ITEM 2. ACQUISITION OR DISPOSITION OF ASSETS

On February 6, 2003, Barnes Group Inc. (the "Company") purchased all of the membership interests of Kar Products, LLC ("Kar") from GC-Sun Holdings II, L.P. ("GC-Sun"), and Barnes Group Canada Corp., a Canadian subsidiary of the Company ("Barnes Canada"), purchased certain assets and the business of, and assumed all of the liabilities (other than certain environmental and tax liabilities) of, A. & H. Bolt & Nut Company Ltd. ("A&H Bolt"). GC-Sun and A&H Bolt are affiliates of Glencoe Capital Partners II, L.P. ("Glencoe"). The Company's purchase of the Kar membership interests (the "US Acquisition") and Barnes Canada's purchase of the A&H Bolt assets and assumption of the A&H Bolt liabilities (the "Canadian Acquisition") were consummated pursuant to the terms of that certain Membership Interest and Asset Purchase Agreement dated as of January 15, 2003, by and among the Company, Barnes Canada, Kar, A & H Bolt, GC-Sun, A & H Bolt Holdings, Inc., GC-Sun, Inc., GC-Sun G.P. II, Inc., GC-Sun G.P., Inc. and GC-Sun Holdings, L.P. (the "Purchase Agreement").

The aggregate purchase price for the US Acquisition was US $74.5 million, and the aggregate purchase price for the Canadian Acquisition was US $4.0 million plus the assumption of the liabilities of A&H Bolt assumed by Barnes Canada. The aggregate purchase price is subject to adjustment upward and downward based upon any difference between $29.1 million and the consolidated net worth of Kar and A&H Bolt as of February 5, 2003, determined in accordance with the Purchase Agreement. The purchase price was determined through negotiations conducted on an arms' length basis between the Company, Kar, A&H Bolt, GC-Sun and Glencoe. During such negotiations, the parties considered, among other things, the business and operations of Kar and A&H Bolt, their customer, vendor and employee relationships, the condition of their assets, their respective financial condition, the market for their services and their future business prospects. Prior to the commencement of negotiations, there was no material relationship between the parties or their respective affiliates, directors, officers or associates.

The purchase price for the US Acquisition was satisfied by: (i) the issuance by the Company to GC-Sun of 923,506 shares of common stock of the Company, and (ii) the payment by the Company of cash of US $56,000,000 which was funded with proceeds from borrowings by the Company under its revolving credit agreement with eleven (11) banks led by Fleet Bank. The purchase price for the Canadian Acquisition was paid by Barnes Canada from existing cash resources. The Company granted certain registration rights to GC-Sun for the registration under the Securities Act of 1933 of the shares of common stock issued to it in the US Acquisition.

The assets of Kar and those of A&H Bolt that were the subject of the Canadian Acquisition consisted primarily of inventory, agreements with customers, vendors and employees, trademarks and the goodwill associated therewith, employee benefit plans, and real property leases. Neither the Company nor Barnes Canada acquired, directly or indirectly, title to any real property as part of either transaction. As part of the Canadian Acquisition, Barnes Group Canada has made employment offers to substantially all of the employees of A&H Bolt.

Kar is in the business of the distribution of maintenance and repair parts, fasteners, electrical components, chemicals, fluid flow, tools and other related items (the "Business") in the United States, Mexico and Puerto Rico. The assets purchased from A&H Bolt in the Canadian Acquisition were used by A&H Bolt in the conduct of the Business in Canada. The Company intends, directly and through its subsidiaries, to continue to use the assets of Kar and A&H Bolt to conduct the Business.
