Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On January 24, 2007, Courtside Acquisition Corp. (Courtside) entered into an Asset Purchase Agreement (Purchase Agreement) with American Community Newspapers LLC (ACN) providing for the purchase by Courtside (or a subsidiary of Courtside to be formed for such purchase) of substantially all of ACN 's assets and the assumption by Courtside (or such subsidiary, without the release of Courtside from its obligations) of certain of ACN 's liabilities. ACN Holding LLC, the sole member of ACN, is also a party to the Purchase Agreement.

On May 2, 2007, the parties amended the Purchase Agreement to, among other things, make changes as a result of the acquisition by ACN on April 30, 2007, of the publishing and printing assets of C.M. Media, Inc. for approximately $44 million in cash (subject to a working capital adjustment). The transaction includes Columbus Monthly, The Other Paper, an alternative news and entertainment weekly, Suburban News Publications, a group of 22 community weekly newspapers, Columbus C.E.O., a monthly business magazine, and Columbus Bride, a twice annual bridal resource and tradeshow, as well as C.M. Printing and Columbus Custom Publishing. Combined and non-duplicated circulation for the group is approximately 410,000 households. These publications serve the Columbus and Central Ohio communities located within the nation 's 3rd largest MSA (metropolitan statistical area) comprised of Franklin, Delaware, Union, Fairfield, Madison, Licking and Pickaway Counties.

The original purchase price for the proposed acquisition of ACN (prior to the C.M. Media acquisition by ACN) was $165 million in cash with Courtside also agreeing to pay up to an additional $15 million in cash if newspaper cash flow for 2008 ranges from $19 million (at which level the contingent payment is $1 million) to $21 million or greater (at which level the contingent payment will be $15 million). In addition, if the Courtside stock price exceeds $8.50 per share for a specified period before July 7, 2009, ACN will receive an additional payment of $10 million.

The terms of the Courtside acquisition have been amended to decrease the base purchase price by $5 million to $160 million and to provide for an increase in the purchase price by an amount equal to ACN 's cost for C.M. Media (approximately $44 million, to be adjusted for working capital and ACN transaction costs). Accordingly, the purchase price for ACN will be approximately $204 million. The consideration will be payable in $191.5 million of cash and $12.5 million of Courtside stock (unless ACN purchases Courtside 's stock in the market, in which case the cash portion of the purchase price will be correspondingly adjusted upwards). The earn out provisions remain the same.

The cost of the ACN acquisition (including a provision for estimated working capital adjustments and transaction costs) will be financed by Courtside with cash on hand, including approximately $78 million held in trust for the exclusive use of effectuating the business combination, and acquisition financing of up to $140 million for which commitments are being received from BMO Capital Markets, acting as Sole Book

Runner and Lead Arranger. BMO Capital Markets served as principal financial advisor to Courtside in the transaction.

Courtside has received an opinion from Capitalink L.C., an independent investment banking firm, that the purchase price is fair, from a financial point of view, to Courtside's stockholders. The transaction is subject to Courtside's receiving stockholder approval of the transaction and customary closing conditions. The transaction is expected to close in the second quarter of 2007. Following the closing of the transaction, Courtside will be renamed American Community Newspapers Inc. and its securities are expected to trade on the American Stock Exchange.
