Pinnacle is once again expanding in Middle Tennessee by merging with Mid-America Bancshares. This is very good news for us as associates, for our shareholders and for our clients. I wanted to personally share my excitement about this announcement and introduce you to Mid-America.

Mid-America Bancshares is the holding company for two high-growth, urban-community banks: PrimeTrust and Bank of the South. Both banks were founded in 2001 and, similar to Pinnacle, are among the fastest growing in the nation. They occupy the 8th and 10th spots among all the banks chartered in 2001. Combined they have 15 offices, including one under construction in Hermitage, and 242 associates.

This merger will significantly strengthen our ability to deliver distinctive service and effective advice by bringing about greater convenience for our clients and greater lending capacity. It will increase our presence in the Middle Tennessee market and also allow us to create immediate value and significant long-term growth for you and our other shareholders.

But looking beyond the tangible benefits, I feel Mid-America truly shares our values and vision. Our combined organization will continue to have a singular mission of being the best financial services firm in Tennessee.

We have created a merger-related intranet page with the media release, Q&A and other materials to help you understand the decision and learn more about our intent on timing and integration. The information will also help you communicate this development accurately and positively to our clients and other external constituencies. Tomorrow morning (Thursday) at 9:00 a.m. (CDT) Gary Scott from Mid-America, Harold Carpenter and I will have a conference call for analysts. The hour-long webcast will be broadcast in the Downtown Nashville Learning Center and in the presentation lab at 214 W. College Street in downtown Murfreesboro for anyone who would like to listen in. Since our internal activity may have a negative impact or interrupt our ability to communicate this message to our analysts, please do not listen from your desks. Please wait until the webcast is over and access the archive, which will be available Thursday afternoon and remain on our home page for the next 60 days.

The most important thing as we go forward with the integration is to continue to deliver distinctive service and effective advice to our clients. That focus has brought us to where we are today – a major milestone in the impressive history of our young company. Thank you for helping us continue this momentum.
