Date: June 14, 2001

This filing contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such statements include, but are not limited to, (i) statements about the benefits of the merger between First Union Corporation and Wachovia Corporation, including future financial and operating results, cost savings, enhanced revenues, and accretion to reported earnings that may be realized from the merger; (ii) statements with respect to First Union's and Wachovia's plans, objectives, expectations and intentions and other statements that are not historical facts; and (iii) other statements identified by words such as "believes", "expects", "anticipates", "estimates", "intends", "plans", "targets", "projects" and similar expressions. These statements are based upon the current beliefs and expectations of First Union's and Wachovia's management and are subject to significant risks and uncertainties. Actual results may differ from those set forth in the forward-looking statements.

The following factors, among others, could cause actual results to differ materially from the anticipated results or other expectations expressed in the forward-looking statements: (1) the risk that the businesses of First Union and Wachovia will not be integrated successfully or such integration may be more difficult, time-consuming or costly than expected; (2) expected revenue synergies and cost savings from the merger may not be fully realized or realized within the expected time frame; (3) revenues following the merger may be lower than expected; (4) deposit attrition, operating costs, customer loss and business disruption following the merger, including, without limitation, difficulties in maintaining relationships with employees, may be greater than expected; (5) the ability to obtain governmental approvals of the merger on the proposed terms and schedule; (6) the failure of First Union's and Wachovia's stockholders to approve the merger; (7) competitive pressures among depository and other financial institutions may increase significantly and have an effect on pricing, spending, third-party relationships and revenues; (8) the strength of the United States economy in general and the strength of the local economies in which the combined company will conduct operations may be different than expected resulting in, among other things, a deterioration in credit quality or a reduced demand for credit, including the resultant effect on the combined company's loan portfolio and allowance for loan losses; (9) changes in the U.S. and foreign legal and regulatory framework; and (10) adverse conditions in the stock market, the public debt market and other capital markets (including changes in interest rate conditions) and the impact of such conditions on the combined company's capital markets and asset management activities. Additional factors that could cause First Union's and Wachovia's results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements can be found in First Union's and Wachovia's reports (such as Annual Reports on Form 10-K, Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q and Current

Edgar Filing: WACHOVIA CORP/ NC - Form 425

To All Wachovia Shareholders:-----

In our view, the new Wachovia means greater shareholder value.
We believe our formula is compelling:

Leading Financial Services Franchise

+ Extremely diversified business mix in high growth segments	Faster earnings growth
+ Wachovia's customer service expertise	Superior earnings accretion

Edgar Filing: WACHOVIA CORP/ NC - Form 425

|--------------------------------------|---|---------------------------------------|
| + First Union's dramatic turnaround | = | Greater potential for dividend growth |
| + Well-advanced integration planning | | More free capital generation |
| + First Union's earnings momentum | | Greater potential for P/E expansion |

We believe Wachovia and First Union's merger is the formula for very attractive returns for shareholders.

This is why we agreed to our merger of equals.

And this is why we're asking for your support to make the new Wachovia an exciting reality.

What about SunTrust's hostile proposal?

Wachovia has rejected SunTrust not once, but twice. Add to that all of the issues involved in a hostile takeover and here's how we believe the SunTrust equation looks.

Regional Bank

|---------------------------------------|---|--------------------------------------|
| - Incompatible growth strategies | | Slower growth |
| - Substantial integration risks | | Earnings dilution |
| - SunTrust's admitted growth problems | = | Unacceptable returns to shareholders |

We like where we're going together.
It's about superior shareholder value.

Dear fellow First Union shareholder:

You may have already heard about the proposed merger of Wachovia and First

Edgar Filing: WACHOVIA CORP/ NC - Form 425

Union. I wanted to let you know that in the next few weeks you will be receiving proxy materials about the merger. The board of directors and I strongly encourage you to vote "yes" as soon as you receive our proxy materials in the mail. Your vote is very important to us. Failure to return your vote will count as a "no" vote.

I also would like to tell you directly why we believe this merger will create a better, stronger company. In this merger, Wachovia and First Union each brings distinctive, complementary strengths. First Union has invested heavily in technology and a wide range of products and services. Wachovia has earned national acclaim for its high standard of customer service and long-term relationships. By blending these strengths, we believe the new Wachovia will provide an excellent platform for delivering superior long-term performance.

Together, we have the opportunity to achieve unusually attractive growth in future years. For shareholders, we believe the upside benefits will be substantial, with immediate cash earnings accretion and the potential for expansion in our price to earnings multiple -- and therefore potential for a higher stock price.

Here's what we intend to achieve in this partnership.

First, we will become the No. 1 Retail Bank on the East Coast in number of branches, deposits and choice. We plan to offer better service for our combined 19 million customers with expanded investment opportunities for clients, more financial products and services for families, and significant capital for commercial enterprises and corporate customers.

Second, we will deliver greater opportunities for our employees to grow and excel.

Third and above all, we intend for our shareholders to benefit from the enhanced opportunities that this merger affords for creating greater financial strength, stability and value.

The name of the merged organization will be Wachovia -- a name familiar in American financial services since 1879. It is a distinctive name with exciting possibilities for branding opportunities.

From a management and operational perspective, we believe both First Union and Wachovia are well prepared for seamless merger integration for our customers and clients, communities and employees. First Union's restructuring, announced in June of 2000, is complete. The company sold its credit card portfolio, mortgage servicing business, and other businesses that had limited prospects for growth or were not aligned with its strategic direction.

The new strategic plan focused your company more intensely on improving customer service and growing our three core businesses -- the General Bank, Capital Management Group and Capital Markets Group. We believe our stock price performance this year -- up more than 19 percent as I write this letter (No. 2 among the 20 largest banks in the nation) -- indicates that investors like what they see. In our opinion, the merger with Wachovia will accelerate the momentum that we have already established.

One of the most frequently asked questions we've received from shareholders is when First Union will begin increasing the dividend again. We believe that one of the compelling advantages of the merger is that your new company should be able to increase its earnings more quickly than on its own. As the pool of earnings from which dividends are paid increases, so will your dividend because our goal is to pay out 30 to 35 percent of earnings every year.

With total assets of approximately $329 billion (fourth largest in the nation) and market capitalization of $45 billion (each based on most current pro forma data), we believe this new company will symbolize financial strength, stability and dependability for our shareholders, customers, employees and communities.

We invite you, as a shareholder of First Union, to benefit from the strength of the new merged organization. We look forward to continuing to serve you, and we think you will be pleased as the benefits of this proposed merger become apparent in coming months. We would particularly like to note that we believe this merger is structured to build value for both First Union and Wachovia shareholders and will be immediately additive, not dilutive, to cash earnings.

The proxy materials that will be mailed to you soon will provide additional details about the financial aspects of this transaction. Thank you for your support and for voting "yes" for this transaction when you receive your proxy materials.

Sincerely,

/s/ G. Kennedy Thompson
