Sony Achieves Record Quarterly Sales and Net Income
Pictures, Electronics and Game Segments Contribute to Profitability

Tokyo, January 29, 2003 Sony Corporation announced today its consolidated results for the third quarter ended December 31, 2002 (October 1, 2002 to December 31, 2002).

Highlights

For the three months ended December 31, 2002, consolidated sales increased slightly year on year to achieve a quarterly record for Sony of ¥2,307.7 billion ($19.2 billion). Operating income increased ¥40.9 billion year on year to ¥199.5 billion ($1.7 billion). Net income reached ¥125.4 billion ($1.05 billion), the highest quarterly net income Sony has ever recorded. The depreciation of the yen against the euro had a positive impact on results.

In the Pictures business, strong home entertainment sales of motion pictures, including Spider-Man and Men in Black II, that had strong theatrical performances earlier in the year, resulted in a significant increase in sales and operating income.

In the Electronics segment, although sales decreased due to the severe operating environment, the strong performance of components, semiconductors and consumer audio-visual products, which resulted from an improvement in profit structure, resulted in an increase in total operating income.

In the Game segment, the market penetration of hardware continued to expand as hardware unit sales, primarily in the U.S. and Europe, increased significantly during the quarter. As a result, software sales worldwide increased, and this enabled the segment to again achieve the high level of sales and operating income recorded in the same quarter of the previous year.

Cash flow was positive throughout the nine months ended December 31, 2002, a significant improvement over the same period of the previous year. This was due to an increase in the operating income of the Electronics, Game, and Pictures businesses. Total interest-bearing debt on December 31, 2002 was lower than as of December 31, 2001 and as of March 31, 2002.

Based on management's belief that uncertain market conditions and the implementation of additional restructuring initiatives will make the fourth quarter a difficult one, Sony has not changed its forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2003, which was announced in October 2002.

Remarks by Nobuyuki Idei, Chairman and CEO of Sony Corporation

Despite prior concerns that sales over the year-end selling season, especially in the U.S., would be slow, Sony performed relatively well, achieving record sales and net income for the third quarter of the fiscal year.

The Pictures business recorded its largest ever sales and operating income for the third quarter, as earlier box office hits continued to generate profits through their release on DVD and VHS. In the Game business, PlayStation 2's strong market position was further strengthened by a large increase in unit sales of both PlayStation 2 hardware and software.

Although its sales decreased, the Electronics business made a significant contribution to operating income with restructuring initiatives leading to an improvement in profitability. Through further reductions in inventory and other initiatives, we will continue to work to build upon our achievements to date. In the Music business, which has been impacted by industry-wide difficulties, we welcome Mr. Andrew Lack as the new Chairman and CEO of U.S.-based Sony Music Entertainment. I look forward to his exercising considerable expertise in improving financial results.

Consolidated Results for the Third Quarter

Unless otherwise specified, all amounts are on a U.S. GAAP basis.

Sales were ¥2,307.7 billion ($19.2 billion), a slight increase year on year (almost flat on a local currency basis - see Note I on page 8).

Although sales in the Pictures segment increased by ¥98.0 billion, sales to external customers in the Electronics segment decreased by ¥59.7 billion.

Operating income of ¥199.5 billion ($1,663 million) was recorded, an increase of ¥40.9 billion, or 25.8%, year on year (7% increase on a local currency basis).

Operating income in the Pictures segment increased ¥31.4 billion due to the contribution of record home entertainment sales mainly from summer 2002 theatrical releases. The Electronics segment achieved a ¥10.1 billion increase in operating income due to the depreciation of the yen against the euro and further cost reductions. Operating income in the Game segment increased ¥5.3 billion because of the strength of software sales, the depreciation of the yen against the euro, and continuing reductions in the cost of manufacturing hardware. Selling, general and administrative expenses increased ¥24.1 billion mainly as a result of an increase in advertising and marketing expenses in the Pictures segment in support of increased sales.

Table of Contents

Income before income taxes was ¥201.9 billion ($1,683 million), an increase of ¥82.6 billion, or 69.3%, year on year.

Income before income taxes increased because operating income increased ¥40.9 billion, other income increased ¥6.2 billion and other expenses decreased ¥35.5 billion.

