GERBER SCIENTIFIC, INC. REPORTS FISCAL FOURTH-QUARTER

AND FULL-YEAR 2002 RESULTS

Company Completes Independent Review of Its Financial Statements

SOUTH WINDSOR, CT -- Gerber Scientific, Inc. (NYSE: GRB)

today reported a fourth-quarter loss of 19 cents per diluted share in the fiscal period ended April 30, 2002, compared with a year-ago loss of 82 cents per diluted share. Excluding charges in the current quarter, and year-ago charges and goodwill amortization, fiscal fourth-quarter earnings were 17 cents per diluted share, compared with earnings of 10 cents per diluted share a year ago. Note: All prior period comparisons embodied in this release are made "as restated."

For the full fiscal year, Gerber Scientific reported a loss of $5.42 per diluted share, compared with a loss of $1.06 per diluted share a year ago. Adjusting the results of both years for restructuring and other charges, and excluding the effect of the company's adoption of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 142 in fiscal year 2002, full-year earnings were 31 cents per diluted share, compared with earnings of 27 cents per diluted share a year ago.

The company also stated that it completed its previously announced review of its financial reporting under the direction of the Audit and Finance Committee of the company's board of directors. As a result, Gerber Scientific has filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) its annual report on Form 10K, which includes a restatement of prior annual financial statements. The cumulative impact of the restatement on shareholders' equity as of January 31, 2002, the last period reported, amounted to a decrease of approximately $1.5 million. The company said that it is continuing to cooperate fully with the SEC as it works to complete its investigation.

For the fiscal year ended April 30, 2000, Gerber Scientific reported restated earnings of $1.15 per diluted share, versus $1.16 per diluted share as previously reported; for the fiscal year ended April 30, 2001, the company reported a restated loss of $1.06 per diluted share, versus a loss of $1.07 as previously reported.

"While it's been a difficult year for Gerber Scientific, we are taking aggressive and constructive actions to get this outstanding company back on track," said Marc T. Giles, president and chief executive officer of Gerber Scientific, Inc. "Our results adjusted for the effects of the charges and the change in accounting for goodwill speak to the progress we are making, which included a reduction in our debt of $42.0 million in fiscal 2002, as well as a marked improvement in the combined profitability of our operating segments, despite continued volume declines. Driven by a dramatic performance improvement in our Apparel & Flexible Materials segment, fiscal year 2002 total segment profit increased by $7.1 million, or 24%, to $36.7 million in spite of a 10% decline in revenue when compared with fiscal year 2001 after adjusting for charges and the adoption of SFAS No. 142."

"Though there are still no clear signs of a recovery in capital spending, we firmly believe in the fundamental strengths of our core markets. The decline in sales of our capital equipment products appears to have stabilized, overall economic indicators seem to be improving and foreign exchange rates are currently more favorable. By implementing our planned shared services initiatives to optimize our supply chain and improve the efficiency of various support functions, we remain committed to executing our near-term strategy of leveraging our cost structure to generate solid operating results and cash flows going forward," said Giles.

Fiscal Fourth-Quarter Results

In the fiscal fourth quarter ended April 30, 2002, the company reported a loss of 19 cents per diluted share, compared with a loss of 82 cents per diluted share a year ago. The loss in the current year included inventory write-downs and other charges of 36 cents per share, related primarily to the Sign Making & Specialty Graphics segment. The year-ago loss included restructuring and other charges of 82 cents per diluted share and goodwill amortization of 9 cents per share. Adjusted for current and year-ago charges, and the amortization of goodwill last year, earnings in the current quarter were 17 cents per diluted share, compared with earnings of 10 cents per diluted share a year ago.

Fourth-quarter revenue was $126.7 million, compared with $138.7 million a year ago. The impact of foreign exchange suppressed revenue by $1.2 million in the quarter, compared with the year-ago period. New orders in the fourth quarter totaled $125.8 million, versus $137.3 million a year ago.

Cost Reduction Actions Show Results

While revenue in the Sign Making & Specialty Graphics and Apparel & Flexible Materials segments continues to be affected by softness in demand for industrial capital equipment and continued weakness in apparel markets, the company implemented aggressive cost-reduction programs and shared services initiatives, which have resulted in improved profitability.

