MERGER ANNOUNCEMENT Q&A

We understand that, in light of the recent merger announcement, many of you will have questions and concerns. In anticipation of this, we have compiled a list of potential questions along with accompanying answers. This list is by no means exhaustive and we do encourage you to speak with your manager if you have additional questions. We hope to provide you with more details on the integration process at the Town Hall meeting currently scheduled for February 17, 2015.

1. Who will manage the new company?

Current AXIS CEO Albert A. Benchimol will serve as CEO of the combined company and will also serve as a member of the Board of Directors.

Given the similar disciplined underwriting cultures of both organizations, the combined entity will draw on the talented group of leaders from both companies. A number of senior positions have been identified. Emmanuel Clarke will be CEO, Reinsurance, Peter Wilson will be CEO, Insurance, Chris DiSipio will be CEO, Life, Accident and Health, and John (Jay) Nichols will be responsible for Strategic Business Development and Capital Solutions. Joseph Henry will be CFO and Bill Babcock will be Deputy CFO and Lead integration Officer. Mr. Babcock will assume the role of CFO upon Mr. Henry's retirement in July 2016.

Because of the strong familiarity between the two management teams and similar cultures, we are confident this combination will have very manageable integration risks.

2. When do you expect to close the deal?

We expect the transaction will close during the third quarter of 2015.

3. How should business be conducted in the period from now until the deal closes?

It is business as usual for now. We continue to focus on fulfilling our strategic imperatives and we are continuing with important work already underway no changes in the short-term.

Our goal remains to attract and retain the best talent in the industry and the best talent from both AXIS and PartnerRe Ltd. to serve our clients as effectively as possible.

Managers will be provided with a client letter template to be used as a guide should you need one.

4. How will integration of the two companies be handled?

Current AXIS CEO Albert A. Benchimol will serve as CEO of the combined company and will also serve as a member of the Board of Directors.

The combined organization will draw on the talented group of leaders from both companies.

In addition, an integration team will be formed with representatives from both companies. Bill Babcock, current CFO of PartnerRe Ltd., will lead this team.

5. Will there be a change in strategy as a result of the transaction? Will the combined company continue in the same lines of business?

The strategic benefits are many, but we believe scale, breadth of offerings and capital efficiency are all important factors in generating value for clients, brokers, shareholders and employees.

We are confident that with the best talent the two companies will contribute to this combination, and the enhancements to the scale and global presence of the two organizations, we will be able to offer a broader range of products, services and capacity to our insurance and reinsurance clients across the globe.

PartnerRe Ltd. is highly complementary and immediately deepens our capabilities in many areas that we have identified as core areas of growth and investment, and has several highly attractive specialty reinsurance lines such as agriculture, credit/surety, etc.

We will leverage the best of both organizations to solidify and enhance our competitive positioning and drive significant value across the board.

6. Could you speak to management transition and segment structure?

The combined company will have three very strong and very well positioned businesses - the world's fifth-largest P&C reinsurer, with $7 Billion of gross premiums, a highly respected international specialty insurance company, with gross premiums written of $2.5 Billion, and a rapidly growing Life, Accident & Health business, with annual gross written premiums of $1.5 Billion.

The combined organization will draw on the talented group of leaders from both companies.

The combined company's management team includes a selection of executives from each company. Given the similar disciplined underwriting cultures of both organizations, the combined entity will draw on the talented group of leaders from both companies. A number of senior positions have been identified. Emmanuel Clarke will be CEO, Reinsurance, Peter Wilson will be CEO, Insurance, Chris DiSipio will be CEO, Life, Accident and Health, and John (Jay) Nichols will be responsible for Strategic Business Development and Capital Solutions. Joseph Henry will be CFO and Bill Babcock will be Deputy CFO and Lead integration Officer. Mr. Babcock will assume the role of CFO upon Mr. Henry's retirement in July 2016.

7. Can I interact with my counterpart at PARTNERRE LTD.?

In general, you are not permitted to interact with any PartnerRe Ltd. employees regarding the transaction or any related matter until the transaction closes. Instructions for coordination between the two companies will be handled by the integration team and communicated to employees in due course. Ordinary course business communications, unrelated to the transaction, are allowed. If you have further questions, please feel free to contact your manager.

8. How would you look to maintain (or to change) our firm's culture as part of the merger process?

Upon closing, we anticipate a smooth integration of these two companies, especially given the management teams' familiarity and understanding of each other's respective businesses.

Bill Babcock will lead the integration team for the transaction which will include co-leaders from the two companies across a number of functional areas.

High level integration planning was initiated during the due diligence meetings between the managements of the respective companies. More granular Integration planning will begin shortly and a thorough process will be carried out by both management teams. This will ensure as smooth a transition as possible upon completion of the transaction.

The two cultures complement each other globally focused and driven by excellent underwriting.

9. Will benefits change as a result of this transaction?

It is very early on in the process and premature to discuss specifics like those.

However, we can assure you that we are committed to maintaining the same type of high quality benefits and policies that you would expect in a premier organization.

We will communicate more to you about the integration plan after a definitive agreement is signed.

10. Do you expect to combine any PARTNERRE LTD. or AXIS locations?

We will conduct a thorough review of our facilities as part of the integration planning process and will communicate any changes involving location when appropriate.

11. Do you expect there will be redundancies?

In any transaction such as this, there will be certain redundancies.

We will work as quickly as we can to develop plans and update you on a regular basis.

We will work with PartnerRe Ltd. to determine and communicate those impacts and will be fair and supportive as we implement those decisions.

Our goal remains attracting and retaining the best talent in the industry and the best talent from both AXIS and PartnerRe Ltd.

One of the most exciting aspects of this merger is the ability to create a superior organization from the great talent residing in both companies.

12. Will there be any layoffs as a result of this transaction? If so, when will we know if our job will be eliminated?

It is very early on in the process but yes, we do expect that redundancies will lead to some employee reductions.

We recognize that this is a concern for the staffs of both companies, and we will work as diligently and quickly as we can to develop plans and update you on a regular basis.

We feel strongly that it is important to treat any affected employee with the utmost respect.

As a larger, globally diversified company, there will also be increased career opportunities for many.

We will communicate more to you about the integration plan in due course.

13. Will you be providing retention packages for any employees?

We are not planning to issue across the board retention packages for all employees. However, for certain areas where the risk of overlap is greatest, we may consider retention packages in due course.

14. When can I expect to hear more about integration decisions?

We will work diligently to complete our integration planning and communicate our plans to our staff in due course.

We understand that this period of uncertainty may be of concern to some of our staff, and we will work as quickly as possible to communicate our findings with you.

15. Is there a name for the new company?

As part of our integration we will undertake a branding process that will identify a new name and visual identity for the new organization.

16. When can we expect more information?

We are committed to continuous and open conversation on this important news.

The Knowledge Network will have a dedicated section for updates and there will be a special mailbox for employees to ask questions.

The Town Hall meeting already scheduled for February 17th will also be an opportunity for updates and Q&A.