- ð Other income increased due to a ¥2.8 billion ($24 million) foreign exchange gain.
- ð Other expenses decreased because of the absence of the ¥30.7 billion foreign exchange loss recorded in the same quarter of the previous year, and because interest expense decreased by ¥3.2 billion due to lower interest rates and reduced outstanding debt.

Net income of ¥125.4 billion ($1,045 million) was recorded, an increase of ¥61.4 billion, or 95.9%, year on year.

The significant improvement occurred as a result of the increase in income before income taxes discussed above and a decrease in losses from affiliates accounted for under the equity method.

- ð Equity in net losses of affiliated companies decreased ¥6.9 billion to ¥10.0 billion ($83 million).
 - ~ This decrease was mainly due to a reduction in losses at Sony Ericsson Mobile Communications, AB (SEMC) and at American Video Glass Company (AVGC), a joint venture in the U.S. which produces glass components for televisions. Losses at SEMC decreased ¥3.2 billion to ¥4.2 billion ($35 million). Compared with a loss in the same quarter of the previous year, AVGC improved ¥1.9 billion to record a small profit.

Partially offsetting the improvement was a ¥26.5 billion increase to ¥65.5 billion yen ($546 million) in income taxes due to the increase in income before taxes mentioned above.

Operating Performance Highlights by Business SegmentElectronics

	Third quarter ended December 31
	2001	2002	Change	2002
	(Billions of yen, millions of U.S. dollars)
Sales and operating revenue	¥ 1,539.7	¥ 1,468.2	-4.6%	$ 12,235
Operating income	72.0	82.1	+14.1	685

Unless otherwise specified, all amounts are on a U.S. GAAP basis.

Sales were ¥1,468.2 billion ($12.2 billion), a decrease of 4.6% year on year (6% decrease on a local currency basis).

On a product category basis, sales increased in Semiconductors by 33.5%, in Components by 7.5%, and in Video by 3.0%. Sales decreased in Information and Communications by 18.2% and Audio by 9.6%.

- ð On a local currency basis:
 - ~ Products with significant increases in sales were digital still cameras (Cybershot), semiconductors (especially CCDs and LCDs, which increased due to higher demand for digital still cameras and personal digital assistants), projection televisions, plasma televisions and personal digital assistants (CLIÉ).
 - ~ Products with significant decreases in sales were VAIO PCs, CRT computer displays and CRT televisions.
 - ~ On a geographic basis, sales in Other areas increased, while sales in the U.S., Europe and Japan decreased.

Operating income was ¥82.1 billion ($685 million), an increase of ¥10.1 billion, or 14.1%, year on year (10% decrease on a local currency basis).

Despite the negative impact of the decrease in sales, the following factors led to the increase in profit:

- ð The depreciation of the yen against the euro.
- ð An improvement in the profitability of such business as CRTs for computer displays, where a reduction in fixed costs led to greater financial viability, and semiconductors, where utilization at manufacturing facilities increased.

Table of Contents

The following product categories achieved an increase in profitability: Components, in which CRTs for computer displays, recording media and battery businesses benefited from structural changes, Audio in which home theatre products performed well, and Televisions in which large screen televisions performed well. Semiconductors changed from loss to profit, mainly due to the strong performance of CCDs. However, Information and Communications turned from profit to loss due to the deterioration of the profit performance of PCs.

Regarding the performance during the quarter of the Aiwa business, sales decreased and the implementation of restructuring initiatives led to an operating loss. Sony merged with Aiwa Co., Ltd. on December 1, 2002 (see Note III on page 8).

Inventory as of December 31, 2002 was ¥506.5 billion ($4,221 million), a ¥120.9 billion, or 19.3%, decrease compared with the level as of December 31, 2001.

Game

	Third quarter ended December 31
	2001	2002	Change	2002
	(Billions of yen, millions of U.S. dollars)
Sales and operating revenue	¥ 383.2	¥ 384.1	+0.3%	$ 3,201
Operating income	66.4	71.7	+7.9	597

Unless otherwise specified, all amounts are on a U.S. GAAP basis.

Sales were ¥384.1 billion ($3,201 million), almost flat year on year (4% decrease on a local currency basis).

Hardware sales decreased, but software sales increased, compared with the same quarter of the previous year.

ø Unit sales of both PlayStation 2 and PS one hardware decreased in Japan, but increased significantly in other areas, particularly the U.S. and Europe. Strategic price reductions in all major regions led to a year on year decrease in sales revenue in the U.S. and Japan, although sales revenue increased in Europe.

