Aruze USA Issues Statement on October 2 Hearing Before Nevada District Court

LAS VEGAS, NEVADA, October 2, 2012 Aruze USA, Inc. issued the following statement following today's hearing before the Nevada District Court on Aruze USA's motion for a preliminary injunction and its writ of mandamus:

We are disappointed by this decision, which for the moment denies Aruze USA of its rights to nominate and vote for independent directors willing to stand up to Steve Wynn and promote good corporate governance that puts the interests of shareholders first. We are carefully evaluating an appeal of the Court's ruling.

It is important to note that this ruling does not speak to the merits of Wynn Resort's claims against Aruze and Mr. Okada, and Mr. Okada's counterclaim against Wynn Resorts, Mr. Wynn, and the other Wynn directors that the forced redemption of Aruze USA's stock was unlawful. We look forward to a trial where a jury will determine whether the redemption of Aruze USA's 20 percent stake in Wynn Resorts was unauthorized, unjustified and motivated by Steve Wynn's desire to disenfranchise a vocal critic and consolidate his power.

Finally, this ruling has no bearing on the ongoing investigations into the suspicious $135 million donation by Wynn Resorts to the University of Macau Development Foundation.

Separately, we are pleased the court recognizes Mr. Okada's rights as a director to finally review the records and files related to the Wynn donation. As we have argued to the Court, this donation raises a number of troubling questions, both because of its size and the ties between the Macau government (which has ultimate authority over the gaming sector) and the trustees of the University of Macau Development Foundation.
