instruments. Despite the improvement in liquidity in the short-term money markets, the currency Funds have retained a more conservative approach of investing exclusively in government securities.

For the Euro Fund, the portfolio continued to remain in liquid, diversified euro bloc government bills, short-term time deposits and short-term investment grade corporate bonds, with investments spread across various short maturities. The Fund looked to opportunistically invest in high quality investment grade corporates, in particular corporations that have government guarantees supporting the bond. For the Japanese Yen Fund, the portfolio continues to consist of very liquid government bills and high quality, investment grade corporate bonds throughout the short end of the interest rate curve. Positions in repurchase agreements collateralized by government bills and short-term time deposits were used to help provide liquidity in the Fund's holdings.

A similar approach guides the Funds' investments in derivative instruments. Each of the Funds strive to generally maintain a 1:1 relationship between the future value of money market investments and the aggregate value of their derivative positions. It is not the intention of the currency income to provide leveraged exposure to the currencies and their returns.

Changes were implemented within the Emerging Currency Fund and Chinese Yuan Fund over the past year. As part of our annual currency selection review in July, Malaysian ringgit was added to the constituent currencies of the Emerging Currency Fund. The decision to add the ringgit was based on rising trading volume and improved liquidity, as well as increased governmental transparency in relation to foreign exchange policy. The expansion of the basket from 11 to 12 currencies lowered the individual currency weighting from 9.1% to 8.3% and raised the exposure to Asian currencies to 42%, while lowering exposures to Latin America and Europe, Middle East, and Africa (EMEA) to 25% and 33% respectively. To better capture the entire shape of the currency forward curve for the Chinese yuan, the Chinese Yuan Fund extended the average term to maturity for the forward currency contracts from 3 months to 6 months. This change was implemented to the Fund in November 2009.

The following table reflects the Funds' performance for the year ended August 31, 2010:

Fund	1-Year Fund Total Return	1-Year Currency Return
Brazilian Real Fund	14.24%	6.62%

Emerging Markets Local Debt Fund Performance

On August 9, 2010, the Emerging Markets Local Debt Fund was launched. The Fund seeks to achieve a high level of total return consisting of both income and capital appreciation through investments in local currency debt of emerging market issuers. While the Fund is actively managed, it utilizes the JPMorgan Global Bond Index - Emerging Markets (GBI-EM) Global Diversified Index benchmark as a guideline for investment performance. The JPMorgan GBI-EM Global Diversified Index is a market capitalization based index tracking the performance of local currency debt issued by emerging market sovereign issuers that cap exposure to any one sovereign issuer to 10%. It is commonly used benchmark by many mutual funds and separate accounts investing in the asset class.

For the period August 9, 2010 through August 31, 2010, the Fund returned -0.30% while the JPMorgan GBI-EM Global Diversified Index returned -0.97%. The Fund's outperformance can be attributed to the superior performance of Asian and Latin American currencies relative to European currencies. The Fund currently has a strategic bias to Asian and Latin American bonds, while the index is more heavily weighted toward Europe, the Middle East and Africa.

The WisdomTree Dreyfus Brazilian Real Fund seeks to achieve total returns reflective of both money market rates in Brazil available to foreign investors and changes in value of the Brazilian real relative to the U.S. dollar. The Brazilian real is a developing market currency which can experience periods of significant volatility. Although the Fund invests in very short-term, investment grade instruments, the Fund is not a money market fund and it is not the objective of the Fund to maintain a constant share price.

The Wisdom Tree Dreyfus Brazilian Real Fund returned 14.24% on net asset value (NAV) for the fiscal year ended August 31, 2010 (for more complete performance information please see below). The Fund outperformed the change in the spot currency rate by 7.62% for the fiscal year. This was largely due to the Fund's investments in U.S. money market instruments and forward currency contracts.