ø Software sales increased worldwide due to an increase in PlayStation 2 software unit sales resulting from the continuing market penetration of PlayStation 2 hardware. (Worldwide hardware production shipments of PlayStation 2 were 49.59 million units as of December 31, 2002 on a cumulative basis.)

Worldwide hardware production shipments:*

ø PS 2: 8.03 million units (an increase of 2.61 million units)

ø PS one: 3.02 million units (an increase of 1.99 million units)

Worldwide software production shipments:*

ø PS 2: 79.00 million units (an increase of 26.30 million units)

ø PlayStation: 22.00 million units (a decrease of 16.00 million units)

* Production shipment units of hardware and software are counted upon shipment of the products from manufacturing bases. Sales of such products are recognized when the products are delivered to customers.

Operating income was ¥71.7 billion ($597 million), an increase of ¥5.3 billion, or 7.9%, year on year (12% decrease on a local currency basis).

Strong software sales worldwide led to an overall increase in operating income. Although hardware sales decreased due to strategic price reductions in all major regions, the positive impact of the depreciation of the yen against the euro, in addition to continued reduction of manufacturing costs, resulted in only a slight negative impact on operating income.

Inventory as of December 31, 2002 was ¥144.7 billion ($1,206 million), a ¥4.4 billion, or 3.1%, increase compared with the level as of December 31, 2001.

Table of ContentsMusic

	Third quarter ended December 31
	2001	2002	Change	2002
	(Billions of yen, millions of U.S. dollars)
Sales and operating revenue	¥ 205.5	¥ 198.8	-3.3%	$ 1,657
Operating income	23.1	20.9	-9.5	174

The amounts presented above are the sum of the yen-translated results of Sony Music Entertainment Inc. (SMEI), a U.S.-based operation which aggregates the results of its worldwide subsidiaries on a U.S. dollar basis, and the results of Sony Music Entertainment (Japan) Inc. (SMEJ), a Japan based operation which aggregates results in yen.

Management analyzes the results of SMEI in U.S. dollars, so discussion of certain portions of its results are specified as being on a U.S. dollar basis.

Sales were ¥198.8 billion ($1,657 million), a decrease of 3.3% year on year (3% decrease on a local currency basis). Of the Music segment's sales, 74% were generated by SMEI, and 26% were generated by SMEJ.

SMEI's sales (on a U.S. dollar basis) decreased 1%.

- Sales decreased because continuing difficult market conditions caused a decline in record sales in many regions worldwide.
- Partially offsetting this decline was increased DVD software manufacturing sales to the Pictures and Game segments.
- Titles that contributed the most to sales were Jennifer Lopez's This is Me Then and Dixie Chicks' Home.

SMEJ's sales decreased 8%.

- Sales decreased because of the continued contraction of the record industry.
- Titles that contributed the most to sales were Chemistry's Second to None and The Gospellers' aCappella.

Operating income was ¥20.9 billion ($174 million), a decrease of ¥2.2 billion, or 9.5% year on year (9% decrease on a local currency basis).

SMEI's operating income (on a U.S. dollar basis) decreased 10% as compared to the same quarter of the prior year.

- Operating income declined as a result of the decrease in record sales, higher talent-related expenses, and increased costs recorded for ongoing restructuring activities, including continuing worldwide headcount reductions.
- Partially offsetting this decrease was a decrease in advertising and promotion expenses, increased income generated by the increased DVD software manufacturing activity, and savings realized from SMEI's previously implemented cost savings initiatives.

SMEJ's operating income decreased 6% as compared to the same quarter of the prior year.

- Although a reduction in advertising and promotion expenses led to a decrease in selling, general and administrative expenses, the drop in record sales resulted in a decline in operating income.

Sales and operating revenue	¥ 158.4	¥ 256.3	+61.9%	$ 2,136
Operating income	0.3	31.7	+10,761.3	264

The results presented above are a yen-translation of the results of Sony Pictures Entertainment (SPE), a U.S.-based operation which aggregates the results of its worldwide subsidiaries on a U.S. dollar basis. Management analyzes the results of SPE in U.S. dollars, so discussion of certain portions of its results are specified as being on a U.S. dollar basis.

Table of Contents

Sales were ¥256.3 billion ($2,136 million), an increase of 61.9% year on year (64% increase on a U.S dollar basis).

