23 Complementary Strengths SBC Dense local broadband access Leader in layer 1 operating efficiencies Broad customer base in need of security Strong billing/Care IT orientation Rapid growth of IP traffic (Lightspeed, DSL) Opportunity to lower operating costs in rural areas with wireless technology and access to RF spectrum World-class procurement operation Hedge on regulatory access charges Leader in local access capabilities AT&T Most robust IP backbone Leader in Layer 2/3 operating efficiencies Leader in developing network-based security solutions Strong NE and configuration Capacity to handle IP traffic Directed research with wireless access alternatives More spend to leverage Hedge on regulatory access charges Local access assets to be leveraged

24 Execution Imperative Operational Cost Reduction > Adoption of AT&T investments in efficiency and automation against entire Layer 2 customer base 1.

25 Execution Imperative > Traffic component of business is approaching commodity levels. This aggregates traffic from largest backbone data provider and largest local data provider. Couple traffic with operational efficiency and superior buying power, and we are positioned to be lowest marginal cost provider Scale 1. Operational Cost Reduction 2.

26 Execution Imperative > Eliminates overlap and duplication and capitalizes on second-to-none vendor leverage. The opportunity to eliminate duplication cannot be understated as networks flatten and IP traffic increases Capital Efficiency 1. Operational Cost Reduction 2. Scale 3.

27 Execution Imperative 1. Operational Cost Reduction 2. Scale 3. Capital Efficiency > The opportunity to build work processes around a single network view and not an artificially imposed long haul and local hierarchy Operations Integration 4.

28 Achieving Operational Efficiencies > As a new entrant to the enterprise long haul market, SBC has achieved initial success and continues to invest heavily to improve our effectiveness and scale > However, when measured against employees directly supporting ordering, provisioning, care and network management functions for enterprise markets: AT&T's IP backbone carries an order of magnitude more traffic than SBC on a per employee basis AT&T is over 3X more productive in supporting frame and ATM ports on a per employee basis AT&T carries 3X the long distance MOU on a per employee basis > This presents excellent operational synergy opportunities

29 Operational Efficiencies Total Pop Targeted Reduction % > Redundant Engineering 2,885 550 19%

Management 350 75 21% Eliminates redundant function internal to SBC and leverages best-in-class capabilities and contracts of AT&T

35 IT Merger Synergies SBC has proven record of delivering IT synergies > Delivered more than $500M in annual expense savings, excluding procurement, from previous wireline acquisitions > Savings came from across IT functions: Application Development 40% Data Center 30% Operations Savings 10% Desktop/OCS 10% Other 10% % of Total Savings

36 IT Merger Synergies IT synergies are achievable and significant Standardization and automation
Eliminate redundant development (customer care, billing) Single application suite (network, corporate)
Internal infrastructure (desktop support, help desk, OCS) Consolidation and sourcing Data centers
Back-office functions (bill print & ops, remittance, payroll) Synergy assumptions for IT efficiencies do not kick in until 2009 and ultimately peak at 8% of combined workforce

37 Procurement Synergies > 60% overlap in vendor spend between AT&T and SBC > SBC has historically netted 10%-12% in overall supplier concessions from previous transactions (Pacific Telesis, SNET and Ameritech) > Allocation of reductions has historically been in the range of 55% capex and 45% expense > Synergy assumptions were set at a very conservative 5% reduction in overall procurement efficiencies

38 Remaining Value Drivers > Corporate overhead headcount reductions Estimated 2,600 reductions in Legal, HR, Finance, CRE, PR, Advertising, EA, Wholesale > LD Transport COGS reduction $200M annual reduction $75M annual International Wireless Termination reduction > Out-of-Region Facilities $50M expense, $20M capital achieved by elimination of redundant facilities > Network Lease Efficiencies (co-located facilities, dial pop, facility lease) $67M annual lease reduction

39 Summary > Operational efficiencies drive 58% of the transaction value > The combined companies have the best industry talent in local and long haul network management that will establish a new model of integrated operations > Nonoperational efficiencies are largely mechanical and time-tested from previous transactions > The targets are achievable and directly linked to operations that we control