The following performance chart is provided for comparative purposes and represents the period noted. The Fund's per share NAV is the value of one share of the Fund and is calculated by dividing the value of total assets less total liabilities by the number of shares outstanding. The NAV return is based on the NAV of the Fund and the market price return is based on the market price per share of the Fund. The price used to calculate market price returns is the mid-point of the highest bid and lowest offer for Fund shares as of the close of trading on the exchange where Fund shares are listed. NAV and market price returns assume that dividends and capital gain distributions have been reinvested in the Fund at NAV and market price, respectively. As with other ETFs, NAV returns and market price returns may differ because of factors such as the supply and demand for fund shares and investors' assessments of the underlying value of a fund's portfolio securities.

The Fund also seeks to maintain liquidity and preserve capital measured in Euros. The euro is a developed market currency, which can experience periods of significant volatility. Although the Fund invests in very short-term, investment grade instruments, the Fund is not a money market fund and it is not the objective of the Fund to maintain a constant share price.

The Wisdom Tree Dreyfus Euro Fund returned -11.43% on net asset value (NAV) for the fiscal year ended August 31, 2010 (for more complete performance information please see below). The Fund outperformed the change in the spot currency rate by 0.01% for the fiscal year. This was the result of the interest income from the euro-denominated money market instruments.

The following performance chart is provided for comparative purposes and represents the period noted. The Fund's per share NAV is the value of one share of the Fund and is calculated by dividing the value of total assets less total liabilities by the number of shares outstanding. The NAV return is based on the NAV of the Fund and the market price return is based on the market price per share of the Fund. The price used to calculate market price returns is the mid-point of the highest bid and lowest offer for Fund shares as of the close of trading on the exchange where Fund shares are listed. NAV and market price returns assume that dividends and capital gain distributions have been reinvested in the Fund at NAV and market price, respectively. As with other ETFs, NAV returns and market price returns may differ because of factors such as the supply and demand for fund shares and investors' assessments of the underlying value of a fund's portfolio securities.

An index is a statistical measure of a specified financial market or sector. An index does not actually hold a portfolio of securities, incur expenses or pay any transaction costs. Therefore index returns do not reflect deductions for fees or expenses and are not available for direct investment. In comparison, the Fund's performance is negatively impacted by these deductions. Fund returns also do not reflect brokerage commission or taxes a shareholder would pay on the sales of Fund shares or on Fund distributions. The annual expense ratio of the Fund during the period was 0.35%.

Shareholder Expense Examples (unaudited)

As a shareholder of a WisdomTree Fund, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, including brokerage commissions on purchases and sales of your Fund shares and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees and other Fund expenses. The following example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars and cents) of investing in a Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other funds.

The example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period from March 1, 2010 to August 31, 2010 and WisdomTree Emerging Markets Local Debt Fund from August 9, 2010* to August 31, 2010.

Actual expenses

The first line under each Fund in the table on the next page provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line for your Fund under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period 3/01/10 to 8/31/10" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical example for comparison purposes

The second line under each Fund in the table on the next page provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on each Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in your Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as brokerage commissions paid on purchases and sales of Fund shares. Therefore, the second line under each Fund in the table is useful in comparing ongoing Fund costs only and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (Codification) has become the exclusive reference of authoritative U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) recognized by the FASB to be applied by non governmental entities. Rules and interpretive releases of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) under authority of federal laws are also sources of authoritative GAAP for SEC registrants. The Codification has superseded all existing non-SEC accounting and reporting standards.

Guarantees In the normal course of business the Funds may enter into contracts that contain a variety of representations or that provide indemnification for certain liabilities. The Funds' maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Funds that have not yet occurred. However, the Funds have not had prior claims or losses pursuant to these contracts and expect the risk of loss to be remote.