The reasons for the substantial increase in sales (on a U.S. dollar basis) were:

- ø Record SPE home entertainment sales as a result of the releases of Spider-Man, Men in Black II, xXx, Stuart Little 2, and Mr. Deeds. ~ Over 40 million initial DVD and VHS units of Spider-Man were shipped worldwide during the quarter.
- ø Higher television revenues primarily from a library sale to a cable channel of the television program The Nanny and higher advertising revenues from Wheel of Fortune.

Operating income was ¥31.7 billion ($264 million), an increase of ¥31.4 billion year on year.

The reasons for the increase in profitability were:

- ø Substantially higher home entertainment revenues, as noted above, driven by SPE's successful summer 2002 theatrical release slate.
- ø Higher television operating income from the increased revenues noted above.
- ø The absence of a television restructuring charge recorded in the prior year.

Partially offsetting the increase in profitability was:

- ø The disappointing theatrical performance of I Spy.

Financial Services

	Third quarter ended December 31
	2001	2002	Change	2002
	(Billions of yen, millions of U.S. dollars)
Financial Service revenue	¥ 127.1	¥ 133.9	+5.4%	$ 1,116
Operating income	2.1	3.6	+72.4	30

Unless otherwise specified, all amounts are on a U.S. GAAP basis.

Financial Service revenue was ¥133.9 billion ($1,116 million), an increase of 5.4% year on year.

Revenue increased primarily due to an increase in revenue at Sony Life Insurance Co., Ltd. (Sony Life).

- ø Revenue increased because valuation gains and losses from investments in the general account improved compared to a loss recorded on Argentine government bonds in the same quarter of the previous year, and because insurance revenue rose due to an increase in insurance-in-force.
- ø The above revenue gains were partially offset by an increase in valuation losses from investments in the separate account, which resulted from the stock market downturn. Valuation gains and losses from investments in the separate account accrue directly to the account of policyholders and, therefore, do not affect operating income.

In addition, the following factors affected Financial Services segment revenue:

- ø Revenue at Sony Assurance Inc. increased due to higher insurance revenue brought about by an expansion in insurance-in-force.
- ø Revenue at Sony Finance International, Inc. (Sony Finance) was almost flat year on year.
- ø Revenue at Sony Bank increased only slightly reflecting the severe market environment though the total balance of deposited funds increased.

Operating income increased ¥1.5 billion or 72.4% year on year to ¥3.6 billion ($30 million).

Operating income increased primarily due to the improvement in valuation gains and losses from investments in the general account and increase in insurance revenue.

In addition, the following factors affected Financial Services segment operating income:

- ø Losses at Sony Assurance Inc. decreased due to an increase in insurance revenue and a decrease in payments for insurance benefits.
- ø Operating income at Sony Finance was almost flat year on year.
- ø Sony Bank, which began operations in June 2001, recorded a loss similar to that of the same quarter in the previous year.

	(Billions of yen, millions of U.S. dollars)
Sales and operating revenue	¥ 53.0	¥ 64.1	+21.0%	$ 535
Operating income (loss)	(3.5)	(6.6)		(55)

Unless otherwise specified, all amounts are on a U.S. GAAP basis.

Sales were ¥64.1 billion ($535 million), an increase of 21.0% year on year.

Sales of NACS-related businesses (see Note II on page 8) and sales at an advertising agency business subsidiary in Japan increased.

In terms of profitability, an operating loss of ¥6.6 billion ($55 million) was recorded compared with an operating loss of ¥3.5 billion in the same quarter of the previous year, a deterioration of ¥3.2 billion year on year.

Losses increased at NACS-related businesses in the aggregate, mainly because of losses incurred in connection with the creation of a platform business for the networked era, although operating income was recorded at Sony Communication Network Corporation.

Cash Flow

	Nine months ended December 31
	2001	2002	Difference	2002
	(Billions of yen, millions of U.S. dollars)
Cash flow
From operating activities	¥ 330.8	¥ 503.1	¥ +172.3	$ 4,192
From investing activities	(590.9)	(404.6)	+186.3	(3,371)
From financing activities	366.7	40.5	-326.2	338
Cash and cash equivalents as of December 31	744.2	798.6	+54.4	6,655

Cash provided by operating activities for the nine months ended December 31, 2002 was ¥503.1 billion ($4,192 million), an increase of ¥172.3 billion.

