Ex-CEO in breach of contractual obligations to CryptoLogic

Company seeks return of 1.543 million

February 23, 2009 (Dublin, IRELAND) CryptoLogic Limited, a world leader in Internet casino and branded gaming software, today announced that it has served notice on ex-CEO Javaid Aziz that he is in material breach of various contractual obligations related to his severance from the company.

Edgar Filing: CRYPTOLOGIC LTD - Form 6-K

Upon such material breach, CryptoLogic is entitled to the return of the 1.543 million currently held in escrow in connection with the company's obligation to pay Mr. Aziz this amount in the event that a change of control of the company occur on or prior to April 30, 2009. The company has accordingly taken steps to seek redress pursuant to its agreements with Mr. Aziz, including seeking the release of the escrow funds.

CryptoLogic continues to assess its legal position and its options in this regard, and reserves the right to take additional steps, and seek additional remedies, as and when appropriate.

While we regret being forced to take this step, CryptoLogic made substantial payments and commitments to Mr. Aziz in negotiating his severance, and we believe that his failure to adhere to his obligations has been damaging to the company and its shareholders, said Brian Hadfield, CryptoLogic's President and CEO. This action is necessary to protect the interests of the company and its shareholders, which is at all times the sole focus of management and the board.