In the Sign Making & Specialty Graphics segment, the company reported 2002 fourth quarter revenue of $65.3 million, versus revenue of $70.4 million a year ago; segment loss was $6.8 million, versus a loss of $5.7 million in the year-ago period. In the Apparel & Flexible Materials segment, fourth quarter revenue was $36.9 million, compared with revenue of $43.5 million; segment profit increased to $4.0 million from a loss of $14.1 million last year. Fourth quarter Ophthalmic Lens Processing segment revenue was $24.5 million, versus $24.8 million; segment profit for the quarter was $2.0 million, versus a segment loss of $0.5 million reported in the same period last year. Total segment loss for the fourth quarter was $0.8 million, versus a total segment loss of $20.3 million in the year-ago period.

Fourth-Quarter Write-Downs and Other Charges

Gerber Scientific recorded $12.6 million of pre-tax charges in the Sign Making & Specialty Graphics operating segment in the fourth quarter. The charges consisted of $6.8 million of inventory write-downs and SG&A expenses primarily due to changing market conditions and production delays associated with the company's MAXX™ thermal digital imaging system; $0.7 million of inventory write-downs and product-return liabilities related to technical problems associated with products sold on an O.E.M. basis; and $5.0 million of other charges for asset write-downs, contractual obligations, and employee costs related to the company's Spandex PLC subsidiary.

Results for Fiscal Full-Year 2002

For the fiscal year ended April 30, 2002, Gerber Scientific reported a loss of $5.42 per diluted share, compared with a loss of $1.06 per diluted share a year ago. The fiscal-year 2002 loss included third-quarter restructuring and other charges related to employee separations and asset impairments of 18 cents per share, fourth-quarter inventory write-downs and other charges of 36 cents per share related primarily to the Sign Making & Specialty Graphics segment, and goodwill-impairment charges of $5.20 per share, which resulted from the company's required adoption of SFAS No. 142 at the beginning of the fiscal year. Last year's loss reflected first and fourth-quarter restructuring and other charges of 95 cents per share related to employee separations, inventory write-downs, asset impairments, and other charges. Last year's loss also included amortization of goodwill of 37 cents per share, which was not included in this year's results because of the company's adoption of SFAS No. 142. Adjusting both years for the restructuring and other charges, and last year for the effect of not amortizing goodwill this year, earnings per diluted share were 31 cents, compared with 27 cents last year.

Softness in Industrial Capital Equipment Markets Held Down Revenues for the Year

Revenue for the full fiscal year was $502.7 million, versus $558.2 million in the prior year. The impact of foreign exchange suppressed revenue by $7.8 million for the full year, compared with the year ago. New orders were $494.9 million for the full fiscal year, compared with $553.4 million a year ago.

For the full fiscal year, each of Gerber Scientific's operating and geographic segments reported lower revenue and orders compared with the prior year, particularly for capital equipment in the Apparel & Flexible Materials segment. Lower revenues for the segment reflected the weak global market for apparel and the continued migration of apparel production from North American and European markets to lower cost labor markets in Asia, Latin America, and Eastern Europe. The historically slower adoption of automation in these emerging markets, combined with the current weak economic conditions, further dampened demand for the Apparel & Flexible Materials segment's products. Despite lower revenues in each of the company's operating segments, segment profit improved dramatically in the 2002 fiscal year.

In the Sign Making & Specialty Graphics segment, the company reported fiscal year 2002 revenue of $257.4 million, versus revenue of $275.7 million last year; segment profit increased to $6.1 million, versus a profit of $3.5 million in the year-ago period. In the Apparel & Flexible Materials segment, fiscal year 2002 revenue was $158.1 million, versus revenue of $188.3 million; segment profit rose significantly to $10.5 million from a loss of $12.3 million in fiscal year 2001. Fiscal year 2002 Ophthalmic Lens Processing segment revenue was $87.2 million, versus $94.1 million; segment profit for the year was $5.3 million, an increase of 92% over a segment profit of $2.8 million reported a year ago. For the 2002 fiscal year, total segment profit increased significantly to $22.0 million, versus a loss of $6.1 million reported in the same period in 2001.

Gerber Scientific generated $26.6 million in cash from operations this fiscal year, compared with $36.7 million last year. The company's steady cash-flow generation was the result of incremental operating earnings driven by restructuring and cost-reduction actions. Operating cash flow, reduced capital expenditures, and the proceeds from the second-quarter sale and leaseback of certain facilities enabled the company to reduce total debt by $42.0 million to $127.9 million at April 30, 2002, from $169.9 million at the beginning of the fiscal year.