While cash was used for an increase in notes and accounts receivable during the nine months, the contribution to profit of the Electronics, Game and Pictures businesses and an increase in notes and accounts payable caused cash generated from operating activities to exceed expenditures.

Although the amount of increase in notes and accounts receivable increased and inventories changed from a decrease to an increase, leading to a decrease in cash provided by operating activities, an increase in the operating income of the Electronics, Game and Pictures businesses, and a change from a decrease to an increase in notes and accounts payable contributed to the increase in cash provided by operating activities compared with the same period of the previous year.

Cash used in investing activities for the nine months was ¥404.6 billion ($3,371 million), a decrease of ¥186.3 billion.

The use of cash derived primarily from the fact that, reflecting an increase in assets under management in the life insurance and banking businesses, investments and advances of ¥686.8 billion ($5,723 million) exceeded sales and maturities of securities investments and collections of advances of ¥386.0 billion ($3,216 million) in the Financial Services business.

Table of Contents

In addition, ¥203.6 billion ($1,696 million) was used to purchase fixed assets, primarily in the Electronics business but, as a result of the prioritization of investments, the figure decreased by ¥89.6 billion compared with the same nine months of the previous fiscal year. Cash proceeds of ¥127.4 billion ($1,062 million) were also generated from the sales of securities investments and collections of advances, including ¥88.4 billion* from the sale of equity in Telemundo Communications Group, Inc. and its subsidiaries, a U.S. based television network and station group.

(*The U.S. dollar amount of the cash proceeds recorded on the sale of Telemundo was $679 million.)

Cash provided by financing activities for the nine months was ¥40.5 billion ($338 million), a decrease of ¥326.2 billion.

Although cash was used during the nine months to pay down borrowings of the Sony group as a whole and ¥23.0 billion ($191 million) in dividends were paid, cash was provided by a ¥106.5 billion ($887 million) increase in deposits from customers in the banking business.

Notes

Note I: During the third quarter ended December 31, 2002, the average value of the yen was ¥121.58 against the U.S. dollar and ¥121.05 against the euro, which was 0.8% higher against the U.S. dollar and 9.8% lower against the euro, compared with the average rate for the third quarter of the previous fiscal year. Operating results on a local currency basis described herein reflect sales and operating revenue (sales) and operating income obtained by applying the yen s average exchange rate in the third quarter of the previous fiscal year to local currency-denominated monthly sales, cost of sales, and selling, general and administrative expenses in the third quarter of the current fiscal year. Local currency basis results are not reflected in Sony s financial statements and are not measures conforming with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in the U.S. (U.S. GAAP). In addition, Sony does not believe that these measures are a substitute for U.S. GAAP measures. However, Sony believes that local currency basis results provide additional useful information to investors regarding operating performance.

Note II: Commencing with the first quarter ended June 30, 2002, Sony has partly realigned its business segment configuration and Electronics segment product category configuration. In accordance with this realignment, results of the third quarter of the previous fiscal year have been reclassified to conform to the presentation for the third quarter of the current fiscal year. Sales of related businesses in the Network Application and Contents Service Sector (NACS), established in April 2002 to enhance network businesses, are included in the Other segment. In addition to Sony Communication Network Corporation, which was originally contained in the Other segment, NACS-related businesses include an in-house oriented information system service business and an IC card business formerly contained in the Other category of the Electronics segment.

Note III: On October 1, 2002, Sony implemented a share exchange as a result of which Aiwa Co., Ltd. became a wholly-owned subsidiary. As a result of this share exchange, Sony issued 2,502,491 new shares, the minority interest in Aiwa was eliminated from the balance sheet, and additional paid-in capital increased ¥15.9 billion. On December 1, 2002, Sony absorbed Aiwa by merger. The merger had no effect on Sony s financial statements.

Note IV: Sales and operating revenue in each business segment represents sales and operating revenue recorded before intersegment transactions are eliminated. Operating income in each business segment represents operating income recorded before intersegment transactions and unallocated corporate expenses are eliminated. Sales on a product category basis in the Electronics segment represents only sales of products to external customers, i.e. those sales recorded after intersegment and intercategory transactions have been eliminated.

Other Matters

In November 2002, Sony Corporation of America, a subsidiary of Sony Corporation, together with other investors, executed a definitive agreement to acquire all of the outstanding common stock of InterTrust Technologies Corporation (InterTrust) for approximately $453 million. In January 2003, the acquisition of InterTrust by Sony Corporation of America, Koninklijke Philips Electronics N.V. of Holland, and another investor was successfully completed. InterTrust is a leading holder of intellectual property in digital rights management. The objective of this transaction fits with Sony s network strategy which is to enable wide access to secure digital content through networks.

