On October 22, 2008, the Compensation Committee (the Committee) of the Board of Directors of F.N.B. Corporation ( Company) approved an increase in the annual base salary for Robert V. New, Jr., the Company's President and Chief Executive Officer. Effective January 1, 2009, Mr. New's annual base salary will increase from $500,000 to $660,000.

In determining to increase Mr. New's base salary, the Committee took into consideration, in part, base salary information furnished by the Company's consultant concerning the base salary paid by peer financial institutions to their Chief Executive Officers. Additionally, the Committee considered the fact that the Company's consolidated assets have increased almost 40% since Mr. New was hired and the fact that the proposed increase will bring Mr. New's base salary substantially in line with the base salary paid to the Company's former Chief Executive Officer at the time he retired from the Chief Executive Officer position. Based on the Committee's review of the foregoing information, the Committee concluded that since Mr. New's current base salary is below market it should be adjusted to approximately the mid-point of the base salary amount paid to Chief Executive Officers by the Company's peer financial institutions, thereby ensuring that his base salary remains competitive within the financial services industry.
