Item 2.04 Triggering Events That Accelerate or Increase a Direct Financial Obligation or an Obligation under an Off-Balance Sheet Arrangement.

In its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended March 31, 2016 (the Form 10-Q), Atlas Resource Partners, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership (the Partnership), disclosed that based on projected market conditions, continued declines in commodity prices and recent conversations with its administrative agent under its Revolving Credit Agreement (as defined below), it expected that its regular semi-annual borrowing base redetermination would result in a reduction of its borrowing base under the Revolving Credit Agreement to a level below its outstanding borrowings of $676.2 million (which includes $4.2 million in letters of credit) as of March 31, 2016.

Consistent with the foregoing, on June 8, 2016, the Partnership received notice from Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, as administrative agent under the Partnership's Second Amended and Restated Credit Agreement (as amended, the Revolving Credit Agreement) that its borrowing base had been redetermined in accordance with the Revolving Credit Agreement and reduced from $700.0 million to $530.0 million. The new borrowing base will remain in effect until it is redetermined or adjusted in accordance with the Revolving Credit Agreement.

As of June 14, 2016, $673.7 million in borrowings were outstanding (which includes $4.2 million in letters of credit) under the Revolving Credit Agreement, resulting in a borrowing base deficiency of $143.7 million. The Revolving Credit Agreement provides that within 30 days after the Partnership's receipt of a notification of a borrowing base deficiency, the Partnership must elect to cure the borrowing base deficiency through any combination of the following actions: (i) repay amounts outstanding under the Revolving Credit Agreement sufficient to cure the borrowing base deficiency, either within 30 days after receipt of the borrowing base deficiency notice or in four equal monthly installments beginning on July 11, 2016; or (ii) pledge as collateral additional oil and gas properties acceptable to the administrative agent and lenders sufficient to cure the borrowing base deficiency within 60 days after receipt of the borrowing base deficiency notice.

This expected redetermination has been a factor in the Partnership's evaluation of various options with its lenders under the Revolving Credit Agreement, its lenders under its Second Lien Credit Agreement and the holders of its senior notes with respect to its capital structure. As described in the Form 10-Q, the Partnership has a significant hedge position for the remainder of 2016 through 2018. In connection with the current redetermination, the Partnership continues to be engaged in discussions with the lenders under the Revolving Credit Agreement with respect to addressing the deficiency. Moreover, as of June 7, 2016, the Partnership has approximately $36 million of cash on hand. However, there can be no certainty that the Partnership will be able to implement any such options, and the Partnership cannot provide any assurances that any refinancing or changes in its debt or equity capital structure would be possible or that additional equity or debt financing could be obtained on acceptable terms, if at all. The Partnership expects to continue to be opportunistic and aggressive in managing its liquidity to meet its capital and operating needs.