In January 2003, Sony and Telefonaktiebolaget LM Ericsson announced that they will each invest an additional 150 million euro in SEMC to strengthen its financial position.

Table of ContentsOutlook for the Fiscal Year ending March 31, 2003

Despite the solid results that Sony achieved in the third quarter, we believe that the business environment in which Sony operates will remain unstable because of the uncertain economic outlook and waning consumer confidence. Due to these uncertainties in the market, and the implementation of restructuring, we believe that the fourth quarter will be a difficult one. Therefore we have not changed our October forecast.

		Change from previous year
Sales and operating revenue	¥ 7,600 billion	Unchanged
Operating income	280 billion	+ 108%
Income before income taxes	310 billion	+ 234
Net income	180 billion	+ 1,076

Assumed exchange rates for the fourth quarter: approximately ¥120 to the dollar and ¥125 to the euro. (Exchange rates assumed in October for the third quarter: approximately ¥120 to the dollar and ¥115 to the euro.)

No change was made in capital expenditures and depreciation and amortization.

Capital expenditures (additions to fixed assets)	¥ 280 billion	-14%
Depreciation and amortization*	350 billion	-1
(Depreciation expenses for tangible assets)	260 billion	-13)

* Including amortization of intangible assets and amortization of deferred insurance acquisition costs.

The above table is a breakdown of Electronics sales and operating revenue to customers in the Business Segment Information on page F-1 F-2. The Electronics business is managed as a single operating segment by Sony's management. However, Sony believes that the information in this table is useful to investors in understanding the sales contributions of the products in this business segment. In addition, commencing with the first quarter ended June 30, 2002, Sony has partly realigned its product category configuration in the Electronics business. In accordance with this change, results of the previous year have been reclassified to conform to the presentations for the current year.

Sales of mobile phones are no longer recorded in the Information and Communications category as of the third quarter ended December 31, 2001. From the third quarter of the previous year, sales of mobile phones manufactured for Sony Ericsson Mobile Communications, AB are recorded in the Other product category.

1. U.S. dollar amounts have been translated from yen, for convenience only, at the rate of ¥120 = U.S.$1, the approximate Tokyo foreign exchange market rate as of December 30, 2002.
2. As of December 31, 2002, Sony had 1,050 consolidated subsidiaries. It has applied the equity accounting method in respect to its 83 affiliated companies.
3. Sony calculates and presents per share data separately for Sony's Common stock and for the subsidiary tracking stock which is linked to the economic value of Sony Communication Network Corporation, based on Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (FAS) No.128, Earnings per Share . The holders of the tracking stock have the right to participate in earnings, together with common stock holders. Accordingly, Sony calculates per share data by the two-class method based on FAS No.128. Under this method, basic net income per share for each class of stock is calculated based on the earnings allocated to each class of stock for the applicable period, divided by the weighted-average number of outstanding shares in each class during the applicable period. The earnings allocated to the subsidiary tracking stock are determined based on the subsidiary tracking stockholders' economic interest in the targeted subsidiary's earnings available for dividends. The earnings allocated to Common stock are calculated by subtracting the earnings allocated to the subsidiary tracking stock from Sony's net income for the period.

Weighted-average shares used for computation of earnings per share of Common stock are as follows. The dilutive effect mainly resulted from convertible bonds. In accordance with FAS No.128, the computation of diluted net income per share for the nine months ended December 31, 2001 uses the same weighted-average shares used for the computation of diluted income before cumulative effect of accounting changes per share, and reflects the effect of the assumed conversion of convertible bonds in diluted net income.

Weighted-average shares used for computation of earnings per share of the subsidiary tracking stock for the three months and nine months ended December 31, 2001 and 2002 are 3,072 thousand shares. There were no potentially dilutive securities for the subsidiary tracking stock outstanding at December 31, 2001 and 2002.

