Item 7.01.Regulation FD Disclosure.

On February 26, 2019, Veeva Systems Inc. (the “Company”) held a conference call announcing its results for its fourth quarter and fiscal year ended January 31, 2019. In the question and answer portion of the call, the following exchange took place:

Analyst: “[I]n your view, how important is resolution to the challenges with IQVIA to your success and assuming there isn't resolution there, I mean, is it possible that their anti-competitive behavior actually ends up becoming a tailwind to your own data businesses?”

Management: “Certainly, the IMS anti-competitive behavior is a tailwind. It's a tailwind to network. It's a tailwind to Nitro and to our data business and it's just harmful to the industry overall. The actual productivity of the industry is harmed. . . . there's no question it's a tailwind now across the Commercial side of our business.”

While the Company believes that in context it is clear that management was referring to the "IMS anti-competitive behavior" as a “headwind” (i.e., something that has a negative business impact) and not a tailwind (i.e., something that has a positive business impact), the Company is issuing this current report on Form 8-K to clarify that the references to “tailwind” in management’s response above should be read as “headwind.”