Use of Estimates The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP, requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in the net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Investment Valuation The net asset value (NAV) of each Fund's shares is calculated each day the national securities exchanges are open for trading as of the close of regular trading on the New York Stock Exchange, generally 4:00 p.m. Eastern time. NAV per share is calculated by dividing a Fund's net assets by the number of Fund shares outstanding. In calculating a Fund's NAV, Fund investments generally are valued using market valuations. Short-term debt securities with remaining maturities of 60 days or less generally are valued on the basis of amortized cost which approximates fair value. U.S. fixed income assets may be valued as of the announced closing time for such securities on any day that the Securities Industry and Financial Markets Association announces an early closing time. Forward foreign currency contracts are valued daily using WM/Reuters closing spot and forward rates as of 4:00 p.m. London time for Europe and the Americas and Tullett Prebon closing spot and forward rates as of 2:00 p.m. Singapore time for Asia. The value of any assets or liabilities denominated in a currency other than the U.S. dollar is converted into U.S. dollars using an exchange rate deemed appropriate by the Fund. In certain instances, such as when reliable market valuations are not readily available or are not deemed to reflect current market values, a Fund's investments will be valued in accordance with the Fund's pricing policy and procedures approved by the Board of Trustees. For these purposes, a price based on amortized cost is considered a market valuation. Securities that may be valued using fair value pricing may include, but are not limited to, securities for which there are no current market quotations or whose issuer is in default or bankruptcy, securities subject to corporate actions (such as mergers or reorganizations), securities subject to non-U.S. investment limits or currency controls, and securities affected by significant events. An example of a significant event is an event occurring after the close of the market in which a security trades but before a Fund's next NAV calculation time that may materially affect the value of a Fund's investment (e.g., government action, natural disaster, or significant market fluctuation). When fair-value pricing is employed, the prices of securities used by a Fund to calculate its NAV may differ from quoted or published prices for the same securities. Each Fund may invest in money market funds which are valued at NAV.

Edgar Filing: WisdomTree Trust - Form N-CSR

Fair Value Measurement In accordance with Codification Topic 820 (ASC 820), Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures, fair value is defined as the price that each Fund would receive upon selling an investment in an orderly transaction to an independent buyer in the principal or most advantageous market of the investment. ASC 820 established a three-tier hierarchy to maximize the use of observable market data and minimize the use of unobservable inputs and to establish classifications of fair value measurements for disclosure purposes. Inputs refer broadly to the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability, including assumptions about risk—for example, the risk inherent in a particular valuation technique used to measure fair value (such as a pricing model) and/or the risk inherent in the inputs to the valuation technique. Inputs may be observable or unobservable. Observable inputs reflect the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. Observable inputs are based on market data obtained from sources independent of the reporting entity. Unobservable inputs reflect the reporting entity's own assumptions about the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability. Unobservable inputs are based on the best information available in the circumstances. The three-tier hierarchy of inputs is summarized in the three broad levels listed below:

Level 1—quoted prices in active markets for identical securities

Level 2—other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.)

Level 3—significant unobservable inputs (including each Fund's assumptions in determining the fair value of investments)

Investments that use Level 2 or Level 3 inputs may include, but are not limited to: (i) an unlisted security related to corporate actions; (ii) a restricted security (e.g., one that may not be publicly sold without registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended); (iii) a security whose trading has been suspended or which has been de-listed from its primary trading exchange; (iv) a security that is thinly traded; (v) a security in default or bankruptcy proceedings for which there is no current market quotation; (vi) a security affected by currency controls or restrictions; and (vii) a security affected by a significant event (e.g., an event that occurs after the close of the markets on which the security is traded but before the time as of which a Fund's NAV is computed and that may materially affect the value of the Fund's investments).

The inputs or methodology used for valuation are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those investments.

The following is a summary of the inputs used as of August 31, 2010 in valuing each Fund's assets carried at fair value:

In January 2010, FASB issued Accounting Standards Update No. 2010-06 Improving Disclosures about Fair Value Measurements (ASU 2010-06). ASU 2010-06 will require reporting entities to make new disclosures about amounts and reasons for significant transfers in and out of Level 1 and Level 2 fair value measurements, as well as inputs and valuation techniques used to measure fair value for both recurring and nonrecurring fair value measurements that fall in either Level 2 or Level 3, have been adopted by the Funds. No significant transfers between Level 1 or Level 2 fair value measurements occurred at August 31, 2010. ASU 2010-06 will also require information on purchases and sales, issuances and settlements on a gross basis in the reconciliation of activity in Level 3 fair value measurements. The new and revised disclosures are required to be implemented for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2009, except for the disclosures surrounding purchases, sales, issuances and settlements on a gross basis in the reconciliation of Level 3 fair value measurements, which are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2010. Management is currently evaluating the impact the adoption of ASU 2010-06 may have on the Funds' financial statement disclosures.