4. Sony's comprehensive income is comprised of net income and other comprehensive income. Other comprehensive income includes changes in unrealized gains or losses on securities, unrealized gains or losses on derivative instruments, minimum pension liability adjustment and foreign currency translation adjustments. Net income, other comprehensive income (loss) and comprehensive income for the three months and nine months ended December 31, 2001 and 2002 were as follows:

5. On April 1, 2001, Sony adopted FAS No.133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities as amended by FAS No.138, Accounting for Certain Derivative Instruments and Certain Hedging Activities an Amendment of FASB Statement No.133 . As a result of the adoption of the new standard, Sony recorded a one-time non-cash after-tax unrealized gain of ¥1,089 million in accumulated other comprehensive income in the consolidated balance sheet, as well as an after-tax gain of ¥5,978 million in the cumulative effect of accounting changes in the consolidated statement of income.
6. In the fourth quarter of the year ended March 31, 2002, Sony adopted Emerging Issues Task Force Issue No. 01-09, Accounting for Consideration Given by a Vendor to a Customer or Reseller of the Vendor's Products , retroactive to April 1, 2001. As a result of the adoption of new statement, certain cooperative advertising and product placement costs previously classified as selling, general and administrative expenses for the three months and nine months ended December 31, 2001 have been reclassified as a reduction of revenues to conform to the presentation for the three months and nine months ended December 31, 2002.
7. Adoption of New Accounting Standards

Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets

On April 1, 2002, Sony adopted FAS No.144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets . This statement establishes a single accounting model for long-lived assets to be disposed of by sale and modifies the accounting and disclosure rules for discontinued operations. The adoption of this statement did not have an impact on Sony's results of operations and financial position.

FAS No.145, Rescission of FASB Statements No.4, 44 and 64, Amendment of FASB Statement No.13, and Technical Corrections

In April 2002, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued FAS No.145. This statement rescinds certain authoritative pronouncements and amends, clarifies or describes the applicability of others, effective for fiscal years beginning or transactions occurring after May 15, 2002, with early adoption encouraged. Sony elected early adoption of this statement retroactive to the beginning of the fiscal year. The adoption of this statement did not have an impact on Sony's results of operations and financial position.

Summary of Consolidated Operations (October 1, 2002 to December 31, 2002)

Regarding the Japanese economy during the third quarter ended December 31, 2002; there was a growing sense of being at a standstill. Several factors of uncertainty- the strengthening of the yen against the dollar due to anxiousness over the United States economy accompanied by a more tense international situation including Iraq, as well as declining stock prices and uneasiness towards the government's economic policies- caused a worsening in consumer and business confidence.

In spite of this economic environment, in the Internet market, dedicated-line broadband services, such as CATV, FTTH, and in particular ADSL, continued to spread. A marked result of this was the number of ADSL subscribers in Japan as of the end of December passing 5.65 million, according to the Ministry of Public Management, Home Affairs, Posts and Telecommunications.

In this business environment, the SCN Group worked to enrich its connection services, including IP telephony, and to enrich its broadband content offerings, such as video distribution and online games. The SCN Group also worked to strengthen and expand its marketing efforts, including expanding subscription routes and advertising, and to strengthen cooperation with Sony Corp. and Sony Marketing (Japan) Inc. hardware.

As a result, sales during the quarter under review were 9,933 million yen, an increase of 15.2% over the year earlier period. The number of So-net subscribers increased by 130,000 over the year earlier period, to 2.29 million. Of those, broadband subscribers, mainly of So-net ADSL, numbered 370,000, an increase of 260,000 over the year earlier period.

Affecting profit performance, marketing, advertising, and sales promotion expenditures totaling 1,247 million yen, an increase of 129 million yen over the year earlier period, were carried out as part of efforts to strengthen marketing activities. This was a result of implementation of joint promotions with TSUTAYA and am/pm and television advertising aimed at raising brand awareness and consumer recognition of sales campaigns.

On the other hand, the SCN Group worked to promote a stronger management system for the entire group, to rationalize and improve the efficiency of call center operation.

Furthermore, the SCN Group worked to review the number of ports for access points. These measures helped to reduce total selling, general and administrative costs. As a result, operating income of 76 million yen was recorded, compared with an operating loss of 519 million yen in the year earlier period.

Also, equity losses of 68 million yen were recorded for affiliated companies accounted for by the equity method, an improvement of 111 million yen over the year earlier period. This was because of increased profitability, along with an expansion of sales, at DeNA Co., Ltd. However, due to losses including charges resulting from the cancellation of leasing contracts connected with systems integration in the Internet provider services, an ordinary loss of 17 million yen was recorded, compared with an ordinary loss of 687 million yen in the year earlier period.

