Terms of Agreement

- The Coca-Cola Company's acquisition of the assets and liabilities of CCE's North American business includes consideration of the following:
- o The Coca-Cola Company's current 34% equity ownership in CCE, valued at $3.4 billion, based upon a thirty day trailing average as of February 24, 2010
- o The assumption of $8.88 billion of CCE debt
- o The assumption of all North American assets and liabilities including CCE's accumulated benefit obligation for North America of $580 million as of December 31, 2009, and certain other one-time costs and benefits
- CCE's public shareowners will receive one share in the new CCE for each existing share of CCE and will receive $10 per share as consideration. They will hold 100 percent of the new entity.
- The Coca-Cola Company and Coca-Cola Enterprises have agreed in principle that CCE will buy The Coca-Cola Company's bottling operations in Norway and Sweden, subject to the signing of definitive agreements. Further, CCE will have the right to acquire The Coca-Cola Company's 83% stake in its German bottling operations 18 to 36 months after close for fair value.

Evolved Franchise Structure

North America

At the close, The Coca-Cola Company will rename the sales and operational elements of Company's strategic bottling partner in the North American businesses Coca-Cola Refreshments USA, Inc. ("CCR-USA") and Coca-Cola Refreshments Canada, Ltd. ("CCRC"), which will be wholly-owned subsidiaries of The Coca-Cola Company. Following the close, The Coca-Cola Company will combine our very successful Fountain business, the dynamic Minute Maid contributions of Norway and Sweden, CCE juice business, and our Supply Chain organization, including finished product operations in Philadelphia with CCE's North American business to form CCR-USA and CCRC.

Europe At the close, CCE will be The Coca-Cola Western Europe and the third-largest independent bottler globally. Reflecting CCE's position as The Coca-Cola Company's strategic bottling partner in Western Europe, the companies will enter into a 10+10 year bottling agreement and a 5-year incidence pricing agreement. Pro forma, including the would have generated approximately $7.3 billion in revenues, $850 million in operating operations, and our company-owned bottling income, and $1.2 billion of EBITDA in 2009.