Derivative and Hedging Disclosure Codification Topic 815 (ASC 815), Derivatives and Hedging, requires qualitative disclosures about objectives and strategies for using derivatives, quantitative disclosures about fair value amounts of gains and losses on derivative instruments, and disclosures about credit-risk-related contingent features in derivative agreements. The application of this disclosure is effective for fiscal years beginning November 15, 2008 and interim periods within those fiscal years. The Funds have invested in derivatives, specifically forward foreign currency contracts and swaps during the fiscal year ended August 31, 2010 which are detailed in the forward foreign currency and swap agreement contract table. The volume of the derivatives that is presented is consistent with the derivative activity during the fiscal year ended August 31, 2010. The Funds' management is not aware of any credit-risk contingent feature on the forward foreign currency contracts held by the Funds.

The Funds listed below invested in derivatives, specifically forward foreign currency contracts as described on pages 46, 47 and 48, for the period ended August 31, 2010. The forward contracts are subject to credit risk. Credit risk is where the financial condition of an issuer of a money market security may cause it to default or become unable to pay interest or principal due on the security, therefore, the counterparty to a derivative contract might default on its obligations. The effect of such derivative instruments on the Funds' financial position and financial performance as reflected in the Statements of Assets and Liabilities and Statements of Operations are presented in the summary below.

Investment Transactions and Investment Income Investment transactions are recorded as of the date that the securities are purchased or sold (trade date). Realized gains and losses on sales of portfolio securities are calculated using the identified-cost method. Interest income is accrued daily.

Foreign Currency Translation The accounting records of the Funds are maintained in U.S. dollars. Foreign currencies, as well as investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies, are translated into U.S. dollars using exchange rates deemed appropriate by the investment adviser. Realized and unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses on investments are included as a component of net realized and unrealized gain or loss on foreign currency transactions in the Statements of Operations.

Expenses WisdomTree Asset Management, Inc. (WTAM) has agreed to pay all expenses of the Funds, except for: (i) brokerage expenses and other expenses (such as stamp taxes) connected with the execution of portfolio transactions or in connection with creation and redemption transactions; (ii) legal fees or expenses in connection with any arbitration, litigation or pending or threatened arbitration or litigation, including any settlements in connection therewith; (iii) compensation and expenses of each Independent Trustee; (iv) compensation and expenses of counsel to the Independent Trustees; (v) compensation and expenses of the Trust's chief compliance officer (CCO); (vi) extraordinary expenses; (vii) distribution fees and expenses paid by the Trust under any distribution plan adopted pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act; and (viii) the advisory fee payable to WTAM.

Pursuant to a separate contractual arrangement, WTAM has arranged for the provision of CCO services to the Funds, and is liable and responsible for, and administers, payments to the CCO, the Independent Trustees and counsel to the Independent Trustees, in exchange for a service fee paid by each Fund, of up to 0.0044% of each Fund's average daily net assets. As of October 1, 2009, WTAM provides CCO services to the Trust. Trustees fees, which are included in Service Fees on the Statements of Operations, of $75,716 have been paid on behalf of the Funds of the Trust to the Independent Trustees for the fiscal year ended August 31, 2010. Expenses in excess of 0.0044% were paid by WTAM.

Repurchase Agreements Each Fund's custodian or a third party custodian under tri-party repurchase agreements may take possession of the collateral pledged for investments in repurchase agreements. The underlying collateral is valued on a daily basis at fair value to ensure that the value, including accrued interest, is at least equal to the repurchase price. In the event of default of the obligation to repurchase, a Fund has the right to liquidate the collateral and apply the proceeds in satisfaction of the obligations. Under certain circumstances, in the event of default or bankruptcy by the other party to the agreement, realization and/or retention of the collateral may be subject to legal proceedings.

Forward Currency Contracts A forward foreign currency contract (forward contract) involves an obligation to purchase or sell a specific currency at a future date, which may be any fixed number of days from the date of the contract agreed upon by the parties, at a price set at the time of the contract. These contracts are principally traded in the inter-bank market conducted directly between currency traders (usually large, commercial banks) and their customers. A forward contract generally has no margin deposit requirement, and no commissions are charged at any stage for trades.

