RADVISION Revises Revenue Outlook for Third Quarter of 2007

Monday October 1, 7:30 am ET

- Conference Call and Webcast Scheduled for Today at 9 a.m. (Eastern) -

TEL AVIV, Israel--(BUSINESS WIRE)--RADVISION(R) (Nasdaq: RVSN - News) announced today that based on preliminary results for the third quarter ended September 30, 2007, it now expects to report revenues for the quarter of approximately $20.5 million compared with its forecast of approximately $25 million reported on July 24, 2007. In the third quarter of 2006, revenues were $23.6 million. Final results for the third quarter of 2007 will be reported on November 1st, 2007.

The Company noted that its revised third quarter outlook reflects a reduced revenue forecast for its Networking Business Unit (NBU) due to lower than expected sales both to the federal market and through its channels. A major factor in the sales shortfall to the channels is increased customer demand for High Definition Continuous Presence. The Company will introduce a High Definition Continuous Presence solution at the end of October, 2007.

Boaz Raviv, Chief Executive Officer, commented: "We are disappointed by this setback in the third quarter but remain fully confident in our strategy and market position and in the growth prospects of videoconferencing in the enterprise and service provider markets."