Furthermore, following the merger agreement between the SCN and So-net Be Media Corp. (hereinafter, SBM), the SCN Group recorded deferred tax assets corresponding with the portion within SBM's tax loss carryforwards that is expected to be utilized by SCN. Stemming from this, during the quarter under review, the SCN Group recorded deferred tax benefit of 301 million yen. As a result, net income for the quarter under review was 201 million yen, compared with a net loss of 457 million yen in the year earlier period.

ISP services

In this category, the SCN Group must work to enrich its new service offerings aimed at the spread of dedicated-line broadband connections, and during the quarter under review, the SCN Group announced offerings including the start of test service of So-net Phone, an IP telephony service, and PHS Packet Communication Service.

In the area of cooperation with Sony Corp., the SCN Group is offering the new Home Network Service, and also announced a decision to sell from the beginning of this February the broadband AV router HN-RT1, aimed at broadband subscribers.

Furthermore, as a way of strengthening marketing in order to attract subscribers, the SCN Group developed a So-net new subscriber campaign involving joint promotions and sales cooperation with TSUTAYA and am/pm stores. The SCN Group has also developed joint promotions including cooperation on Sony hardware with Sony Marketing (Japan) Inc.

Overall, sales of ISP services for the quarter ended December 31, 2002 were 8,220 million yen, an increase of 14.4% compared with the year earlier period. Such sales accounted for 82.7% of total sales.

Table of Contents

Internet-related services

In this category, although content subscription fees and the sales of subsidiaries increased, compared to the year earlier period, sales stemming from the construction of authentication and settlement systems as well as content sales related to PostPet decreased. Furthermore, in terms of measures to strengthen and expand content services aimed at broadband, the SCN Group began Beta-version testing of Ever Quest, a massively multiplayer online role-playing game jointly offered by Sony Corp. and the SCN Group. Also, the SCN Group pre-opened So-net TV, a broadband portal site, and offered over 10 streaming original new programs.

Overall, sales in this category increased 7.8% compared with year earlier period to 1,317 million yen. Such sales accounted for 13.3% of total sales.

<<Merchandise sales>>

This category includes sales of CS-broadcast receivers, PostPet V3, a popular e-mail software program that went on sale in early December, and PlayStation BB units, as well as related products outsourced to sell in Japanese-market and ADSL modems. During the quarter under review, sales in this category increased by 82.3% to 396 million yen. Such sales accounted for 4.0% of total sales.

Results of Consolidated Subsidiaries and of Affiliated Companies Accounted for by the Equity Method

The SCN Group includes the following five consolidated subsidiaries: So-net Be Media Corp., So-net Sports.com Corp., So-net M3 Inc., Skygate, Co., Ltd., and Drivegate Inc., and two affiliated companies accounted for by the equity method: Label Gate Co., Ltd. and DeNA Co., Ltd. During the quarter under review, equity in net losses of affiliated companies of 68 million yen was recorded, compared with 179 million yen in the year earlier period.

Furthermore, during the quarter under review, a decision was reached for So-net Be Media Corp. to merge with SCN as of January 1, 2003.

In terms of profitability, the six companies except for So-net M3 Inc. continued to record operating losses as in the second quarter, but thanks to sales increases and improving profitability, the trend was one of improvement.

Cash Flow

Cash and cash equivalents were 5,115 million yen at December 31, 2002, which was an increase of 15 million yen compared with the end of the year earlier period. During the nine-month period under review, the SCN Group generated 2,145 million yen of cash from operating activities, used 630 million yen of cash in investing activities, and used 1,040 million yen of cash in financing activities, which resulted in an increase in cash and cash equivalents of 475 million yen since March 31, 2002.

<Cash flow from operating activities>

During the nine-month period ended December 31, 2002, regarding cash flows from operating activities, the SCN Group generated 2,145 million yen, a significant improvement over the year earlier period, when the SCN Group used 358 million yen. During the period under review, this was mainly due to the recording of net income before income taxes of 695 million yen during the nine-month period, compared with a loss of 1,824 million yen in the year earlier period.

Table of Contents

<Cash flow from investing activities>

During the nine-month period ended December 31, 2002, regarding cash flows from investing activities, the SCN Group used 630 million yen, while during the nine-month period ended December 31, 2001, the SCN Group used 2,677 million yen.