Edgar Filing: WisdomTree Trust - Form N-CSR

Risks may arise upon entering into forward contracts from the potential inability of counterparties to meet the terms of their contracts and from unanticipated movements in the value of foreign currencies relative to the U.S. dollar or each other.

Fluctuations in the value of open forward contracts are recorded for book purposes as unrealized gains or losses on forward contracts by the Funds. Realized gains and losses on forward contracts include net gains or losses recognized by the Funds on contracts which Currency, Interest Rate and Total Return Swaps Each Fund may enter into swap agreements, including interest rate swaps, currency swaps and total return swaps. A typical interest rate swap involves the exchange of a floating interest rate payment for a fixed interest payment. A typical foreign currency swap involves the exchange of cash flows based on the notional difference among two or more currencies (e.g., the U.S. dollar and the Brazilian real). A typical total return swap involves the payment of the total return on a reference asset in return for payments equal to a rate of interest on another reference asset. The total return includes appreciation or depreciation on the reference asset, plus any interest or dividend payments. Swap agreements may be used to achieve exposure to, for example, currencies, interest rates, and money market securities without actually purchasing such currencies or securities. Each Fund will use swap agreements to invest in a market without owning or taking physical custody of the underlying securities in circumstances in which direct investment is restricted for legal reasons or is otherwise impracticable. Swap agreements will tend to shift a Fund's investment exposure from one type of investment to another or from one payment stream to another. Depending on their structure, swap agreements may increase or decrease a Fund's exposure to long or short term interest rates (in the United States or abroad), foreign currencies, corporate borrowing rates, or other factors, and may increase or decrease the overall volatility of a Fund's investments and its share price.

* ASC 820 level is not a part of regular reporting requirements for each security listed.

 Reference asset is Indonesian Treasury Bond.

Short-Term Investments Each Fund may invest a portion of its assets in high-quality money market instruments on an ongoing basis to provide liquidity or for other reasons. The instruments include short-term obligations issued by the U.S. Government, its agencies, non-U.S. Government, agencies, negotiable certificates of deposit (CDs), fixed time deposits and bankers' acceptances of U.S. and foreign banks and similar institutions, commercial papers, repurchase agreements and money market funds. CDs are short-term negotiable obligations of commercial banks. Time deposits are non-negotiable deposits maintained in banking institutions for specified periods of time at stated interest rates. Bankers' acceptances are time drafts drawn on commercial banks by borrowers, usually in connection with international transactions.

Tax Information and Dividends and Distributions to Shareholders It is each Fund's policy to comply with all requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code). Each Fund intends to qualify for and to elect treatment as a separate regulated investment company (RIC) under Subchapter M of the Code. It is the policy of each Fund to pay out dividends, if any, to investors at least annually. There can be no guarantee that a Fund will pay dividends. Taxable net realized gains from investment transactions, reduced by capital loss carryforwards, if any, are declared and distributed to shareholders at least annually. The capital loss carryforward amount, if any, is available to offset future net capital gains. The Funds may occasionally be required to make supplemental distributions at some other time during the year. The Trust reserves the right to declare special distributions if, in its reasonable discretion, such action is necessary or advisable to preserve the status of each Fund as a RIC or to avoid imposition of income or excise taxes on undistributed income. Dividends and distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. The amount of dividends and distributions from net investment income and net realized capital gains are determined in accordance with the requirements of the Code and the U.S. Treasury regulations which may differ from GAAP. These book/tax differences are either considered temporary or permanent in nature. To the extent these differences are permanent in nature, such amounts are reclassified within the components of net assets based on their Federal tax basis treatment; temporary differences do not require reclassification. Dividends and distributions, that exceed earnings and profit for tax purposes, are reported for tax purposes as a return of capital to the extent of a shareholder's tax basis, and thereafter as capital gain.

GAAP provides guidance on tax provisions that prescribe a minimum threshold for financial statement recognition of the benefit of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. Foreign taxes are provided for based on each Fund's understanding of the tax rules and rates that exist in the foreign markets in which it invests. Taxes are accrued and applied to net investment income, net realized capital gains and net unrealized appreciation, as applicable, as the income is earned or capital gains are recorded. As of and during the fiscal year ended August 31, 2010, the Funds did not have any liabilities for unrecognized tax benefits. If applicable, the Funds will recognize interest accrued related to unrecognized tax benefits in interest expense and penalties in Other expenses on the Statements of Operations. The Portfolios file tax returns with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, New York, and various states. Generally, each of the tax years in the three year period ended August 31, 2010, remains subject to examination by taxing authorities.

Table of ContentsApproval of Investment Advisory and Sub-Advisory Agreement (unaudited)

WTAM (the Investment Adviser) serves as investment adviser to each Fund pursuant to an Investment Advisory Agreement with each Fund. Mellon Capital Management Corporation (MCM) serves as sub-adviser for the Emerging Markets Local Debt Fund pursuant to a Sub-Advisory Agreement with WTAM. The Dreyfus Corporation (Dreyfus) serves as sub-adviser to the Currency Income Funds pursuant to a Sub-Advisory Agreement with WTAM. The Board of Trustees of the Trust, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, has the responsibility under the 1940 Act to approve each Fund's Investment Advisory Agreement and Sub-Advisory Agreement (collectively, the Investment Advisory Agreements). In addition, the Trust's Board of Trustees will receive, review and evaluate information concerning the services and personnel of WTAM and the Sub-Advisers, Dreyfus and MCM, at each quarterly meeting of the Board of Trustees. While particular emphasis will be placed on information concerning profitability, comparability of fees and total expenses, and the Trust's investment performance at any future meeting at which a renewal of the Investment Advisory Agreements is considered, the process of evaluating the Investment Adviser and the Sub-Advisers and the Trust's investment arrangements is an ongoing one. In this regard, the Board's consideration of the nature, extent and quality of the services to be provided by the Investment Adviser and the Sub-Advisers under the Investment Advisory Agreements will include deliberations at future quarterly meetings.

Approval of Investment Advisory Agreement. The Trust and the Investment Adviser have entered into an Investment Advisory Agreement covering each Fund discussed herein. At a meeting held on March 19, 2010, the Board of Trustees re-approved the Investment Advisory Agreement for the Funds. The Board reviewed and analyzed the factors it deemed relevant, including: (i) the nature, quality and extent of the services to be provided to the Funds by WTAM; (ii) the performance of the Funds; (iii) the costs of services to be provided and the profits to be realized by WTAM from its relationship with the Funds; (iv) the extent to which economies of scale would be realized as the Funds grow; (v) whether the fee levels reflect these economies of scale for the benefit of investors; and (vi) the fees charged by the Investment Adviser for non-registered funds with similar objectives and strategies.

The Board considered WTAM's operational capabilities and resources. The Board also noted the extensive responsibilities that WTAM has as investment adviser to the Funds, including the selection of the Funds' Sub-Advisers and oversight of the Sub-Advisers' compliance with Fund policies and objectives, oversight of general Fund compliance with federal and state laws, and the implementation of Board directives as they relate to the Funds.

The Board gave substantial consideration to the fees payable under the Investment Advisory Agreement. In this connection, the Board evaluated WTAM's anticipated costs and profitability in serving as investment adviser to the Funds, including the costs associated with the personnel, systems and equipment necessary to manage the Funds and the costs associated with compensating the Sub-Advisers. The Board also examined the fees to be paid by each Fund in light of fees paid to other investment managers by comparable funds and the method of computing each Fund's fee. After comparing the fees with those of comparable funds and in light of the quality and extent of services to be provided and the costs anticipated to be incurred by WTAM, the Board concluded that the level of the fees paid to WTAM with respect to each Fund is fair and reasonable.

The Board also re-approved the Sub-Advisory Agreements with the Sub-Advisers to the Funds, MCM and Dreyfus, using essentially the same criteria it used for WTAM. The Board considered MCM's and Dreyfus' operational capabilities and resources and MCM's and Dreyfus' experience in serving as an adviser to ETFs, noting that MCM and Dreyfus each currently provide investment advisory and management services to other ETFs. The Board considered the investment performance of the Funds, and the expertise and performance of the MCM and Dreyfus personnel. The Board also noted that Bank of New York Mellon Corporation, an affiliate of MCM, serves as the Funds' administrator, accountant, custodian and transfer agent and receives compensation for acting in these capacities and is responsible for, among other things, coordinating the Funds' audits, financial statements and tax returns, managing expenses and budgeting for the Funds, processing trades on behalf of each Fund and custodial Fund assets. As such, the Board concluded that the benefits accruing to MCM and Dreyfus and its affiliates by virtue of their relationship to the Trust are reasonable and fair in comparison with the anticipated costs of providing the relevant services. The Board noted that WTAM, not the Funds, pays the fees to MCM and Dreyfus under the Sub-Advisory Agreements.

Based on these considerations and the overall high quality of the personnel, operations, financial condition, investment advisory capabilities, methodologies, and performance of WTAM, MCM and Dreyfus, the Board determined that the re-approval of the Investment Advisory Agreement and the Sub-Advisory Agreements was in the best interests of each Fund. After full consideration of these and other factors, the Board, including each of the Independent Trustees, with the assistance of independent counsel, approved the Investment Advisory Agreement and Sub-Advisory Agreements.

Table of ContentsFrequency Distribution of Discounts & Premiums (unaudited)

The chart below presents information about differences between the per share net asset value (NAV) of each Fund and the market trading price of shares of each Fund. For these purposes, the market price is the mid-point of the highest bid and lowest offer for Fund shares as of the close of trading on the exchange where Fund shares are listed. The term premium is sometimes used to describe a market price in excess of NAV and the term discount is sometimes used to describe a market price below NAV. The chart presents information about the size and frequency of premiums or discounts. As with other exchange traded funds, the market price of Fund shares is typically slightly higher or lower than the Fund's per share NAV. Factors that contribute to the differences between market price and NAV include the supply and demand for Fund shares and investors' assessments of the underlying value of a Fund's portfolio securities. Differences between the closing times of U.S. and non-U.S. markets may contribute to differences between the NAV and market price of Fund shares. Many non-U.S. markets close prior to the close of the U.S. securities exchanges. Developments after the close of such markets as a result of ongoing price discovery may be reflected in a Fund's market price but not in its NAV (or vice versa).

Investors should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the Funds carefully before investing. A prospectus, containing this and other information, is available at www.wisdomtree.com, or by calling 1-866-909-WISE (9473). Investors should read the prospectus carefully before investing. There are risks associated with investing, including possible loss of principal. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Indexes are unmanaged and you can not invest directly in an index.

There are risks associated with investing including possible loss of principal. Foreign investing involves special risks, such as risk of loss from currency fluctuation or political or economic uncertainty. Investments in real estate involve additional special risks, such as credit risk, interest rate fluctuations and the effect of varied economic conditions. Funds that focus its investments in one country increase the impact of events and developments associated with the region which can adversely affect performance. Funds focusing on a single sector and/or smaller companies generally experience greater price volatility. Investments in emerging, offshore or frontier markets are generally less liquid and less efficient than developed markets and are subject to additional risks, such as of adverse governmental regulation and intervention or political developments. Investments in currency involve additional special risks, such as credit risk, interest rate fluctuations, derivative investment risk which can be volatile and may be less liquid than other securities and the effect of varied economic conditions. As these Funds can have a high concentration in some issuers the Funds can be adversely impacted by changes affecting issuers. Fixed income investments are subject to interest rate risk; their value will normally decline as interest rates rise. In addition when interest rates fall income may decline. Fixed income investments are also subject to credit risk, the risk that the issuer of a bond will fail to pay interest and principal in a timely manner, or that negative perceptions of the issuers ability to make such payments will cause the price of that bond to decline. Unlike typical exchange-traded funds, there are no indexes that the Currency Funds or the Emerging Markets Local Debt Fund attempt to track or replicate. Thus, the ability of these Funds to achieve their objectives will depend on the effectiveness of the portfolio manager. Please read the Funds prospectus for specific details regarding the Funds risk profile.
